WOMEN IN POLITICS.

The New York Press thinks it a sound suggestion that made by Hon. J. S. Clarkson that the friendship of Republican women should be utilized in Republican clubs; that "young men can carry on the discussions or debates; young women can aid in the entertainments with songs or recitals, and the full enthusiasm and intelligence of the neighborhood can thus be utilized for the service of the Republican party—otherwise the cause of good government."

The influence of woman has always been potent for the Republican party from its earliest times, and its doctrines taught at the mother's knee by true, earnest sympathetic American womanhood, carried their impress through life, in the political struggle and in the perils of war. The Republican party to-day is striving to insure for the American workingman, through the protection of American industry, remunerative wages, and that means a comfortable home. In such an effort it may well expect the aid and co-operation of American women.

THE full review of our local postal service presented on another page of this issue is based upon careful investigation, and the facts have been furnished by competent authority. The bare statement of the fact that a town as near as Shenandoah, one with which our people have so much in common, is practically as far away as Philadelphia, when mail service is considered, ought to cause our post-office authorities to look into this matter. It ought not to be said of us that it takes from 24 to 48 hours to get a reply to a business letter sent to a town of 10,000 people less than five miles away by rail and about three by driving road. Taking into consideration also the smaller towns unmentioned in the list for the railway postoffice route and those immediately connected with them, we can see a population of 100,000 to be benefited by such a service over the Pennsylvania road. We trust that the postmasters in the

THE Soldiers' Home Committee, at Erie, has issued an order requiring the inmates to pay 50 per cent. of their pensions to the general maintenance fund and unless it is rescinded the Home will be depopulated as the veterans are leaving the institution as fast as their pensions for the last quarter arrives. The order should be rescinded, as it is not only distasteful to the soldiers in and out of the Home, but to all their friends.

The Greatest Strike.

Among the great strikes that of Dr. Miles in discovering his New Heart Cure has proven itself to be one of the most important. The demand for it has become astonishing. Already the treatment of heart disease is being revolutionized, and many unexpected cures effected. It soon relieves short breath, fluttering, pains in side, arm, shoulder, wear and hungry spells, oppression, swelling of ankles, smothering and heart dropsy. Dr. Miles' look on Heart and Nervous Diseases, free. The unequalled New Heart Cure is sold and guaranteed by C. H. Hagenbuch, the druggist, also his Restorative Nervine for headache, fits, sprees, hot flashes, nervous chill, opium habit, etc.

THE GREAT SHOW

THOUSANDS GATHERED AT PICTURESQUE LAKESIDE.

THE WILD WEST A GREAT SUCCESS.

Shouts of Praise and Storms of Applause Follow the Wonderful Feats at the Trotting Park Yesterday.

Lakeside is now open. That it is destined to be the summer resort of the region is an assured fact.

It was formally opened yesterday by a fine exhibition by Pawnee Bill and his Wild West Show. It was an auspicious opening, and not one of the twelve hundred people who passed through the gates was dissatisfied.

The grand stand was well filled and people stood three rows deep along the rail of the race course. The day was exceedingly warm, but the auditors who did not secure shady places withstood the blazing rays of the sun and remained in the park until Pawnee Bill announced that his exhibition was closed.

The exhibition was a very pleasing and interesting one. It opened with the members of the combination, headed by Pawnee Bill and Miss May Lillie, parading down the track, all on horseback, and forming in line before the grand stand to be introduced. Among them were Mustang Walter, Don Ze Anno, Deadwood Dick, Broncho Bob, Senor Francisco, Aklahoma, Frank, Texas Tom and a band of Sioux Indians, sworthy savage looking and arrayed in brilliant costumes. Pawnee Bill and Miss May Lillie gave an exhibition of difficult rifle practice which was astonishing. The Indians gave a ghost dance and then the cowboys drove the herd of buffaloes and steers from pasture in one corner of the park and gave a realistic exhibition of lassoing, bringing the steers and buffaloes to "round up" in thrilling and realistic style. Mustang Walter threw his lasso over the horns of a steer and brought it to such a sudden halt the eastern end of the track. The horse thief was seen approaching urging his horse to all possible speed to get away from the pursuing cowboys. When near the grand stand the thief dismounted and ran past the stand on foot his horse having given out. The cowboys continued the pursuit and one of them finally succeeded in lassoing the thief, who was pulled down to the ground. The cowboy fastened the end of the lasso to his saddle and galloped off towards a tree in the centre of the park, dragging the thief after him along the ground. The thief cried for mercy, but for reply he was strung up to a limb of the tree. Then the sheriff and his deputies appeared upon the scene, drove off the lynchers after an exchange of several shots and returned to the grand stand with the supposed dead body of the thief.

The reproduction of the atrocious Mountain Meadow massacre was equally sensational and realistic.

After the riding of wild bucking bronchos and another exhibition of sharp shooting the exhibition closed with a realistic scene of an attack on Trapper Tom's cabin.

As a whole the exhibition was a highly gratifying one. The show is historical and one which no man, woman or child should fail to see.

Herewith is an illustration of Miss May Lillie, of Pawnee Bill's Wild West Show, in her feat of rapidly breaking glass balls in rapid succession while speeding past on the back of a fiery broncho. Miss Lillie is the champion girl shot of the world at horseback shooting and Pawnee Bill has a standing challenge for a $1,000 contest to back the title.

Miss May Lillie was born on the Delaware, at Philadelphia, Pa., not a stone's throw from the romantic spot where William Penn signed his famous treaty with the Indians.

The first evidence of her wonderful skill with the rifle was evidenced at Hammon, N. J., where her brother is engaged in fruit farming, who keeps dogs, guns, etc., for his own amusement. A party of young folks accompanying her, she went to spend a fortnight with her brother, as was her custom every year. Among the party was Miss May Wamsaker, who, through her brothers, had cultivated a taste for the rifle.

as to almost throw it upon its back. The steer was soon bound and a vaquero was upon its back a few minutes later, holding on for dear life, as the steer jumped and "bucked" in its unsuccessful efforts to throw him off. An Indian race for a handkerchief was exciting. The pony express carrying important dispatches was interesting. The rider started from the grand stand at lightning speed and made four rapid changes of ponies while making a circuit of the track. The Deadwood stage coach robbery was the next on the programme. The coach left the grand stand drawn by six mules. At the top of the home stretch it was attacked by a band of Indians. Shots were exchanged at a rapid rate and as the battle was being waged fast and furious a band of cowboys from a distance hastened to the rescue and drove the Indians from the coach amid the flashes of rifles and revolvers.

Mustang Walter and Don Ze Anno then gave an exhibition of picking handkerchiefs from the track from the back of a running horse, after which they picked up fifty and ten-cent pieces in a like manner. The race between a cowboy, Indian and Mexican was thrilling.

But the feature of the exhibition was Miss May Lillie's shooting clay pigeons thrown in the air while on the back of a fast running horse.

An exhibition of dismounting and remounting while the horses were running at full speed was admirably given by Mustang Walter and Don Ze Anno.

The buffalo hunt by the Indians was a realistic exhibition and the fancy and trick lassoing by Mustang Walter and Don Ze Anno was heartily applauded. It is worth the price of admission to see these two men handle their lasso.

The horse thief act, showing the mode of Judge Lynch in the Far West, was exciting in the extreme. The sheriff and his two deputies were sent westward along the track to hunt the horse thief. The next moment there was a great commotion at and had brought several with her. At the first shooting match Miss Lillie carried off the honors by missing the object not a single time. This was her first attempt with the rifle, and she has ever since continued to improve, so that today she stands at the head, sublime and alone, in her particular style of fancy rifle shooting. In appearance she is highly prepossessing, and of one of the first families of Philadelphia.

Her great skill with a rifle was attested when she made a hunt with the Pawnee and Comanche Indians in the Indian Territory, in the summer of 1888 killing 3 prairie chickens and 19 wild turkeys in the afternoon from 3 o'clock to 7.

Cornan, the Chief, was so well pleased with her wonderful skill that he presented her with a little colt, which she named "Hunter" and which she now rides, and her favorite horse; she trained him herself, and was the first person to ever mount him. She has in many instances rode him in competing for prizes, and thus far has never been defeated, and is, without doubt or denial, the most graceful lady rider in the United States.

On November 12, 1889, when she gave her exhibition at the Penna. State Rifle Range, shooting 200 yards, she made the marvelous score of 24 points out of a possible 25, the best score ever made by a lady at this range of shooting. A handsome solid gold medal was presented her for this by her Philadelphia friends, of which she is justly proud. On October 31st, 1889, she won the Piedmont Medal at Atlanta, Ga., against 5 competitors, and the highest compliments from such distinguished and honorable gentlemen as Gov. J. B. Gordon, W. H. Grady, of the Constitution; Mayor Thos. Glenn, President James R. Wylie, and hundreds of others. On April 23d, 1889, she went into Oklahoma with the boomers, and located a claim, and is justly termed the "Princess of the Prairie."

PAPERS SIGNED!

SEAL-KILLING WILL BE DISCONTINUED FOR ONE YEAR.

CONCESSIONS FROM ENGLAND!

The President Issues His Proclamation Announcing the Agreement—The Two Governments to Police the Sea.

By National Press Association.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, accompanied by his first secretary, called at the State Department early in the morning to put the finishing touches to the agreement between the United States and Great Britain looking to the protection of the seal fisheries in Behring Sea.

After a preliminary conversation between Sir Julian and Acting Secretary of State Wharton, an official document, with the decorations of important State papers, was produced and carefully perused by the British Minister.

It was apparently satisfactorily drawn, for he afterward placed his official signature to it, and Acting Secretary Wharton, as representative of the United States, did likewise.

Later the President issued a proclamation, stating that an agreement, a modus vivendi between the government of the United States and the government of her Britannic Majesty in relation to the fur seal fisheries in Behring Sea was concluded on the 15th day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, for the purpose of avoiding irritating differences, and with a view to promote the friendly settlement of the questions pending between the two governments touching their respective rights, and for the preservation of the seal species.

The agreement authorizes the United States vessels to seize offending British vessels, which, however, are to be turned over to the British authorities for trial. This feature is expected to prove of great value in the pressing emergency that is held to exist of clearing out the law-breaking vessels before irreparable damage is done to the seal fisheries.

The President also addressed communications to the Secretaries of the Navy and Treasury Departments, advising them concerning the modus vivendi. Secretary Foster will send instructions to the revenue steamers Bear, Rush and Corwin, and the Secretary of the Navy to the commanders of the cruisers at the San Francisco rendezvous at San Point, where the British men-of-war will meet them.

Sealing craft are not likely to start before July 1, thus giving them ample time for notification that the two governments propose polling the sea for the purpose of protecting the seals.

CRACK YACHTS READY.

The Racing Season in Eastern Waters Begins To-morrow.

BOSTON, June 16.—The racing season in Eastern waters will begin this week. The first of the big races will be the annual regatta of the Massachusetts Yacht Club, off Nahant, to-morrow. The owners of a majority of the local 40-footers will enter for this race, and the outlook is that the Owens, Barbara, Alborah, and the Gosson will be among the starters. The ironwork on the Beatrix is not ready, or else she would have been in the race.

On Friday next the sweepstakes race of the Eastern Yacht Club will take place off Marblehead, and the 40-footers will also take part.

The Burgess 40-footers, Fayonara, Minnie and Owens, have been on their trips, and a weakness in their channels has shown itself. They were not strong enough in the first place, as no strengthening piece was put on them when first made. The Faine and Burgess boats have two main shrouds, while the Barbara, with shorter spars, has three. The channels of the Barbara have strong bracing.

Even what has been seen of the Burgess 40-footers under sail, they all carry a little too much sail, and the Owens, when hit by a not very hard puff, lay out at a good angle. The Burgess boats all float well above their lines, and it is well known that the Minnie took on board a good bit of lead before sailing for New York. The Owens will not require much less than two tons of lead to bring her down to her lines.

Hot in Maine and New Hampshire.

BOSTON, June 16.—Heat advices from many towns in Maine and New Hampshire show a very sultry condition of things. The thermometer reports received from Maine points show a range from 82 to 90, the latter in Portland. Of 18 towns in New Hampshire but one shows below 90 and that is Fabyanhouse, where the thermometer is 85, while the other towns report from 90 to 99, the latter figure at Contoocook. White River Junction, Vermont, reports 92; Woonsocket, R. I., 95; Newport, R. I., 78.

Ex-Senator McDonald Sinking.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 16.—There has been a very decided change for the worse in ex-Senator McDonald's condition within the past 12 hours, and he is now so entangled that no hope is entertained of his recovery. He suffers very little pain and is quite cheerful, but he and his attendants regard the end as near. Mrs. McDonald is constantly at his bedside, and three physicians are in attendance.

Don't miss the Pawnee Bill Wild West show.

TO-DAY'S GREAT BLAST.

Gov. Hill and Prominent Electricians to See an Explosion at South Bethlehem. ALBANY, N. Y., June 16.—Gov. Hill, Secretary of State Rice, members of the press, prominent electricians and mining experts from all over the country will witness the blasting away of 60,000 tons of limestone at Peter Callanan's quarry at South Bethlehem this afternoon.

One hundred and fifty holes on three separate ledges have been drilled and each to a depth of 30 feet. These are filled to the surface with dynamite, and when the current of electricity is turned on 5,000 pounds of that explosive will ignite. The current will be turned on by Miss Helen Callanan, the 16-year-old daughter of the proprietor.

A face of rock 90 feet high, 400 feet long and 90 feet deep will be displaced. The Edison Company, of New York, laid the wires, and the blast is the largest ever made in this country.

THE BIG SUBURBAN.

Great Crowds Expected at Sheephead Bay This Afternoon.

NEW YORK, June 16.—This afternoon the great running race of the season—the Suburban Handicap—will be decided at the beautiful track at Coney Island. This race is the event of the turf, and generally draws the largest crowd of the summer. The betting has been unusually heavy, and one bookmaker estimates that at least $1,000,000 will change hands on the result. The race is an extremely valuable one to the winner.

The fields this year will not be as large as that of last, but it will have more than a dozen starters, and a stirring and exciting race is promised. Some of the very knowing ones think the race will end as follows: Tenny, first; Tea Tray, second, and Diablo third. But there is many a slip between the cup and lip—particularly in horse races.

OHIO REPUBLICANS MEET.

The State Convention to be Called to Order This Afternoon.

COLUMBUS, O., June 16.—Nearly all the candidates with many supporters have arrived for the Republican State convention, which convenes to-day at 2 p. m., and which will continue till Wednesday.

Major McKinley, who is to be nominated for Governor, arrived on a special train from Canton at noon. A number of Stark County clubs and the Cleveland delegate came at the same time Senator Sherman came down from Mansfield this morning.

The indications point to a lively contest for some of the lesser places on the ticket. The names of former candidates for Lieutenant Governor are meeting with much favor, but it is not certain that one representing this element will be chosen.

Valuable Revolutionary Relic.

LEBANON, Conn., June 16.—The Connecticut Historical Society yesterday took possession of a most interesting and valuable Revolutionary relic, the building used by Gov. Jonathan Trumbull as an office and executive seat during the War of the Revolution. Imposing exercises were observed, the society being assisted by the Connecticut branches of the Sons of the Revolution. Addresses were delivered by Senator Hawley and Rev. Leonard W. Bacon, D. D.

A Party of Four Drowned.

ROCKFORD, Ill., June 16.—A party of four, Miss Jessie Rollin, Miss Anna Eckler, C. E. Anderson and A. D. Cooley, were out boating on the Shell Rock River last night. In some manner their boat capsized and all were thrown into the river. Their cries for help were heard, but, before they could be reached, all were drowned. The river was dragged and their bodies secured.

The Waiters Struck.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., June 16.—The colored waiters at the Wyandotte Hotel struck during the morning for shorter hours. The hotel is filled with guests who came here to attend commencement exercises. The waiters were all discharged.

All Will be Behaved.

SHANGHAI, June 16.—An edict of the Chinese Emperor has been published, ordering the prompt beheading of all implicated in the recent riots and massacres.

The Monk Ignatius Laid Up.

CHICAGO, June 16.—Ignatius, the Anglian monk, has been compelled to give up preaching for the present and retire to the country. He has throat affection and is unable to speak above a whisper.
