Crushing a Citizen.

The proprietor of a Woodward avenue store, says the Free Press, which had been finely decorated in honor of the Knights of Pythias was at his door yesterday, when an old man lounged up and began:

"Such ignorance I never saw in all my life! You see that man across there—the one with the white hat on?"

"Yes."

"Well, he was having a good deal to say, and I asked him who Pythias was. Would you believe it he couldn't answer me?"

"C-couldn't he?" stammered the citizen.

"No, sir, he couldn't. Think of such ignorance in this enlightened age! When I told him who Pythias was he called me a liar. Now, I want to prove that I'm right. You come over and tell him all about it."

"But I—I can't leave."

"Then I'll bring him over here."

"No, you needn't—I'm busy."

"I see you are, but when a man calls me a liar I want to prove that I ain't. I'll have him over in a minute."

He hadn't crossed the street before the merchant slid into the store and hurried up stairs to keep out of sight for an hour, and it was only after he was certain that the old man had departed that he slipped down and consulted Webster's dictionary to see if he could find out whether Pythias was a town, a man, or a temple on a hill.

WIT AND HUMOR.

Tying her bonnet under her chin
She tied her raven ringlets in.
But not alone in the silken snare
Did she catch her lovely flowing hair,
For tying her bonnet under her chin
She tied a young man's heart within.
—[Nora Perry.

And many a time that little chin
He's heard from since, you bet and win!
And bonnets she's had for her raven hair,
And many a time he's been called a bear;
And now she is throwing her ringlets back,
And says she shall have a scalskin sacque!

"What is philosophy?" It is something that enables a rich man to say there is no disgrace in being poor.

Why are the Germans like quinine and gentian? Because they are two tonics.

Who was the first person in history who had a bang on the forehead? Goliah.

Next we shall have a coat-tail flirtation code. Having the tails covered with mud will mean, "I don't like her father."

"Our rooms are small," said she, "but I live in my husband. "Yes," said her friend, "I see you live in a flat.

It was Sidney Smith who restored upon some one who had called him an every-day man: "Well, if I am an every-day man, you are a weak one."

They make a banana ice cream now. And it's so slippery that a man has to lie down on the floor and hold on with both hands to swallow any of it.

An Iowa woman named her baby after Queen Victoria, and the Queen never even thanked her for the honor conferred or asked if the child had red hair.

A lazy fellow once declared in public company that he couldn't find bread for his family. "Nor I," replied an industrious mechanic. "I am obliged to work for it."

Once a surveyor called at a house in a Western town, and asked the housewife if there had been any stakes left there for him. "No," was the reply; "we get our meat in town.

It takes but thirteen minutes to lead an elephant on a railroad train, while it takes twenty for any sort of woman to kiss her friends good-by and lose the check for her trunk.

"All the world's a stage, Sam, and the men and women merely players." "Yes, massa, but if dat's so where you goin' for to get yer audience and orchistry?"

Why might one suppose that Webster, the lexicographer, was an æsthetic? Because he enthusiastically says in his dictionary that the verb "speak" is to utter.

A correspondent at Mount Desert tells of a lady's dress that is a "perfect dream." The nightmare part of the business was probably enjoyed by the man who paid for the dress.

Somebody writes us "the body has two buildings, two trees, two animals and two fish. Thus—two temples, two palms, two calves and two soles." Yes, and tulips and toe nails.

"Have a hack, sir?" vociferated a hackman to a traveler as he came out of the depot. The traveler looked at the turnout and said: "No, not if I've got to take the horses, too."

The Graphic says that "burglars may be kept out of any house by leaving the valuables out at night on the front doorstep." Which is all very well so far as it goes; but suppose one has not the valuables, then what?

"Oh! how my soul longs for freedom," said the oldest Miss Bookworm, of Boston, seated on the rock at the Isle of Shoals. "The yearning spirit within me seems as if it would burst its bonds and seek the future." "Susan," said her father, rising, brushing the sand from his clothes and moving toward the hotel—"Susan, you've eaten too much and are laced too tight," and he then meandered up the beach.

A member of the Quebec Legislature receives $800 a year for his services. The reduction of this salary to $500 is being agitated by some of the Canadian newspapers. A New York legislator receives $1,500 per annum, and frequently manages to double that amount before the session is over.

A letter from Montana says: "Helena has developed into a lawful and quiet city. It has none of the shooting and hurrahs of olden times, and which characterize the younger towns of the Territory. The variety theatre, which is liberally supported in newer towns, will not subsist here."

Tradition says that beer was first made at Pelusium on the Nile, 400 B. C.; but now-a-days only a crude kind of barley beer is made by the natives in Egypt. There is, however, a brewery in Cairo, owned by a Geneva company, and worked on the German system, which can turn out 400 barrels a week.

At the meeting of the Free Thinkers' Association at Watkins, N. Y., Courtland Palmer, of Pennsylvania, delivered a lecture in which he urged the adoption of a new calendar, to date from 1,600 A. D., at which time Bruno was burned by the inquisition at Rome for declaring that there were other worlds than ours.

According to a native Japanese paper, the picturesque old junks which have so often figured in stories and pictures of maratime life in the far East are rapidly disappearing, at least as far as Japan is concerned. Shipbuilding in Japanese style is so far giving place to foreign construction that by and by there will be no such thing as a junk except in paintings.

The sins of "Chinatown," San Francisco, are summed up in one month's record of arrests, to-wit: Visitors to tan games, 85; keeping lottery agencies, 14; visitors to lottery places, 17; having lottery tickets in possession, 13; keeping opium places, 3; visitors to opium places, 26; battery, 2; obstructing sidewalk, 1; total, 161. Of these, 41 were sent to the County Jail and 2 to the House of Correction. Cash received from fines, $2,279.

The farmers of the Deerfield valley region, Massachusetts, to the number of about 1,200, climbed to the summit of Mt. Pocumtuck recently, to shake hands with Governor Long, who then for the first time visited that part of the State. That mountain was named twenty-seven years ago by a party of students from Amherst and Williams Colleges, among whom was James A. Garfield.

In Merchantville, N. J., a magistrate fined a boy $1 for swearing. This furnishes a basis for calculation to a brother of Colonel Sellers, who lives in Camden. He reckons that in Camden County there are 70,000 people, half of whom swear. That would be $35,000 for an oath apiece. Each fellow swears fifty times a day. That makes $1,750,000 daily. income, $12,250,000 per week, and, counting twenty-six good working days to the month $318,500,000 each month.

Perhaps Victor Hugo does no more kissing than any other old gentleman, but it seems that way because he is not able to kiss without the world knowing it. He has been kissing the female dry-goods clerks from Boston who are making a European trip for their summer vacation. The correspondent writes that while this extensive osculation was going on a French lady whispered, "It is charming," and all the company breathed a "bravo" in an awed undertone.

Mrs. Lohmeyer, of Philadelphia, had no children, although both she and her husband wanted some. She procured from the poor-house an infant, which she persuaded her husband to believe was their own. He afterward discovered the trick, forgave his wife, and was happy to adopt the child. The affair had made him famous, however, and wherever he went some one was sure to point him out as the man who had to buy a baby. Lohmeyer couldn't stand the ridicule and took the baby back to the poor-house.

A Gentle Horse.

Eli Perkins writes: My wife, having been run away with once, is always afraid the horse is going to run away with her again. Yesterday when Harrington, who runs the Maplewood Hall stables, brought up a span, he had to stand the usual questioning:

"Now, are they very gentle?"

"O, certainly—kind as kittens."

"Did they ever run away?"

"Never."

"Do you think they could run away?"

Harrington looked at the horses sadly and said: "Madame to be frank with you, I don't think they could."

"Well, have they ever been frightened?"

"No, never. Nothin' could frighten 'em," said Harrington.

"Has anything ever happened to them that would have frightened them if they had been skittish?" continued my wife, earnestly.

"Well, yes, ma'am; su'thin' did happen thuther day that would have skeered 'em ef they'd been skittish."

"What, Harrington—what?"

"Why, I was drivin' along down the Woolsey hill; a storm came up, an' six streaks of lightnin' struck them horses right on the head, and—"

"Did they run?"

"No, ma'am; they didn't move; they jest stood still and pawed the ground for more lightnin'. They liked it."

"An', the next day," continued Harrington, "A city feller was drivin' this team, an' he let a railroad train go right through 'em."

"Did it kill them?"

"No, but the city feller was all used up. But you oughter a seen them horses. They acted so human like.—Why, when they picked them out of the trees, they walked straight up to the city feller, took him by the seat of his pantaloons—"

"Oh, my!"

"Lifted him right back into the wagon again, and—"

"My gracious me!"

"And then they hitched themselves back onto the wagon and drove themselves home. Didn't they Mr. Kettelle?"—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Keeping off Intruders.

Prince Bismarck has hit upon a most effectual plan for keeping inquisitive intruders away from Varzin. He has issued a peremptory mandate forbidding all the inhabitants of the village and neighboring country to entertain any strangers whatever. So strictly enforced is this order that a newspaper correspondent recently was compelled to tramp to a town several miles away at midnight for the shelter that was refused him by the Chancellor's tenantry at Varzin.

Where Cattle Come From.

When we read of 250,000 head of cattle being driven every year from Texas to the Northern markets, and when we are assured that in 1870 as many as 560,000 were driven on foot to Colorado, Wyoming and Kansas, besides thousands shipped by steamer to New Orleans and elsewhere, we are surprised to learn that this immense drain on the herds of Texas does not perceptibly decrease the number of cattle in the State. When we visit the great ranches of Western Texas we are no longer surprised, but rather wonder that the United States hold people enough to eat and use all the cattle we see. It has been found, from careful examination of the Census Bureau reports, that to every 100 persons in the United States there is required eighty head of cattle, and that this requirement has not varied 1 per cent. in thirty years. Taking this as a basis of calculation, we find that the Northern and Eastern States have less than the requisite number, and it is to these States that the East looks for her beef supply.—From "Through Texas."

Symptoms.

Slight pain in the side, the skin and eyes assume a thick yellow coat, digestion is impaired, an unpleasant sinking sensation at the pit of the stomach is experienced, the bowels are irregular, the mind fretful, the memory weakened, sometimes a slight cough, coldness of the hands and feet, sometimes loss of appetite and at others unnatural craving for food, dizziness of the head, blurring before the eyes, depressed spirits, bad breadth, feeling of uncertainty of having left something undone but can't tell what it is. Take Simmons Liver Regulator, it will remove all these feelings and make you well.

Ask your physician and he will tell you that Buchu is one of the best, surest and safest remedies for aiding, strengthening and cleansing the kidneys. It is one of the ingredients of Hops and Malt Bitters.

Do Not Be Deceived.

In these times of quack medicine advertisements everywhere it is truly gratifying to find one remedy that is worthy of praise and which really does as recommended. Electric Bitters we can vouch for as being a true and reliable remedy, and one that will do as recommended. They invariably cure Stomach and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary difficulties. We know whereof we speak, and can readily say, give them a trial. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Harry W. Schuh. (3)

The only scientific Iron Medicine that does not produce headache, &c., but gives to the system all the benefits of iron without its bad effects, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

When the fountains of life are not corrupted and embittered by suffering; when the functions of womanhood are strictly normal, woman life is like music, with no discord to jar her delicate sensibilities and break the vital and organic harmony. But many who suffer from vital and functional disorders have found immediate relief and a permanent cure by using Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cash Well Spent.

Money expended in personal adornment is often foolishly wasted upon articles of no intrinsic value. A bottle of Sozodont, however, is worth its weight in gold to anyone troubled with poor teeth, and its price is cash well spent by the purchaser. Though it will not make the teeth regular, they who use it are astonished at the rapid improvement it effects in the dental row. Moreover, they breathe sweetness, and have healthy gums and ruddy lips
