MONDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 23, 1885.

Springfield and Cincinnati.

Nearly three thousand republicans went from Springfield to Cincinnati this morning. It required four trains on the Bee line, and one on the Panhandle, to transport the crowd. Such a display of white hats was never before seen in Cincinnati, Springfield or elsewhere, and the impression made by our brigade on Cincinnati, as its members marched with music and banners along its streets, was electrical and tremendous. Our boys have taken the town and given it a sunrise glow. They have made the great political demonstration of the year and given the Champion City a new fame abroad, throughout the country.

Senator Sherman's speech at Toledo had the effect to double up the Blade.

The tie which binds Church to State in England is to be cut, at no distant day.

Hon. Charles Townsend speaks in the Springfield wigwam next Saturday, Oct. 3.

Not only are industrial enterprises reviving, but wages are increasing, in some localities.

A lawyer has run away from Boston, and the people are afraid he will be found and taken back.

It is a great privilege to live in America now. The Marquis de Lenville, poet and shootist, has left the country.

The south spent ten million dollars on schools last year. It is putting its money where it will do the most good.

The democratic administration seems to be trying to "turn the rascals out" of jail so as to put them into federal offices.

Jefferson Davis is now disposed to forgive the United States government for fighting against him. Thanks for even so much.

Junio may have had no soul to start on a tramp, but his studied body will go "marching on" with Barnum's show, as heretofore.

The president remarks to Dorman B. Eaton, in reply to his letter of resignation, that he believes in "civil service reform." Perhaps he does.

Belle Boyd, the ex-confederate spy, is about to appear on the stage as a "Daisy." She is a daisy gone to seed. She is fifty years old, if a day, and she looks like sixty.

The Current, of Chicago, is intelligent enough to know that there is no GLOBE-REPUBLIC in Springfield, Illinois. It was the Intelligent (?) Composer who did the mischief.

Points as to Real Estate.

This is the time to buy real estate, either in improved property or vacant lots. It will not be later. Those who have been waiting to get bits of real property at half price need wait no longer. Such property is not to be sacrificed. Certain pieces of real estate can be had at their present value, and this is a good time to buy and build—a better time than any we are likely to see for many a year. Those who are wise will purchase and improve early, before prices increase, as they are sure to.

The refinement of journalistic cruelty is illustrated in the fact that the Columbus editors are firing original poetry at each other.

There is no denying it—the republicans are on the run.—Dayton Journal.

Exactly. On the run toward Columbus—and the State House. And some of the democrats are on the run in the same direction—toward the penitentiary.

The incoming tide of the ocean cannot be swept back with a frown. Some people still think it can, but the thing has been frequently tried and found utterly ineffective. Reforms never go backward—sometimes! They never ought to when they are genuine—founded on truth and right.

The Presbyterian Professor Hodge, of Princeton, believes (in his own words) that God may "lead a person outside the church to essential truth, independently of human agency," and may "save him, although his relation to Christ may be so obscured by peculiar conditions as to elude our recognition." This is given as his reason for believing that the great and good Hebrew philanthropist, Sir Moses Montefiore, although not a Christian, was saved by Christ.

As usual, the democrats have undertaken to crawl out of the difficulty they got themselves into by using a poor, little, inoffensive-looking prohibitionist to do their dirty work by interrupting Judge Foraker while making a speech at Athens. The challenge to Mr. Hoadly which Mr. Foraker made through Chairman Bushnell was manly and dignified, but it amounted to naught of course. Who supposed for a moment that Governor Hoadly's coal oil managers would take the chances of allowing their marial candidate to risk what little chance he has of being elected by facing Mr. Foraker in a debate?

Unless some unforeseen disaster overtakes the Plug Hat Brigade its visit to Cincinnati will not only be the master stroke of the campaign, but it will result in much credit to Springfield as a city. It was a brilliant idea, well conceived, superbly managed, and is full of promise of a most successful conclusion. The GLOBE-REPUBLIC wishes the boys a glorious trip, and the city of Springfield will have much cause for self-congratulation over the brigade, both in point of numbers and in the sterling qualities of the republicans who compose it. The scenario to Judge Foraker will go down to history as the most memorable feature of the campaign. Joe—Joe—and Bob—Shee—shee—boom!!!

The Baltimore and Ohio Railway Company has contributed $100,000 as the nucleus of a fund from which its employees can derive pecuniary relief in the event of becoming incapacitated for earning their livelihood, or by means of which, in the event of death, they may leave some provision for their families, upon condition that they will second its endeavor to promote their welfare by making such contributions to the fund as will secure its permanency and effectiveness. This is a noble example, and other great railways and other corporations should follow it. Here, in Springfield, we should have a free hospital, to which all men injured by accident in the shops or elsewhere, should be taken and cared for until they are able to resume work. The building of the Patrol House and the providing of a Patrol wagon and ambulance were steps in the direction suggested. Many workmen are forced to live "from hand to mouth" and when they are laid up from accident or illness they are without means and cannot pay physicians or nurses.

Coming West for Culture.
Ohio is as famous for its colleges and universities as it has been in years gone by and is still, for its great men and its great achievements. Certain critical people might qualify this assertion by saying that we are famous for the number of our colleges, if not for their high character as educational institutions, but we should make a decided protest against such a qualification. We have—it is quite true—a large number of colleges—largely attended—but not a few of them are very good. Among these we may name Wittenberg, whose students, when they leave for eastern universities, say seldom do, take at once, in the new schools, a rank or grade corresponding to that to which they were entitled here. That is to say, the pupils of Wittenberg are thoroughly taught, and taught according to the best modern theories. We may say, too, that the institution is growing, physically as well as intellectually, its new building being one of the most beautiful and most convenient structures of its kind.

The Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware is also improving, growing and prospering.

Oberlin is also taking great strides. It has from twelve hundred to fourteen hundred students a year, and its new Warner hall, library building and new recitation hall, all of white free-stone, are equal in comeliness to any in the country, but this is not all. New England lands and lassies are leaving the shades of Yale and Harvard to come west—or to the interior—and grow up, intellectually and morally, with the country. The Hartford Daily Courant—owned and edited, we believe, by United States Senator Joseph R. Hawley and the charming essayist and writer, Charles Dudley Warner—concedes that Oberlin's curriculum compares very favorably with eastern colleges, requiring the same preparation to enter and the same studies in the classical department. The Courant proceeds, then, to state that, of the fourteen hundred students in attendance last year, seventeen were from Massachusetts and thirteen from Connecticut. This is a most significant utterance, coming from one of the most scholarly journals, not only in New England, but in the country. The young men and women may wisely come westward for their culture.

A Millionaire Lost in a Balloon.
BOSTON, Sept. 27.—Lillian Norton, the well-known singer, recently petitioned for a divorce from her husband, Frederick A. Gower, of Brookline, Mass., on the ground of absolute treatment. Gower obtained a postponement and went to Paris, where he made a balloon ascension. Nothing has been heard of the balloon or him. Mrs. Gower has now gone to Paris to claim the estate, which is valued at $3,000,000.

The Republican Southern Challenge Both the Opposition Candidates to a Joint Debate: The Marial Candidate Cannot Now Escape Except by a Back-Drop.

[From Morning Edition.]
COLUMBUS, Sept. 27.—The following correspondence took place between the republican and democratic state executive committees today on the subject of a joint debate between Judge Foraker and Gov. Hoadly:

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 26, 1885.

To Hon. Thos. C. Powell, Chairman Democratic State Committee:

DEAR SIR—I have just received from Judge Foraker the following, which expands itself. In accordance therewith I hereby repeat his challenge for a joint discussion with Mr. Hoadly, and request an early conference for the arrangement of details.

A. S. BISHNELL,
Chairman Republican State Committee.

JUDGE FORAKER'S LETTER.

DAYTON, O., Sept. 26, 1885.

To Hon. A. S. Bushnell, Chairman Executive Committee:

DEAR SIR—I telegraphed you last night from Paulding, asking you to challenge Gov. Hoadly to a joint debate of the issues involved in this campaign. I knew nothing of what had since transpired until this moment, when on my arrival I am handed telegraphic copies of the correspondence that has passed between the committees. Because of the circumstances, I am not going to the challenge, I desired a debate between Gov. Hoadly and myself, but the democratic committee seem unwilling to consent, except on condition that Dr. Leonard be also brought into the discussion. You have already declined a debate between Dr. Leonard and myself, and I have no control of him, but you are hereby authorized and requested to immediately repeat my challenge to the democratic committee, and say to them that if Gov. Hoadly insists upon the aid of Dr. Leonard, I waive all objection to his coming into the discussion, but I shall expect him to come upon the invitation of Gov. Hoadly, and that Gov. Hoadly will share the time with him. If this be accepted, please arrange at once for a series of meetings. I suggest at least four or five.

Very truly, etc.,
J. B. FORAKER.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

And the Magazine Notified that the Democrats Want their Assistance No Longer.

[From Morning Edition.]
WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—It is quite generally believed in political circles that the administration is anything but pleased with the renomination of Governor Hill by the New York state democratic convention, and this with the antagonism expressed against the civil service law in the platform as taken as a direct step at the president and his policy.

There is a story current that strong efforts were made by the president and his friends to prevent the renomination of Hill. Col. J. D. Leonard, his private secretary, went on a flying visit to New York last week, and it was given out that he was called home by the illness of one of his children. It is understood that while the colonel was away he put in a little work which was looked upon as a circumstantial movement in favor of Hill. The president's letter to Duran B. Eaton was timed to aid the effort, but it was of no avail, and the president, as the exponent of civil service reform, has been severely snubbed. It is thought that the magisterial, by the work of the Saratoga convention, been given due notice that an alliance with him is no longer desired by the democratic party, and their active cooperation with the republicans again is now expected.

Sent from Heaven to Wait on Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The latest crank put in an appearance last night. It was a middle-aged woman of respectable appearance, who, when she alighted from a train at the Baltimore and Potomac railway station, told a policeman that she wanted to be shown to the White House. She was sent from heaven to wait on President Cleveland. The officer took the woman to the station, where she gave her name as Lizzie Esq. and said she was from Columbia, Ind. She was placed in a cell, and at times during the night appeared to be in great distress. Others became wild and were sent for the president to protect her. She will be sent to the insane asylum.

A Mysterious Murder in Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 27.—The dead body of James Mulholland, with the skull badly fractured and several ugly gashes on the back of the head, was found this morning at daylight in a private alley attached to Michael Jordan's Pennsylvania avenue saloon. Mulholland ran board with Jordan, and the latter stated that he put the deceased to bed in an intoxicated condition at a late hour last night. In Jordan's house a hatchet with a new blade and a spot resembling blood was discovered. Pending an investigation, Jordan and a boarder named James Crowley have been arrested.

Does Higgins Want Eaton's Place?

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Appointment Clerk Higgins is in a very happy frame of mind because of the retirement of Mr. Eaton as a member of the civil service commission on the first of November, and has said to several of his callers that he would have to renounce with his friends to keep them from arguing him as a candidate for Mr. Eaton's place. He believes that he could frame rules that would give the government just as good clerks as now, and he said to several of his callers that he would have to renounce with the service of every man who did not support the democratic ticket last year.

Coming to see if Maxwell is his Son.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 27.—Californians have been received here from London, England, stating that Samuel N. Brooks was shot last night for $1,000, to ascertain definitely whether the new law in England is as strict as that of the United States. The murder of C. Arthur Procter and known murderer as Hugh M. Brooks and Walter H. Lennox Maxwell is his son. It is said, if this should prove to be the case, that Mr. Brooks will be prepared to present some important documentary evidence for the defense.

The Societies Meet, Without Interference.

LOUISVILL, Sept. 27.—The great social meeting, about which so much has been said, and which the police threatened to suppress, was held today at Lime House without interference on the part of the authorities. Fully 40,000 persons took part in the demonstration. The speakers indulged in violent denunciations of the present state of society, but no undue excitement was displayed by the immense audience, and the affair passed off in the most peaceable manner.

Cholera at Nice, in France.

LOUISVILL, Sept. 27.—Cholera has appeared at Nice, France. Eight deaths from the disease have already occurred there. The officials, however, assert positively that there is no cholera in the city, fearing that an acknowledgment of the presence of the scourge would have a ruinous effect on business, in preventing the usual influx of visitors.

Sustained a Defeat.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 27.—The English government is considered here to have sustained a defeat in the formation of the new Turkish ministry. It is said that the Turkish foreign minister is known to sympathize with Russia. The government journals here are rejoicing over the new aspect of affairs.

ADA GREEN'S QUEER HISTORY.

Coming All the Way From Cuba to Go to Jail to Company With Her Husband.

[From Morning Edition.]
RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 27.—Ada Green, the young Cuban wife who traced her husband to this place some weeks ago, was before the court yesterday for burglary. Her story, as given in her testimony, is romantic.

"I was born in the West Indies 18 years ago," she said, "and my occupation is that of a dressmaker. I left Cuba several years ago and went to Philadelphia. While in that city I became acquainted with William Hicks and married him. He deserted me, and I returned to my home in Cuba. Some time elapsed before I could obtain tidings of his whereabouts, but finally I learned that he was in this country and in trouble. I immediately left Cuba and landed in New York.
