alleged that Mr. Blaine had expressed his preference for Mr. Sherman. The Thursday papers have a press report to the effect that Mr. Jones has no such letter. But it would be quite proper for Mr. Blaine to write such a letter, and we have no doubt it would represent his real feeling in the matter. Mr. Jones denies that he has received such a letter. Perhaps it has, in some way, got into the wrong pocket—possibly into the pocket of Mr. Jones's private secretary. But it is certain that Mr. Blaine has said that his name must not be presented to the Chicago convention, and that, if he were nominated, he would not accept.

There is still, however, apparent, a determination to nominate him, whether or no. But it seems to be universally admitted that there is only one way to secure this result—namely, through the withdrawal of the names of all the other candidates, by their friends, with common consent. Were he nominated in those circumstances, he could not refuse to accept, except for some special cause not known to the people. Should he be so nominated, and make the race, he would be elected.

What will develop at Chicago, next week, nobody knows. Let us hope, confidently, that patriotic and wise action will be taken, such action, indeed, as shall commend itself to the judgment and hearty and enthusiastic co-operation of the republicans of the country.

Mr. G. D. O'Brien is an Irish democrat, he was a delegate from Minnesota to St. Louis, and he endeavored to get in a resolution denouncing the infamous British extradition treaty indorsed by Cleveland and sent by him to the United States Senate. But Mr. O'Brien and other Irish members of the convention were snubbed and "sat on," and he now speaks of this action as follows:

I want every citizen of the United States to learn of this, and particularly that I demand the personal statement that on account of the conduct of Watterson and Gorman and the concurrent obedience of orders from them by Chairman Collins my countrymen were denied the opportunity of appealing to their American fellow-citizens in their present struggle for liberty. My countrymen assembled in the national democratic convention were not given the privilege of expressing themselves against a proposed law which, if passed, will make it a criminal offense for the Irish Americans to express their sympathy for home rule, for, under this treaty, the speech of Charles S. Parnell delivered at a proscribed meeting or in a proscribed district would, if he should refer to the United States, subject him to extradition on the demand of the British government.

But why should Mr. O'Brien, or any other Irishman, expect any aid or comfort from the democratic allies, in America, of British free traders and oppressors of Ireland? Patriotic and liberty-loving Irishmen should join the republicans, who are their friends, and the friends of all oppressed races.

The Quaker is the first of the series of magazines published by Messrs. Cassell & Co., 104 and 106 Fourth avenue, New York, to make its appearance for July. Indeed, it is our first magazine for July, from any source, and it is full of interesting and useful matter, all finely illustrated. The Magazine of Art and the Family Hibernian will soon follow, and the Woman's World will close the list for the month. Each of these fine monthlies occupies a field peculiar to itself, and one should take all of them to be fully equipped for a month of interesting and good reading.

AT CHICAGO. GATHERING OF THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

Miller or Thurston to be Temporary Chairman.—The Rooms on Exhibition.—Congress's Claims for Sherman.—Three Hundred Votes on the First Ballot.—Report at Pittsburg that Blaine has Declined in Favor of Sherman.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Quite a number of leading republicans are already in the city. General Powell Clayton, of Arkansas; John C. New, of Indiana, and Cyrus Leland, Jr., of Kansas, are the latest arrivals. Others present are Clark, of Iowa, and Conger, of Ohio. The point made clear is the probable selection for presiding officers of the convention, namely, the temporary chairman, and who for permanent, has up to last evening been the deepest sort of a mystery. It is not pretty certain, apparently, that one of the officers will be Warner Miller, of New York, the other John M. Thurston, who heads the delegation from Nebraska. It is likely that Mr. Thurston will be made the permanent chairman, and vice versa. There is some talk of Mr. Sherman being elected, but Massachusetts, for one of the two places, but the talk of him appears to lack definiteness. Both Thurston and Miller are described as men of fine presence, big voice and able politicians.

The half dozen bohemians in the city were all on exhibition yesterday. Sherman's interest in the matter was industriously looked after by A. L. Conger, of Ohio, member of the National Committee. "We shall have such a big meeting," he said, "and we will probably dispose of any attempts at combination." That was the way Mr. Conger summed up the situation. He continued: "While the number of votes polled for Mr. Sherman on the first ballot will be over 300—far in advance of the aggregate of any other candidates, possibly the other candidates. Now the vital fact to be considered is that Sherman, as a second choice, is also decided upon by a large number of voters. I think we are justified in hoping to make such a showing on the second or third ballot as to settle the matter effectually."

Chairman Jones, when asked regarding the correctness of the figures, replied, stating that he had in his possession a third letter from James G. Blaine, positively declining the nomination under any conditions, either to deny or to corroborate the story.

In an interview last evening Murat Halstead said in substance that the Ohio delegation was not given the opportunity of expressing themselves against a proposed law which, if passed, will make it a criminal offense for the Irish Americans to express their sympathy for home rule, for, under this treaty, the speech of Charles S. Parnell delivered at a proscribed meeting or in a proscribed district would, if he should refer to the United States, subject him to extradition on the demand of the British government.

Mr. Halstead said that he did not think Blaine's name would be presented to the convention, and he firmly believed that Sherman would be nominated. Sherman, he says, was not calling on the delegates with three hundred votes, and the rest will probably come to him after a few ballots. The great objection to Gresham lies in the fact that he is not internally, he would have to resign from the bench and give Cleveland an opportunity to put in a Democrat, to preside over Illinois.

Mr. Whiteley said he has written no letter of any kind to Governor Foraker. Commencing Sunday, June 10th, the Pan Handle will put on a Chicago train for the benefit of the city of Springfield. The train will leave Springfield at 7:30 p. m. every day in the year and reach Chicago at 6:55 a. m. next morning.

Mr. Blaine has acted quite as honorably. He has declined to be considered as a candidate, and he has repeatedly declared that he would not accept a nomination if it were tendered him. Hitherto, it would hardly have been proper for him to have named the senator as his preference, as it would have appeared as if he and Mr. Sherman had assumed to take the convention's proper work out of its hands. But the time having come when the senator, as a candidate, is without any rival, and especially as it has been asserted that Mr. Blaine should make a definite declaration on the point. The following special telegram to the Cincinnati Times shows so far as its statements may prove to be true—that Mr. Blaine has declared his preference for Mr. Sherman. This is quite proper, just at this time. It is a fair return for the senator's courteous and considerate action toward Mr. Blaine last year, and it relieves the situation of all perplexity. If Mr. Blaine prefers Sherman, his friends and partisans will prefer him. The special is as follows:

THE SHALER BRIGADE DEDICATES MONUMENTS.

At the Shaler Brigade headquarters in Camp Hill, to dedicate four of the five monuments erected to the regiments of this command. General Alexander Shaler, in command of these troops in the late war, read an oration in the absence of General John Cochrane, who was detained by sickness, giving his story of the brigade from its foundation, especially describing their part in the engagement at Culp's Hill, on the morning of July 3d, 1863, when General Johnson's Confederate troops were driven back. Letters from Major Generals Couch, Newton, Wright and McMahon were read. The 12th New York monument of Barre granite with massive rock facade die and sixth corps badge on top, was dedicated first. Major Davis Cassatt and Col. O. V. Tracey, of Syracuse, made an address. At the Brooklyn camp of Philadelphia, where the handsome statue of a Birney Zouave was placed on a previously erected monument, Rev. Dr. McKnight, of Gettysburg, delivered a fine and stirring address. Beautiful proposals were made by Col. Glenn and William J. Wray, delivered addresses. For the 82d Pennsylvania, also of Philadelphia, a Quincy granite structure of beautiful proportions. Col. John M. Werthell, of Pottsville, and Capt. G. W. Waterhouse, were the orators. The 15th Indiana monument, a granite structure, was dedicated next, on which a figure will be placed, was given in charge of the Memorial Association by Colonel John Oakley, of Indianapolis. The 10th Maine, received the monuments for that body. The features of the evening were described as men of fine presence, big voice and able politicians.

THE OLD STORY REPEATED.—Ten People Injured and One Man Killed. New York, June 14.—Fire broke out shortly before one o'clock in the morning in a four-story building at Second street and Broadway, between the Broadway and the river. About ten people were injured, one man was killed. Four people were rescued from a second story window and were seriously injured. Augustus J. Koenig, a young man, was killed. He was on the roof of the building, and fell through the scuttling of that house to the floor below and was killed. Two girls and a boy were rescued in an unconscious condition. Mrs. Julius Clemens was badly burned about the head and body and her husband, Mrs. Koenig is supposed to be internally injured. The list of injured are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Julius Clemens, Julius Oltman, Mr. and Mrs. Wierueck and three children, a boy aged 9, girls 4 and 7 and Mrs. Koenig.

MEETING OF THE IRISH NATIONAL LEAGUE. CLEVELAND, O., June 14.—A committee consisting of Hon. J. Donovan, of Massachusetts; Patrick Egan, Nebraska; Patrick Martin, Maryland; John F. Armstrong, Indiana; and John S. Sullivan, Ohio, presented resolutions to the meeting of the meeting of the Irish National League yesterday morning, which were adopted. The resolutions were: That the members of the Irish National League, and pledge the continued support of the American branch of the League.

YESTERDAY the official declarations of the Irish National League and of the Parliamentary representatives of the National League of Ireland were read, and the congratulations of the American auxiliary were tendered the Irish League for its championship of the principles that the people of Ireland were entitled to use in Ireland, to formulate the policy and to determine the political course that the Irish people should pursue.

American Association—Brooklyn 3, Athletics 6; Kansas City 6, Cincinnati 11; St. Louis 3, Louisville 2. To-day's League—Columbus 2, Mansfield 4; Canton 7, Zanesville 6; Sandusky 11, Kalamazoo 6.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS. Indian Commissioner Atkins will resign. Bond offerings, $2,978,000; acceptances, $2,165,000. Jay Gould and a party arrived by special train at Chattanooga, Tenn. The Government wants more space for exhibits at the Cincinnati Centennial. The bill creating a department of labor was signed by the President yesterday. The second day of the Millers' National Convention opened at Buffalo with a larger attendance. The Philadelphia Evening Call team defeated the Detroit Journal boys, at Philadelphia, by 7 to 6. Albert Miller was sentenced, at Harrisburg, Pa., to two months' imprisonment for kissing his sweetheart on the street. The son of Martin H. Phipps, who disappeared in 1877, discovered the whereabouts of his father by reading the pension list in a daily paper. Dennis Williams, colored, who shot and seriously wounded Superintendent McCormick at Ellaville, Fla., was lynched by a mob and his body thrown into a river. The delicious fragrance, refreshing coolness and soft beauty imparted to the skin by Porzoni's Powder, commends it to all ladies.

"You can not tell them from new goods," is one of our patent says of the curtains laundried by Marshall's Home Laundry, Telephone 138.

Card of Thanks. If the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam should publish a card of thanks, containing expressions of gratitude which come to him daily, from those who have been cured of severe throat and lung troubles by the use of Kemp's Balsam, it would fill a fair sized book. How much better to invite all to call on T. J. Casper, druggist, 41 east Main street, and get a free sample bottle, that you may test for yourself its power. Large bottles 50c and $1.00.

A plant grows in Mexico, which the natives call the "herb of prophecy." A dose of it produces sleep similar in all respects to the hypnotic state. The subject answers with closed eyes questions that are put to him, and is completely insensible. The pathologic state brings with it a kind of prophetic gift and double sight. Furthermore, he loses his will, and is completely under the control of the hypnotist. He himself remembers nothing of what he has done.

Advice to Mothers. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children teething, is the prescription of one of the best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and has been used for years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. During the process of teething its value is incalculable. It relieves the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrhoea, griping in the bowels and colic. By giving health to the child it rests the mother. Price 25c a bottle.

F. J. Townsend, "the heaviest man in Maryland," died in Baltimore on Friday, of Bright's disease. He weighed over 450 pounds and was 36 years of age.

Of the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is the fact that every purchaser receives a fair equivalent for his money. The familiar head line "100 Doses One Dollar," stolen by imitators, is original with and true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla. This can easily be proven by any one who desires to test the matter. For real economy, buy only Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists.

TRY IT ONCE. To the man who has tried every other remedy for Blood Poisons, we commend the following: "I have tried everything else. I have tried Sulphur, Sulphuric acid, Potassium iodide, Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga. I have been thinking of writing to you for some time to let you know of the wonderful cure you have effected in my case. I used about 30 bottles of your medicine to no purpose. The doctors said the cure was hopeless. I was in Knoxville the 8th of January, 1886, and while buying a bill of drugs called for a bottle of your medicine, and Messrs. Sarsaparilla, Chamberlain & Co. recommended it. I used one bottle, and I had a dozen bottles, and by its use my skin was cured.
