—The interrogation mark or "point" (?) was originally a "q" and an "o," the latter placed under the former. They were simply the first and last letter of the Latin word "questio." So, too, with the sign of exclamation or interjection (!). In its original purity it was a combination of "i" and "o" the latter underneath as in the question mark. The Latin exclamation of joy. The paragraph mark (¶) is a Greek "p," the initial of the word paragraph. The early printers employed a (p) to show that a word or sentence was objectionable and should be cut out.—Ex.

Jacob Gundy Dead.

Uncle Jacob Gundy, one of the pioneers of Washington township, died at his home this morning. Death did not come unexpected, however, as Mr. Gundy had been ailing for a year past. He was about 70 years of age; a good citizen; one of a numerous family of good citizens. Funeral services at the Presbyterian Church, Tontogany, on Saturday, at 2 p. m., by Rev. Crim of this place.—Friday Sentinel.

The Gipsies.

The Gipsy camp by the Epworth League at the M. E. church and parsonage grounds last Friday night, was a very pleasant entertainment and well attended. The costumes of the gipsies were pretty and unique and many of the characters were well made up. The grand entrance of the Queen and her retinue of followers was the opening of the evening's festivities, which was followed by a short musical programme, after which fortune telling by various methods was indulged in, until everybody was informed that they would either "be married" "or get rich." Ice cream and cake was served and this ended a very pleasant entertainment.

MARRIED.

BERKIN-SCHROEDER.—Thursday evening, July 28, 1892, at the residence of Rev. Kuehling, Mr. J. P. Berkin and Miss Anna Louisa Schroeder.

The bride is a daughter of Herman Schroeder, one of Wood county's solid citizens, and the lady is highly respected by a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

The groom is a young man of excellent habits and has been engaged in farming near Dowling where he has a nice piece of property and with his newly made wife will settle down to housekeeping.

They have received the congratulations of a large number of friends, and the JOURNAL wishes to be included in the number.

TROMBLA'S LIVERY.

Death of Miss Witzler.

Florence Mary Witzler was born in Perryburg, April 20th, 1872, and died in her home, August 8th, 1892, being 20 years, 3 months and 18 days old. The disease that caused this young life to go out was nervous prostration.

Flora was a most exemplary young lady; a dutiful daughter and a kind and loving sister. During the year and a-half that she was ill she exhibited remarkable patience and resignation. She had given her heart to God and loved to think about him and his love.

One of her hardest trials was at the last commencement when she was deprived from taking part in what would have been her own graduating exercises.

A mother, two sisters and two brothers mourn their loss.

The funeral took place at the residence at 10:00 a. m., Wednesday; sermon by Rev. Shaw, and interment in Ft. Meigs Cemetery. Her young lady Sunday School friends contributed a beautiful floral offering.

Financially Embarrassed.

A large manufacturer, whose affairs were very much embarrassed, and who was overworked and broken down with nervous exhaustion, went to a celebrated specialist. He was told that the only thing needed was to be relieved of care and worry, and have a change of thought. This doctor was more considerate of his patient's health than of his financial circumstances. He ought to have advised him to use Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, the best remedy for nervous prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness, headache, ill effects of spirit, tobacco, coffee, opium, etc. Thousands testify to cures. Book and trial bottle free at A. R. Champney's.

Mr. Albert Owens is a prominent young farmer near Winnebago City, Minn. He spent hundreds of dollars in endeavoring to recover from nervous prostration, and a year ago was so low that a report of his death reached the editor of the Winnebago Press News. An obituary of Mr. Owens appeared in that paper, and was read by him. While in this condition he began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies, and in a short time was a well man. Says he never felt better than now.

A Pretty Surprise.

A beautifully illustrated and charmingly bound edition of Longfellow's "Evangeline," the most popular long poem ever published by an American author, and one of the most famous poems in the language, to be had at about the cost of "a dish of ice cream," will certainly prove a popular surprise. That is just what we have secured for every reader of this paper. It is issued from the publishing house of John B. Alden, New York, and is certainly one of the most remarkable products of his famous "literary revolution"—handsome type, numerous and excellent illustrations, very fine and heavy paper, gilt edges, remarkably beautiful cloth binding, with gilt title and ornaments. By special arrangement with Mr. Alden, we are able to supply this beautiful book,

To each one of the readers of this paper whose subscription is paid in advance to June 30 1893 or one year, (if not paid you can at once make payment and secure these terms), for a nominal cash payment of 20 cents, or 5 cents extra if to be sent by mail. Orders must be received by us on or before July 30, 1892, so that all copies may be ordered at one time. Come in and see a copy of the book if you can, but if you can't call, send your order any way; we guarantee that you will be delighted with it. No illustrated edition of this work has ever before been published at less cost than $1.50. Every home in the land ought to have a copy of this volume, so charmingly beautiful as a poem, as a collection of artistic illustrations, and as a product of the book making art.
