Watchman, Truth (St. Louis), Guide to Holiness. Many more papers and magazines will soon be added. It is the intention of the association to make these rooms the pleasantest place in the city for young men to spend their spare hours.

—Judge Robinson was called upon late Monday night to unite in Marriage Mr. R. H. Owens and Miss Lavina G. Williams, both of Earlington, Ky. The ceremony was performed in the judge's office on Eighth street.

—The total amount of the claims on account of the work done on city's levee within the last month, presented to the council Monday night, was $8,415.30. Mayor Halliday expressed the belief in the council, that there was two thousand dollars worth more work done this time than before and that the claims were very reasonable for the amount of work done.

—It is estimated that it will cost $250,000 to complete the Washington monument. The shaft has attained a height of 340 feet above the floor, and since the placing of 38,355 tons of stone on the structure in 1880, it has settled only one and a quarter inches. Enough material is on hand to carry the monument to 390 feet, and it is thought that it can be completed by July 1, 1884.

—"The Argus is Mayor Halliday's friend and would save him from his own error." The Argus is very kind, indeed, and we are certain that the mayor duly appreciates its great kindness; but we are fearful that he will not permit himself to be saved, but rush head long into the yawning abyss to the very edge of which his own inferior judgment and that of the many simpletons with whom he has consulted on the street filling project, have led him. Ye Gods! can not this awful catastrophe be averted! Can not the mayor be saved! Why does not the Argus call out its army of swamp-angels and make them raise their clarion voices in warning to the mayor and city council? Why, oh! why does the old woman stand alone in her agony of fear!

—Father Kearney returned yesterday and will remain in Cairo a couple of days looking up the balance of his pupils. The following have been delivered safe at the college. Those from Cairo were Val Mulkey, Willie Gazzola, Willie Schofield, Thomas Caraher, Gaugh Tarr, Bert Nisbert, Robt Steagala, Lawrence Pettit, Dan Clancy, Dennis Clancy, Joe Gordon, Abraham Bird, Richard Boren, Willie Stevenson, Joel Parker and Master Byrnes, Charlie French, J. J. Morris, Stonefort; Master Bartleson, New Grand Chain; Con. Costigan and Jas. Fowley, Anna; N. J. Traverse, Belmont; Thos. Traverse, Sunborn; James Redden, New Burnside; Ben Patrick, Ulin; Willie Weber, Pulaski; Joseph Roturing, Texas Bend. Also for the convent at the Cape, Miss French, Miss Louisa Schofield, Miss White and Miss Mollie Evans.

—Mr. Harris Schulze returned Monday from St. Louis to where he had been to purchase goods for the fall trade. Mr. Schulze is a hearty supporter of the street filling project. He says he was in Chicago when the streets were filled there and he knows what effect it had on business and property in that city. He believes that the beginning of similar work in this city would have a similar effect. On his way down the river from St. Louis he stopped at Grand Tower where his father, Mr. C. Schulze, is in business. The latter owns two vacant lots and one lot covered by a two story frame house, on Commercial avenue below Eighth street. He looks with great favor upon the movement on foot here to raise the street in front of his property and would consider whatever expense he would be put to on account of it, as good an investment as he ever made. He hopes that the movement will amount to more than wind.

—A travelling man named A. Boren died mysteriously at the European hotel during Monday night. He was salesman for the wholesale boot and shoe house of Alter, Pinkard & Co., West Pearl street, Cincinnati, Ohio. He came here Monday afternoon and put up at the hotel named. He retired at a reasonable hour, leaving orders to be awakened at 3 o'clock for the Illinois Central train. When the porter went to wake him as ordered, he found the door locked and could get no response to his calls. No attention was paid to the man until 9 o'clock in the morning, when another effort was made to arouse him, with like result as before. Suspicion was then aroused and looking over the transom showed the man lying in bed on his back in a quite natural way, but apparently not breathing. Chief Myers was sent for and the door was forced open, when it was discovered that Boren was dead. Coroner Fitzgerald was notified and he summoned a jury and held an inquest, which revealed nothing that indicated a violent death, and the verdict of the jury was that death resulted from natural causes. It is believed that apoplexy was the cause, as the man was of heavy build, though apparently in fine health and about fifty-five years of age. Chief Myers telegraphed to Alter, Pinkard & Co., for instructions and received answer to hold the remains on ice until further instructions. It is believed that deceased was a single man.

—While admitting "that the mayor has in the main shown himself to be an able financier, that in the main he has financed well for both the city and county," yet "whatever a man's reputation might be as a financier, it will not do for a community to commit its interests wholly to his keeping; it is not safe for property owners to cast aside their reasoning powers and stores of information and experience and hand over their interests to the disposal of one man whose plans and judgment may serve or wreck them." —But the Argus would import a "foreign financier" to tell our people what the condition of their finances is and whether or not they could bear the expense of the contemplated street improvement. We are forced to conclude, therefore, the Argus would consider the interests of this community entirely safe in the hands of some imported, professional financier, and that it would not be unsafe for property owners to cast aside their reasoning powers and stores of information, etc., and place implicit confidence in such a financial prodigy—provided, of course, that judgement condemned Mayor Halliday's and that of the many distinguished professional gentlemen with whom he has consulted and that even of the great majority of our property holders many of the most substantial of whom have expressed themselves in favor of the improvement in no uncertain manner. The Argus may send to some foreign clime and have a little "financier" made to order, but we warn the old lady that she can't impose her monstrosity upon this community.

—Monday night about 9 o'clock great excitement was created in the neighborhood of Fifteenth and Walnut streets, by the report that a colored family named Thompson had been poisoned, and that the head of the family, Jerry, had died. Yesterday's developments proved the report entirely true. The family consisted of an old negro named Jerry Thompson, his wife Mary and a child, and there were two colored men boarding with them—all but the child were poisoned; but the old man only died. The poisoning was very evidently the act of a colored woman named Kate Cotton, who lived near by. She came to the house in the evening and asked for a cup of coffee, and being told that there wasn't any she offered to make some. This she was permitted to do; but by the time she had finished it was supper time, and the men all came home. She refused to drink and left, saying she had no time then, but would return shortly. But she did not return; the family and boarders proceeded to take supper, one by one who partook of coffee were attacked by violent cramps in the stomachs, fits of vomiting, and convulsions, and were compelled to go to bed. Dr. Sullivan and other physicians were called. The cause of the ailments was at once discovered, and strong antidotes administered. But in spite of every effort to save him, Jerry Thompson died about midnight. The others, Mary Thompson, Al. Miller and Louis McMurry, were still alive last evening; Miller was nearly all right, but the others were in a dangerous condition. Kate Cotton was arrested immediately after the discovery of the poisoning and jailed, and there was attacked with a severe hysterical fit. Yesterday an inquest was held over the remains of Jerry Thompson, and the evidence plainly pointed to Kate's guilt. Kate is now in the county jail.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

MONDAY'S MEETING.

The first regular meeting of the city council in this month was held Monday night. It was a meeting for general business, which had been postponed several times in order to permit the claims on account of levee work to be submitted all at once.

The mayor, clerk and nine councilmen were present.

The reports of the officers of the city, for the month of August, were received and filed.

Under the head of committee reports, the special committee appointed to select a new council chamber and clerk's office, reported in favor of renting the south side of THE BULLETIN building, at the corner of Twelfth street and Washington avenue. The report excited some discussion and dissent, and was finally, on motion of Alderman Patier, laid over until the next regular meeting the same being last night.

Under the head of petitions, Alderman Hinkle offered a petition of a number of citizens on Ohio levee above Eighth street, praying that the council take some action to have the standing freight cars removed from the Illinois Central track on that portion of the levee. The petition was referred to the committee on streets.

Alderman C. O. Patier offered petitions of Distilled Water Ice Manufacturing Co., for permission to erect a frame building forty by sixty feet, with metallic roof, in hotel addition to city of Cairo. Petition referred to ordinance committee with instructions to draft ordinance granting privilege petitioned for.

Salary bill was allowed and miscellaneous claims were referred to committee on claims. Among the latter were claims of men and teams employed on new levee street during last few weeks, under Wooten, Sarban and Meahan, foremen. The former certified to claims amounting to $2,752.90; the latter, $2,813.80; the last named, $2,848.60.

Alderman Smith offered resolution instructing street committee to have Fourteenth street pump repaired. Referred to street committee.

The mayor submitted deed of Illinois Central railroad company, conveying to the city that portion of Cross levee, one hundred feet long, crossing Washington avenue. Deed was received and ordered recorded.

Alderman Blake introduced ordinance authorizing police and other officers to break open doors of gambling houses when peaceable entrance is refused. Referred to ordinance committee.

The mayor then called Alderman Hinkle to the chair, and taking the floor introduced the ordinance published in full elsewhere, prefacing and following its introduction with stirring and forcible arguments in its favor, which were listened to with the closest attention by all present.

Alderman Patier followed the mayor in a short speech, in which he said that he would not vote for the ordinance unless petitioned to do so by the majority of the property holders whom it concerned.

Alderman Blake moved that the ordinance be referred to the ordinance and street committees jointly, with instructions to report at their leisure. Motion carried.

No further business being before the council a motion to adjourn was made and carried.

LAST NIGHT'S MEETING.

Last night the council met in second regular meeting this month. Received reports of officers; deferred report of special committee on new council chamber; received report of Collector Hodges on special assessments collected; allowed claims reported on by committee on claims; passed ordinance providing for payment of old levee claims; passed ordinance granting ice company right to erect frame building; received petition of B. McManus for permission to erect frame shed; passed resolutions offering discount of 10 per cent. to all who will pay special assessments within time treasurer is required to hold warrants; received report of H. H. Candee as to amount of insurance collected and percentage paid and received bid of Julius Sarban for filling west side of Commercial avenue between Twentieth and Thirty-fourth streets at 50c. per cubic yard, and Sixth street from Washington to Jefferson avenue for 25c.
