JUDGMENT!

Councilman Wurm told Councilman Devers not to mind what the HERALD said about the repairing of the flue in the First ward, but it took him a short time to get into an ungraceful discussion with that gentleman on another matter. There is no doubt that Councilman Devers stepped over the boundary when he attacked Mr. Lamb and that an apology would not be out of place; and, at the same time, an explanation is due from Mr. Wurm as to why he choked off Mr. Devers when he called attention to the flue in the First ward building. The fact that the HERALD called attention to the evil cannot excuse Mr. Wurm. The HERALD has that gentleman's calibre down to a point. Mr. Wurm, no doubt, means well, but the methods he adopts to accomplish the good work he plans are such that when the time arrives for him to put them in operation he finds the machinery blocked by the results of his own indiscretion. As an example, the discussion of the charge made by Mr. Devers is at point. Mr. Lamb answered the charge calmly, and Mr. James, while issuing a challenge for proof, behaved in such a manner that his opponent could but use civil language. Mr. Wurm, on the other hand, plunged into the flood of heated debate and distinguished himself by threatening to summarily eject his opponent.

Mr. Wurm should remember that, while councilmen are servants of the people, they hold positions that should command and maintain dignity and respect. While Mr. Wurm has been, in many respects, a good councilman, his term has been studded with the acts of a man who is not guided by sound judgment, and we regret to say that as his term is drawing to an end

Eve's Daughters. Marion Harland, on pages 103 and 445 of her popular work, "Eve's Daughters; or, Common Sense for Maid, Wife and Mother," says:

"For the aching back—should it be slow in recovering its normal strength—An Alcock's Perus Plaster is an excellent comforter, combining the sensation of the sustained pressure of a strong warm hand with certain tonic qualities developed in the wearing. It should be kept over the seat of uneasiness for several days—in obstinate cases, for perhaps a fortnight.

"For pain in the back wear an Alcock's Perus Plaster constantly, renewing as it wears off. This is an invaluable support when the weight on the small of the back becomes heavy and the aching incessant."

Commendable.

All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the Cal. Fig Syrup Company. It gets gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, but it is not a cure-all and makes no pretensions that every bottle will not substantiate.

TOWN TOPICS!

A LETTER IN BEHALF OF THE MINERS.

"OLD MINER" ON DECK AGAIN

He Tells of His Relation With His Mule and Then Delves Into a Discussion of Politics—Other Local Events.

EDITOR HERALD:—As I predicted in my last, the degenerated beast of obstinacy was an early visitor to my breast the next morning with an empty car and every attempt on my part to reason with him was in vain. I made an effort to explain to his lordship that I had devoted my spare moments to thanks and, while I felt satisfied that our Heavenly Father had bestowed upon us his approbation, there is one chronic kicker left in the town because I did not remember him in my offering of thanks.

The driver assured me that the much despised brute was so angered towards "Old Miner" he would not eat or drink. I expostulated with the mule and assured him that I had not intentionally sought to belittle him or his friend. His lordship (the mule) seems to be on good terms with me again, but I cannot trust him for I am positive he is a natural born kicker. There is one certainty, his heels and ears are too long for decency. The other day I was confidentially informed that in the near future there will be some aspirants for office, the Legislature in particular, and among them some who claim to have represented the sons of toil in this honorable body for two terms. If this rumor proves true "Old Miner" will convince his fellow workmen that some of these very shrewd individuals worried themselves more about the almighty dollar during the session than the interest of their constituents. There is an ugly rumor in the land that some people, while in office, receive railroad passes to go where they please; that others find gold watches, that they do not purchase, in their pockets; while others are even more fortunate and find themselves suddenly possessed of farms, etc. "Old Miner" cannot recollect of an instance when a miner was presented with one ton of bony coal for his services.

On the contrary, he can prove beyond a doubt that he has been docked hundreds of cars in a few years for which he risked his life. In the name of the anthracite coal field, why is this discrimination made? Does not the good book teach us "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Who, then, is my neighbor? He who is in office, or he who lives in yonder miserable hut, scuffed at by his fellowman, and tricked by every political wire puller because he is an OLD MINER?

AT IT AGAIN.

The Storm Delayed Electric Railway Work Yesterday.

Assistant Superintendent Scholl went to Wm. Penn with his gang of pole men early yesterday morning and attempted to proceed with the work of erecting poles, but the storm was too severe and the men were obliged to quit for the day. The favorable weather of to-day enabled the men to resume work and the poles were erected along the road well into Wm. Penn. Mr. Scholl, who has had considerable experience in pole work, now has his men so well trained that they are enabled to make good time.

The work of distributing poles in town has begun again, a new supply of poles having been received. The poles are now distributed along Main street below Oak. The grading of the road across the swamp from the western limits of Wm. Penn to Lost Creek has been pushed by Foreman Conry and Amour to the entire satisfaction of the company and by the latter part of next week the appearance of the swamp will have been considerably changed.

Work at the power house is going ahead rapidly. Materials for the windows and doors of the car house have arrived and that part of the work will be under way on Monday.

Declared Insane.

Chief of Police Amour, who went to Williamsport to attend the trial of Herbert Spencer, alias H. S. Darwin, the horse thief, returned to town sorely disappointed. To his surprise the court at Williamsport accused that as Spencer, or Darwin, attempted to commit suicide so often he must have been insane, and committed the man to the insane asylum at Danville. Taking all the circumstances into consideration, a medical inquiry would not have been out of place. As it is, Darwin, who is a shrewd, cultivated criminal, will have a chance to recuperate before he will be obliged to answer the charges against him in Schuylkill county. A peculiar phase of Darwin's insanity asserted itself when he was quite anxious that Chief Amour should bring him to this county, provided he would be given a berth in the Miners' Hospital, and not in the county jail.
