

FREELAND TRIBUNE.

VOL. VIII. NO. 28.

FREELAND, PA., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1895.

$1.50 PER YEAR

BRIEF ITEMS OF NEWS.

PARAGRAPHS GATHERED FROM ALL PARTS OF THE REGION.

Synopsis of Local and Miscellaneous Occurrences That Can Be Read Quickly. What the Folks of This and Other Towns are Doing.

Friday of next week will be pay day for Freeland employes of the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

A branch of the Elmira Mutual Building and Loan Association was organized here on Monday evening.

Evan Goulden, a miner in No. 6 colliery, Upper Lehigh, had his leg broken on Tuesday by a fall of rock.

James R. Gallagher, of East Mauch Chunk, was killed in the railroad yard at that place on Tuesday night.

It is rumored that C. B. Snyder, formerly of the Wilkesbarre Times, has secured an interest in the Hazleton Sentinel.

A Republican meeting will be held here on Saturday evening of next week. The county candidates are expected to be present.

The Old Fellows of town will banquet at the Upper Lehigh hotel this evening in honor of the anniversary of Mt. Horeb Lodge.

The Progressive Club, of Jeddo, is making preparations for its annual ball at the opera house on Thanksgiving Eve, November 27.

Fred Betts, one of the pitchers of the Wilkesbarre ball club, was married on Tuesday to Miss Mary McGee, a popular young lady of Hazleton.

Mary Jane, the infant daughter of John Jones and wife, of Drifton, died on Tuesday. The remains of the child will be interred in Freeland cemetery this afternoon.

Miss Annie Furey celebrated her thirtieth birthday anniversary on Wednesday evening at her residence, Ridge and Main streets. A large number of her young friends were present.

The cannon and one dozen balls, which congress instructed the war department to give to the G. A. R. for the soldiers' monument, have been received by Maj. C. B. Cox Post.

President Robert P. Linderman, of the Stockton collieries, yesterday appointed Gomer Jones as general inside foreman and John Hebel as general outside foreman of the Stockton mines.

An excursion to Glen Onoko from all towns in the Lehigh valley will be run on Saturday. The proceeds are for the benefit of St. Luke's hospital, Bethlehem. The fare from Freeland is 60 cents.

Hazleton sportsmen are arranging to organize to protect game. The Freeland club is keeping a sharp watch upon illegal hunting, and but few violations of the law are heard of in this neighborhood.

Bradley Childs, aged 76 years, died at his home in White Haven on Saturday. He had been connected for the past forty years with large lumber firms. He was several times burgess and councilman of White Haven.

Storms and Signs is the title of a new monthly which made its appearance this week for the first time. Prof. C. Coles, of Kingston, whose weather predictions have attracted quite a lot of attention on account of their accuracy, is the editor.

Several young men of town have combined and secured the services of John McBrierty to teach evening sessions in the Cox Memorial school. The school will open next Monday evening, and all expenses will be paid by those who attend.

Citizens over 22 years of age, in order to be entitled to vote, must have paid a state or county tax within two years and at least one month before election. The last day for paying tax to qualify one to vote at the coming election is Saturday.

A farewell party was given at the opera house last evening in honor of Miss Annie Ferry, of Washington street, by her lady friends of town. Miss Ferry intends to remove to Bristol. The St. Patrick's cornet band and DePierro's orchestra attended.

The Wilkesbarre Newsdealer office is in mourning over the loss of Editor Boyd's handsome St. Bernard dog, "Duke," who was killed by a trolley car this week. The dog was one of the finest specimens of its kind in the country and was highly prized by its owner.

James J. Maloy, the Democratic candidate for recorder of deeds, has good reasons to feel elated at his prospects of success at the polls next month. His assurances of support come from every quarter of the county, and the indications are that he will go into office with a rousing majority.

Weeds along railroad tracks are now killed by the electric weed killer. It consists of a car carrying a dynamo, which sends a heavy current into a sort of rake of fine wires dragging on either side of the track. As the wires touch them the weeds are electrocuted down to their smallest roots.

School Board Meeting.

The borough school board met in regular session last evening with all the members present. President McCarthy presented the deed from Cox Bros. & Co. for the ground on which the new school building is located, and Secretary Ferry was instructed to have the same recorded. A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered the Cox families for their donation. The president reported that he had been to Ashley during the day and had arbitrators selected in the case of Peter Rudrauff vs. the school district. The arbitrators are Messrs. Anderson and Hibbs, of Pittston, and Meikel, of Wilkesbarre. They will meet in the court house on Thursday, October 24. The board decided to subpoena the members of the previous board as witnesses. Treasurer Welsh's report showed a balance of $2,645.71.

Bills were presented and ordered paid as follows: J. K. P. Fenner, justice of the peace of Ashley, costs of suit, $8.40; Condy Boyle, work on sewer, $30.95; D. O'Donnell, hauling coal and wood, $8; Patrick O'Donnell, brooms, $6.30; Tribune, printing and binding, $3.75; Freeland Lumber Company, supplies, $4.97; Mrs. Gallagher, cleaning schools, $10; C. Sowers, grammar books, $35.20; cleaning old schools, $11.50; American Book Co., books, $143.03; A. A. Bachman, painting, $99; Ginn & Co., books, $258.55; E. H. Butler & Co., geographies, $67.44; C. Sowers, books, $45.60; J. D. Myers, labor, $9.50.

M. Schwabe, of South Heberton, appeared before the board and made a proposition to sell all sizes of coal, from chestnut up, at $2.25 per ton. It was decided to purchase five tons. Contractor J. M. Connors was paid $1,000. A petition from a number of young men of town was presented, requesting the use of one of the rooms in the Cox Memorial School for a night school. The request was granted.

Secretary Ferry was instructed to make out orders for the teachers' salaries each month when due.

Next Thursday's Celebration.

October 10, the 105th anniversary of the birth of Rev. Theobald Mathew, the apostle of temperance, will be celebrated by the Catholic total abstinence societies of the Scranton diocese with parades and other befitting exercises. Those of Lackawanna county will observe the day at Jermyn, upper Luzerne at Plymouth and lower Luzerne at Freeland.

The celebration here will be under the auspices of the Young Men's C. T. A. B. Corps, and will consist of a parade at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, in which the societies of this region will participate. After marching over the principal streets a picnic will be held at the Public park until 7 o'clock, to be followed by a ball in the opera house, commencing at 8 p. m.

That the Young Men's Society will make the event a successful one for itself and the town is assured from the interest the members are taking in the affair.

Luther League Meeting.

The Upper Lehigh Valley Luther League met at Hazleton on Tuesday. There were forty-nine delegates present, of which number the following were from Freeland: Rev. J. J. Kuntz, Misses Edith Kuntz, Annie Koehler, Ella Kemp, Mrs. Pauline Achling and Arthur Heckler. A number of questions of interest to the organization was considered and acted upon. Three delegates, Revs. Schlenker and Ritter, and William Hartz, were elected to represent the league at the national convention in Pittsburgh on October 30 and 31. The next meeting will be held at Mauch Chunk in April, 1896.

Hospital Trustee Appointed.

Governor Hastings on Tuesday filled the vacancy in the board of trustees of Hazleton hospital by appointing Alexander B. Cox, of Drifton, father of the late Daniel Cox, who held that position at the time of his death. It is said that the selection of Mr. Cox was made at the request of Congressman Leisenring. The appointment is especially pleasing to the people of the North Side, who felt entitled to representation on the board, and in recommending the gentleman appointed Mr. Leisenring voiced the sentiments of this community.

Brakeman's Leg Cut Off.

Martin Bachman, a brakeman on the Lehigh Valley road, fell between cars late Tuesday night and both legs were so badly crushed that amputation was necessary, the right leg below the knee and the left leg above. The accident occurred in Hazleton, in which city Bachman resided. A week ago he was married. Bachman died yesterday.

Lehigh Valley Railroad.

Low rate excursion to Niagara Falls—the last, as well as the cheapest, of the season—will be run Monday, October 7. Train leaves Freeland at 10.56 a. m., arriving at the Falls at 8.30 p. m. Fare, $5. Tickets good for return on any train to and including October 11.

PLEASURE CALENDAR.

October 10.—Eighty annual ball of the Young Men's C. T. A. B. Corps at Freeland opera house. Admission, 50 cents.
October 21.—First annual ball of the Stars Athletic Association, at Freeland opera house. Admission, 50 cents.

DRIFTON ITEMS.

Miss Annie Drasher, of Drums, is spending a few days this week here as the guest of Mrs. William Gross.

Mrs. John McHugh spent a few pleasant hours at Hazleton on Monday.

Misses Laura Gishon and Bridget Gallagher, two of our accomplished young ladies, called on friends at Jeaneville on Monday.

Mrs. John Brennan and Mrs. Patrick Welsh visited friends at Mahanoy City last week.

Andrew Brislin intends to move his family to Jersey City in the near future. Misses Emma and Sabina Hartig left on Tuesday morning to spend a few days with friends in the Wyoming valley.

There was quite a number of our sports at the farewell party at Freeland opera house last night.

William Stranix and his lady friend enjoyed a carriage ride through Conyngham valley last Sunday.

Provision Manufactory.

Negotiations are under way at present by a number of prominent business men and capitalists of Freeland, for the establishment of a new industry in town for the manufacture of mustard, vinegar, catsup and various varieties of provisions and canned goods. John Dushock, the bottler, is largely interested in the enterprise, and the establishment will be located on his property at the north end of Centre street. Mr. Dushock is a practical chemist and his vast experience in this line coupled with his knowledge of agriculture and the growing of the raw material required for the manufactory, will contribute largely to securing the new enterprise a prominent standing, and will undoubtedly result in ultimate success. The plant will likely be in operation before the year is out.

Fire Company's Officers.

The Citizens' Hose Company elected officers for the ensuing year at the meeting last evening. The following were chosen:

President—Hugh Malloy.
Vice president—Patrick McLaughlin.
Secretary—Timothy Boyle.
Treasurer—John M. Powell.
Foreman of hose—Charles Shepperly.
Assistant—John Conaghan.
Foreman of hook and ladder truck—Robert Dunlap.

Assistant—D. S. Buckley.
Directors—Hugh Malloy, Timothy Boyle and John M. Powell.
Charles Seesholtz was recommended to the borough council as chief of the fire department.

Firemen's Convention at Reading.
The State Firemen's Association is holding its convention at Reading this week. The convention opened on Tuesday with an address of welcome by Mayor Shanahan, which was responded to by George W. Brook, president of the association. The decorations in the city are magnificent, and everything is being done by the local companies to make it pleasant for the visitors. The companies which will participate in today's demonstration are there, and are having a great time. At least 150 fire companies from all parts of Pennsylvania are in Reading, and if favorable weather continues fully 10,000 uniformed men will be in line.

New Opera House Started.
Ground for the opera house to be built by the Young Men's C. T. A. B. Corps was broken yesterday morning, and a large force of men and horses are at work upon the foundation. Patrick Meehan has received the contract to do the excavating and mason work, and expects to have the foundation ready for the bricklayers within three weeks. The building will be erected by Knolly & Fredrick, of Hazleton, and will be of brick, three stories high. Its frontage on Ridge street will be 50 feet, and it will extend along Luzerne street a distance of 90 feet. The estimated cost of the structure, including furnishings, is $15,000.

Advertising the Town.

The Freeland Electric Light Company, which is wide-awake and ready to help the town in any way it can, has adopted an effective style of advertising Freeland. On its business envelopes, which naturally travel to all parts of the country and fall under the eyes of thousands of people, manufacturers and others, is printed a neat and attractive ad of the town, giving its principal advantages and such information as a stranger would be likely to inquire for. The arrangement is a pleasing one to the eye and is a cheap and effective style of advertising the town that ought to be imitated by all the business people.

The Wedding Didn't Come Off.

From the Hazleton Plain Speaker.
The marriage of William D. Barton, of Drifton, and Miss Lillian D. Kendall, which was to have occurred Tuesday evening, was not solemnized because the groom suddenly left town. The bride was in waiting, the wedding cake had been ordered and the presents were spread about the tables, but the concluding end of the combination, the groom, was absent, causing a postponement of the ceremonies.

Court News and Notes.

The county authorities have not yet given any attention to the murder of the Hungarian near Lattimer a month ago. The district attorney, county commissioners and county detective are responsible for allowing this brutal murder to go unavenged, and the citizens of the lower end should not forget these Republican officials who refuse to hunt down assassins in this section.

Naturalization court was held on Monday and Tuesday, and about 190 men were mustered into the army of American citizens. Some passed Judge Woodward's examination by a very narrow margin, and about forty were refused because of their lack of knowledge about the government.

On account of so many criminals in the county jail and the numerous murder trials that should be disposed of, Judge Woodward has ordered three special terms of criminal court, to commence on October 21, December 16 and December 30.

The following jurors have been drawn to serve for the week commencing October 21: John Trimble, Bernard Gallagher, Howard Fox, Foster John Duffy, J. S. H. Holmes, Peter McNieligle, Hazle, and M. B. Freas, Butler.

Uncenzo Perone, of Hazleton, has filed an application for divorce from his wife, Mary Berilla Perone. He charges that she deserted him on May 3, 1895, after being married less than eight months.

The attorneys of Nelson Miller, who was convicted last week of murder in the first degree, have filed reasons for a new trial.

John McBrierty, one of the teachers at the Cox Memorial School, registered as a law student on Monday. He will study in the office of J. M. Carr, Esq.

The bill of Quigley and O'Brien, the detectives who captured the principals in the mountain murder case, is about $6,000.

Liquor Dealers in Session.

The Retail Liquor Dealers' Association of Pennsylvania held its state convention at Scranton this week. There were 147 delegates present. The resolutions presented set forth the necessity of combining against the present oppressive legislation which retail liquor men are compelled to suffer under and recommended a campaign against illicit liquor dealers and the selling of liquor by clubs.

An executive committee of fifteen was chosen to direct the contemplated lobbying at Harrisburg and to have general control of the political side of the organization.

Richard Patterson, of Philadelphia, was elected president; J. H. Williams, of Hazleton, recording secretary; Gerald McKernon, Pottsville, financial secretary; D. F. Finnegan, Carbonale, treasurer; A. L. Martin, Scranton, sergeant-at-arms. There was a warm fight for the next convention, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Wilkesbarre contending. Pittsburgh won.

Carbon Democrats at Peace.

The Democratic county convention held at Mauch Chunk on Tuesday was a record-breaker. It transacted its business and adjourned in less than thirty minutes. The nominees for district attorney and county surveyor are Frank P. Sharkey and Franz Mackel, respectively, both of Mauch Chunk. John S. Lentz, Lehigh; District Attorney J. S. Fisher, Mauch Chunk; Postmaster Douglas Arner, Weissport, and John O'Donnell, East Mauch Chunk, were selected as delegates to the state convention. This was the first harmonious gathering of Carbon Democrats in years. The county rules were amended so as to abolish county meeting day, the source of much strife in the past. In the future committee men will be elected at the primaries.

May Build Another Cut-off.

There is a rumor that the Lehigh Valley Railroad intends to build a cut-off from Easton to Laury's station. Plans for such a road have been made and have been shown. The route starts from a point in the proposed extension of the Easton and Northern Road immediately west of Easton and runs in practically a straight line to Laury's which is on the Lehigh river, a few miles below Slatington. It would be virtually a straight road from Laury's to where the bridge over the Lehigh river at Easton would again connect the line with the main tracks of the Lehigh Valley. The grades would be easy and the road would be splendidly adapted for freight travel, to relieve the main line of which would be the object in building the cut-off.

CAN VOTE FOR SEVEN.

LAWYER OLMSTEAD'S VIEW OF THE SUPERIOR COURT ACT.

A Noted Constitutional Attorney Claims the Legislature Cannot Limit the Right of Suffrage. Therefore Electors May Cast Their Ballots for Seven Judges.

Since the holding of the political conventions that nominated candidates for judge of the superior court the question of how many candidates a voter can cast his ballot for has been brought up and seriously discussed by leading men of both parties. One of them submitted the matter to Attorney M. E. Olmstead, of Harrisburg, one of the noted constitutional lawyers of the state. Mr. Olmstead's opinion on this point is as follows:

The act of June 21, 1895, establishing the new superior court attempts to limit the voter's right by declaring that although seven judges are to be elected "no elector may vote, either then or at any subsequent election, for more than six candidates upon one ballot for the election of judges." This limitation is in derogation of the voters constitutional right and privilege. His right "to vote at all elections" is incomplete if he may not vote for as many offices as are to be filled, or for as many persons as are to be elected. If the legislature has the power to enact that where two common pleas judges are to be elected at the same time, or two, or three or four representatives are to be chosen in the same city or county, no elector shall vote for more than one.

The act of 1895 is in conflict with the constitution in that it is an attempt to deprive a majority of the qualified voters of the privilege of participating in the election of the seventh superior court judge. No matter how wise the principle of minority representation may be it cannot be enforced if contrary to the letter and spirit of the constitution, and if, as is apparently the case, the act of 1895 seeks to qualify, limit and restrain the right of suffrage which the constitution has, in plain terms, conferred without any limitation whatever, then that extent the act of 1895 must fall.

I am of the opinion that each qualified elector has the constitutional right to vote for seven candidates, and that if he shall choose to exercise that right his ballot cannot lawfully be thrown out because containing more than six names.

There are a number of other attorneys besides Mr. Olmstead who believe like him that the legislature exceeded its authority in limiting the voters' rights, while others claim that the law is not defective. If this difference of opinion should continue and finally result in having the act declared unconstitutional, there would be few tears shed outside of those who expect to become beneficiaries of the law. The act creating the superior court was unnecessary, and the quicker it is wiped from the statute books the better for litigants and the state treasury.

Board of Trade Resolutions.
We, the undersigned, a committee appointed by the Board of Trade of Freeland at its regular meeting, held the eighteenth day of September, 1895, to draw up suitable resolutions in memory of our late president, Daniel Cox, respectfully report as follows:

Whereas, It has pleased Divine Providence to remove by death from among us our late honored and beloved president, Daniel Cox.

Resolved, That we sincerely deplore in his death the loss of a public-spirited, enterprising and patriotic citizen; a thoughtful guardian and zealous promoter of the best interests of the community, and a devoted and faithful officer of the Freeland Board of Trade.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to his bereaved wife and parents, as an expression of the sympathy of this board with them in their deep affliction, and as an assurance of the honor and respect in which this board hold the memory of their lamented president.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, E. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
