LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

—Read Capt. Wright's card.
—Dr. Marcan's youngest child is very ill of gastric fever.

—General Freight agent, Tucker, of the I. C. R. R. was in Cairo yesterday.

—Mr. John H. Oberly returned to Cairo from Springfield, yesterday morning.

—Capt. Walker is enlarging his dry-docks by the addition of a seventy foot section.

—No butcher in the city keeps better fresh meats than J. Q. Stancil, next door to James Ross.

—John Clancy has "returned from New York." The trip was a terrible ordeal for the old fellow.

—Mr. Marion Wright, superintendent of the Halliday St. Johns Coal mines and Salt works was in the city yesterday.

—Dr. Arter's condition was but slightly improved yesterday. His extreme old age renders his recovery problematical.

—The movement headed by Judge Bird, to oust Col. McKeag from the post-office, is taking on portentous proportions.

—Mr. Brewster, conductor of the Illinois Central, between Cairo and Centralia, is the father of a new baby girl—one that came to him last Monday.

—Miss Alice Watwood and Miss Annie Roach, both of Ballard county, are in the city, visiting the Misses Wooten, daughters of Mr. W. W. Wooten.

—The transportation officers of the Illinois Central railroad were in the city, yesterday, looking after the interests of their department of the road's business.

—Mr. James E. Spiller has resigned his position in the Novelty Iron Store. He had maintained a connection with that establishment for a period of 13 or 14 years.

—A tremendous crowd gathered at the skating rink last night. The throng must have numbered two hundred persons, fully one-half being ladies. To the prize contest we allude elsewhere.

—It appears from a notice in another column that Mrs. Clancy has abandoned her home. In warning the public not to credit her on his account Mr. C. very considerably accepts her board bills.

—We are told that the town of Anna—one of the busiest and most flourishing towns in Southern Illinois—is without a hotel. This, in a town of two thousand inhabitants, is something unusual.

—Notwithstanding the various attractions elsewhere, the anniversary meeting of the Woman's Club and Library association, last night was attended by a larger crowd than was expected. It was an occasion of unusual interest, and may be accepted by the ladies of W. C. and L. A. as a popular and significant endorsement of their efforts to provide for the city, as well as for themselves, the means for mental culture and profitable pastime. Further mention to-morrow.

—The Jolly Twelve—an organization composed of one dozen young men of the city, will indulge in a social hop this evening, at the residence of Mr. Thomas B. Farrin. The expected participants have been specially invited.

—The following, written on a postal card and received yesterday, is in response to "the growl," in which we indulged a few days ago: "Please discontinue my card in THE BULLETIN." The public may marvel at us; but it is our firm resolve not to stop the paper.

—The agent of the Narrow-gauge, innocently we apprehend, put a soliciting agent at work, without attending to the preliminary matter of fortifying him with a license. The fact coming to the knowledge of our city authorities, the agent was called upon to answer.

—Mr. Gibson Arnold, express messenger of the Mississippi Central, was united in marriage, about two weeks ago, to Mrs. Kit Perry, of Clinton, Ky. Mr. Perry, when living, was a member of the wealthy and widely known mercantile firm of Moore, Neville & Perry, of Clinton.

—There are rumblings in the political atmosphere of the Republican household of Cairo, that threaten to resolve themselves into a terrific thunder storm. We shall narrowly watch the progress of events—treasure up the facts as they may develop themselves, and deluge our reader with them, all at once.

—Ed. Morely, arrested for drunkenness, was fined $2 and costs by Judge Bird, yesterday, and, in default of payment, calaboosed for four days. Mary Carroll, brought up on the same charge, had been drunk $10 worth, and that amount was charged up against her. She will pay the bill by a fourteen days' stay in the calaboose.

—The members of the Taxpayers' association should bear in mind that the regular monthly meeting of the association will be held in the office of A. Comings, this evening; and that during the evening an election of officers to serve during the ensuing year, will take place. It is important, therefore, that there should be a general turn out of the members.

—A number of citizens will go up the river a short distance on the steam tug, today, to meet the new steamer W. P. Halliday, which is expected to arrive at our wharf between 3 and 4 o'clock this afternoon. The indications are that the boat will be visited by fully one half of our population, if she prolong her stay here through the evening.

—A colored man who called himself John Johnson, and claimed Villa Ridge as his home, sold a cow to Charley Gayer, yesterday, for $10. Gayer suspecting that it was not right, paid him one dollar and told him to call around in the course of an hour or two and get the balance. Mr. Johnson didn't call around, and the natural supposition is that the cow is stolen property.

—A female, named Laura Waliums, reached Cairo, Wednesday evening, having walked all the way from Carmi. Finding no other lodgings, she passed the night at police headquarters. She disappeared about daylight; but whether she has gone nobody seems to know. She was travel-worn and dispirited, and may have ended her miseries by a plunge in the Ohio.

—A busy-tongued woman having circulated reports that reflected seriously upon Mrs. Logan, who resides on Fifth street, and Mr. Dick Logan, the husband, happening to meet the gossipy female, slapped her mouth. The gossip sued, but it appearing that Logan's provocation was greater than average human nature could bear, he was discharged on payment of costs.

—Lou Schnackers and John Antrim were the contestants for the gold-headed cane, last night. It is due to the former to say that he was not aware that he would be put in the list of contestants until the contest was about to commence. Both young men are very graceful skaters; but the audience decided that Antrim was the better of the two. The vote stood, Antrim 60, Schnackers 53.

—The gathering at Mr. Mackie's Tuesday evening was not, as stated by us, a "church social," or any other kind of a "social." It was merely a gathering of a few friends of the family, who met without any concert of action, and who, after meeting, passed the evening after the manner indicated in our former mention. The participants were not a little surprised to be told by a newspaper renowned for its credibility, that they had indulged in a church social.

—Officers Axley and Wilson have denounced as false and slanderous the report that gained currency that they had stood as sureties for the rent of the hall in which the disreputable women of the city proposed to hold their masquerade ball. We have satisfied ourselves that their statement published by us, was correct; and conclusive evidence of its correctness is found in the fact that the hall was paid for in advance, the party renting it holding a receipt for the money. This being true there was no place for sureties to come in. Policemen have enough sins of their own to answer for without being held answerable for acts of which they are entirely guiltless. Messrs. Axley and Wilson are both men of families, and have, so far as we have been enabled to judge, demeaned themselves as gentlemen and conscientious officers. We have heard nothing to their discredit, that did not turn out, upon inquiry, to be unfounded.

—We saw an ingenious device yesterday, in the way of a swivel. The ring and hook are connected with an elliptical shaped body, the upper portion being solid iron and the lower portion bored out or hollow. In this bore the hook, heavily headed, works freely, turning as the twists in the chain or rope to which it is attached, may require. It is immensely strong, and we see no reason why it might not displace the other swivels in use. Mr. Thomas Morgan is the designer and maker; and although it is not at all complicated, but few of our blacksmiths are prepared to say that they can make one like it.

—On the evening of the 27th ultimo a large lot of hides were stolen from Kynaston and Smith's slaughter house, and Mr. Smith obtaining what he regarded a safe clue to the direction the thieves had taken, made pursuit. Before reaching St. Louis he lost track of the rascals, and finally was compelled to abandon the pursuit. Before doing so, however, he determined to restock the slaughter house with hides. Accordingly he made his way to the St. Louis market, and purchased a full car load. These hides, as soon as they are stripped from the very choice cattle that are now wearing them, will be placed within convenient reach of the next hide thieves that may chance along.

—We were not aware, until reminded of the fact, that yesterday's BULLETIN made no mention of the fact of the death of Theodore Carrigan. We wrote a notice of the sad occurrence; but as it did not appear in the paper, we presume it never reached the hands of the printers. Mr. Carrigan died of consumption, and had been confined to his bed several months. The telegraphers of Chicago took the body in charge; gave it decent sepulture, and raised about $200 to assist the widow, who, because of her husband's protracted sickness, was in very straitened circumstances. Theodore was a noble-minded, generous-hearted young man, and none knew him but to respect him.

—Petitions were in circulation yesterday, (so report said—we didn't see it) calling upon Captain Thistlewood to run for Mayor. For several weeks it has been understood that a pressure was to be made upon the Captain to enter the field; but we have never heard anything as coming from him, either to encourage or discourage the idea that he would be a candidate. He is now a member of the council, has been a regular attendant upon the meetings of that body, has taken a part in all its discussions, and has, as far as we have observed, labored for the moral and material well-being of the city. Should he answer the call that is to be made upon him affirmatively, he will have a large and influential following from the start.

—We have heard a great deal about the concert recently given in Anna, by Dr. Parker, who lives in that vicinity, and his two daughters. We are told that the daughters are entirely self-taught, and that neither one of them ever heard a professional singer in her life, yet their singing and playing were of a character that drew out round after round of uproarious applause. The entertainment was given for the benefit of the poor, and the house was literally jammed. A number of Cairo people have become so enthused by the accounts they have received of this concert that they express a determination to try to persuade Dr. Parker and his daughters to repeat it for the edification of a Cairo audience. It is the purpose to give the concert, if the Doctor is agreeable, about the first of next month.

—The crowd that witnessed the installation ceremonies by the K. M. K. C., last night, did not get together until about 9 o'clock; and as a consequence, the festivities were not brought to a close until after THE BULLETIN had gone to press. Of the interesting details, therefore, we must speak hereafter. The hall was tastefully and elaborately ornamented, the walls being festooned with evergreens, and embellished with glistening spears and battle-axes. The upper table was spread in the center of the hall, extending the full length of the room; and when we say that we never saw in Cairo, on any occasion, a more elegantly spread and tempting repast, we mean what we say. The bill of fare embraced quite everything that could be obtained in the market, and seemed to have been gotten up with a special purpose to tempt the participants to over-eating. For the manner and matter of the supper the Krew is indebted to the good taste, and cookery of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cundiff. The toasts that were pronounced, the responses that were made, the pleasant incidents and occurrences of the night, must invoke the attention of our pencil at another time.

—Our children-for-adoption market seems to be over-stocked. Childless married people don't seem disposed to patronize it. We know of three little waifs that have been carried from door to door about the city, in the hope that some one, moved by sympathy, charity, maternal feelings, or what not, would take them; but childless folks choose to remain so, while those who have children are averse to adding to their number. The woman who has the Egyptian Mystery baby boy on her hands, is in a state of semi-distraction. Her mother nature will not permit her to abandon the little creature, and she is too poor to raise it. We heard yesterday that she had expressed a purpose to take it to the court house, lay it down there in the presence of the county officers and leave it. This is a most commendable resolution. The Sheriff has so many children that it would be many months before the addition of one more to the number, would be discovered by him. The Circuit Clerk has only one, and the County Clerk has none. Hence, it is only just and right that one of these three gentlemen, or all three of them together, should furnish the homeless little creature, the required board and lodging. If they are unwilling to do this, let them resign, and give place to men who will do it.

THE LATE WM. H. MORRIS.

A DESERVED TRIBUTE TO HIS MEMORY BY THE EDITOR OF THE "NOW AND THEN."

The editor of the "Now and Then," an insurance monthly, writes thus feelingly and truly of our late fellow-citizen, William H. Morris:

"On Monday, January 20, 1879, Mr. William H. Morris suddenly departed this life at the house of his brother in Chicago, after a painful illness of short duration. He had left his home in Cairo but a few days before to visit his parents at Wilmington, Illinois, and his brother-in-law in Chicago. A violent cold contracted from an extended sleigh ride in the night is supposed to have been the cause of crushing out a life that indicated perfect health and the full vigor of mature manhood. He was born at Jordan, N. Y., September 4, 1831. At the time of his death he was in his thirty-eighth year. He had lived in Cairo some eighteen years, and was there engaged in banking and insurance. In the insurance business in connection with the honored and lamented A. B. Safford and H. H. Candee, the only surviving member of the firm of Safford, Morris & Candee, he represented the American Central Insurance Company from 1869 until the day of his death. No agent in our whole corps of 1,100 wrote so bold, finished and elegant a hand as he. He was urbane, cultivated, generous, exemplary, upright and devout. He was an accomplished musician and a genial gentleman. In every circle where he moved, in business, in literature, in music, in benevolence, in the church, a void has appeared from his death which occasions heartfelt grief. The grief found expression appropriate and striking at his obsequies in Cairo, in his draped organ and music stand, in the resolutions of respect and sorrow passed by the vestry of the church to which he belonged by the Masonic orders with which he was connected, by other societies charitable and literary wherein he had membership, and by a church crowded by mourners at his funeral, so representing all classes of society that all badges and regalia were discarded in order that the embodied community might be known as mourners, in the presence of that mysterious power that exalts humanity by placing the king, and the peasant, the merchant prince and beggar, upon the same platform as children of the Most High, called from labor on earth to eternal refreshment in the paradise of God. We speak from a personal acquaintance of eighteen years with this departed friend. He deserved to live long because the world is made better by such lives as his. He deserves the commendations bestowed by the multitude of his mourning friends. In the land where the angels sing, where the good are gathered forever, that great multitude which no man can number, with Safford and Morris as the appointed time for each shall come, may all the family find an eternal home and inheritance."

"WHY STAND YE THERE IDLE?"

BEATRICE HEARTILY SECONDS THE BULLETIN'S SANITARY SUGGESTION, AND WARMLY URGES ITS IMMEDIATE ADOPTION.

Editor Cairo Bulletin:

DEAR SIR:—Allow me to thank you for the terse and practical suggestions contained in your last Sunday's paper regarding the sanitary condition of our city. It is surprisingly strange that the people do not act upon them without delay. They seem to forget that "procrastination is the thief of time." They have also forgotten, apparently, the terrors, losses and inconveniences they suffered last year, when our little city was besieged by the grim tyrant, Yellow Jack; but by their apathy concerning our sanitary condition are leaving the doors wide open, and inviting his majesty to visit us again. "Who will move? Who will become the pioneer sanitarian of Cairo?" were the wise questions you propounded in your Tuesday's BULLETIN. Must it be said to our everlasting shame and disgrace that no one amongst us has courage or energy enough to make a move in the right direction before it is too late to keep the epidemic from our midst? Oh, says one: "The men are too busy—too much absorbed in their business to 'bother' with this affair; and of course the women can do nothing of this kind." Well let them be busy now. They will not be too busy next summer to shut up shop and turn their backs on Cairo, with her host of poor "can't get away's" when yellow fever or some other epidemic puts in an appearance. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," is an adage that has not lost its truthfulness on account of its great age. Just let yellow fever visit Cairo again, (as it possibly may do if we do not fortify against it) and some of our business men and property holders will wish that they had applied the ounce of prevention. Should we have another panic as we had last fall, I will predict, at the risk of being called a "croaker," that the fate of Cairo is fixed for many a day in the future. Let us women use all the influence we have with our husbands, fathers, brothers and friends; and urge upon them the necessity of forming immediately an association like the one suggested in the last Sunday's BULLETIN. If they commence at once they will not have more than time to get the city in a good sanitary condition before hot weather will be upon us, for it must be confessed that if cleanliness is next to godliness, our little city in its present sanitary condition can claim no very close proximity to that much-to-be desired attribute. In conclusion let me say to you Mr. Editor, do not weary in well doing; keep this important subject agitated until some of our influential men will come to the rescue, and lead off in the right direction for the good and prosperity of us all.

BEATRICE.

Cairo, Ills., March 6, 1879.

A CARD FROM ALDERMAN WRIGHT.

Editor Bulletin:

Please permit me to refer to the card of Messrs. Axley & Wilson as published in today's issue of your paper and to say in reply that in my statement before the council on Tuesday evening I mentioned no names whatever, and I fail to perceive the urgent necessity for such hasty denial before being accused. My information came direct from the woman renting the hall, through one of our best citizens—one whose character for veracity is unquestioned. As a member of City Council and as chairman of the committee on Police and Jail, I felt it my duty to lay the matter before our body; but thought it prudent to withhold names for the present. Now as to the truth of the woman's statement, I know nothing.

W. P. WRIGHT.

Cairo, Ills., March 6, 1879.

PREJUDICE often rules in the physical treatment of babies. They are allowed to suffer and scream with pain from Colic, Flatulence, Bowel disorders etc. when some simple, reliable and safe remedy as Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup, would give almost immediate relief and perfect ease to the little sufferer.

FOR RENT—An excellent dwelling house. Inquire of GEO. FISHER.

TO THE PUBLIC.—My wife, Mrs. L. L. Clancy, having abandoned my bed and board without just cause or provocation, I adopt this method to warn all persons not to harbor or trust her on my account, as I shall pay no bills that she may contract, except reasonable board bills.

JOHN CLANCY.

Cairo, Ills., March 6, 1879.

THE three things that prevail at the Theatre Comique every evening are, good order, good attendance and a good show. The performance last evening was first-class in every respect, and we would advise the traveling public, if they have an evening to spare, to visit the theatre comique, where they can while away the hours in listening to the beautiful songs of Miss May Conoly and Miss Cora Everett, also see the great and only Callets, the wonderful clog dancers.

BAR FIXTURES AT AUCTION.

At Nick Monce's saloon, on Eighth street, on Saturday, the 8th inst., at 10 o'clock a. m., there will be sold at auction to the highest bidder, a full outfit for a saloon, including two ice-boxes, shelving, counter, decanters, glasses, etc. Sale positive and without reserve. HENRY LATTNER.

SOL. A. SILVER, Auctioneer.

Cairo, March 6, 1879.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—Please say in your paper that the report that I had ran away from Mr. Clancy, is untrue. I went away, it is true; but on business. I returned to-day, and wish to assure the people of Cairo that I did not go away with any bad intention. MRS. L. CLANCY.

March 6, 1879.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.

Having decided to close up my saloon business and open a restaurant and boarding house I offer for sale at low figures my saloon fixtures, consisting of Tables, Chairs etc., also an Ice Box of my own manufacture, that will save a greater per cent of ice than any other ever manufactured in the United States, besides it is furnished in such style as will adorn any dining room. CHARLES SCHOENMEYER.

CAIRO, Ills., March 3, 1879.

A. HALLBY, the Commercial Avenue Hardware merchant, invites attention to his large and varied stock of tinware, stoves, cutlery and fancy goods. His cook stoves are among the latest and best patterns and are not excelled as bakers by anything in the market; they are of the heaviest make and will last longer and use less fuel than any other. Sold so close as to make it an object to call and examine. Everything else low to suit the times.

FISHING TACKLE.—For professional or amateur fishermen. C. W. Henderson has on hand the largest stock and greatest variety of fish hooks, fish lines, reels, rods, flies, etc., etc., ever brought to this market, all selling at "rock bottom prices." Also an immense stock of pistols at the lowest prices—way down!

NOTICE.—TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: The Cairo Bulletin will pay no bills contracted by any of its employes, or any one connected with the Bulletin, unless the same is made on a written order signed by myself, and the order must be attached to the bill when presented, and no contracts for advertising or job work are valid unless the same are endorsed by myself. E. A. BURNETT.

WANTED.—Ten Coopers for black work. MEMPHIS, COOPERS & M'rs. Co. Memphis, Tennessee.

LORILLARD'S Tin Tag smoking tobacco in eighth, fourth, half and pound packages. Also Lorillard's Nicker Nuggets and Dime Nuggets, for sale at F. Kormeyer's at factory prices.

PROF. HARDY takes pleasure in announcing that his dancing school will be open for the gentlemen's class on Wednesday evening, in Turner hall, and for the ladies and misses class on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. For information as to terms, etc., apply at the hall.

R. JONES has on hand for the use of his customers, the very best leather and material for fine and heavy boots and shoes ever brought to this section. His workmen are first class. His work the very best and prices as low as the lowest. Satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

$25 REWARD.—The above reward will be paid to any person who will give information as to who stole a lot of hides and half skins from Kynaston's & Smith's slaughter-house, on the night of the 27th of February, 1879. KYNASTON & SMITH. March 4th, 1879.

BRANCH OFFICE of Williams' Steam Dye Works, of Evansville, at Mrs. James' No 47 Eighth street, Cairo, Ills.

For a good shave for ten cents, a good hair cut for twenty-five cents, go to Henry Schick's barber shop, No. 142 Commercial Avenue.

MERCHANT TAILORING.—R. Lebbing, No. 16 Ohio levee, has just received a full line of piece goods of all descriptions, which will be manufactured to order. Also a full stock of gents furnishing goods, all at low prices. The old stock is entirely disposed of, and everything is fresh and new. Satisfaction guaranteed.

COAL! COAL!—WOOD, WOOD.—F. M. Ward has on hand the best quality of coal for sale at the market price. Very low. Also a large stock of wood of all kinds. He is well known to everybody we trust he will receive his full share of patronage. Prices to suit the times.

Physicians speak in Terms of Praise in favor of the HEALTH PAD.

CINCINNATI, JUNE 22, 1878. Having had some considerable acquaintance with the operation of the Pad, I can conscientiously recommend it as an excellent remedy in all the diseases for which Dr. Forbes' contains the use. DR. J. HALLOWELL, 276 George Street, Cincinnati.

What Rev. Joseph Emery, the well-known City Missionary, says:

CINCINNATI, June 30, 1878. Having had a long acquaintance with Dr. Forbes, I am satisfied that whatever he recommends, he does so conscientiously, and will prove all they promise. REV. JOSEPH EMERY.

Extracts from a few of the Many Letters frequently received: "I feel that your Pads have saved my life." "Another says:—'Your Pad has just reached my case. It has entirely removed my constipation and consequent Sick Headache.' Another writes:—'Your Pad attended strictly to business, and in forty-eight hours I felt as well as ever.' Another:—'Your Pad has cured me of Biliousness and a torpid Liver. I am better than I have been in twenty years.' Still another says:—'I have been in twenty hours growing out of a torpid Liver and Dyspepsia. After using your pad all these ills left me.' One more:—'I have used your Pads with perfectly satisfactory results, and cheerfully recommend them to all.'
