GENERAL LOCAL ITEMS.

Notices in these columns, ten cents per line, each insertion and whether marked or not, if calculated to forward any man's business interest are always paid for.

—Prof. Storer's band at the Episcopal sociable to-night. 1t

—Have you read the price list of the New York store in another column this morning? 1m

—Boys' tool chests and bracket saws, at A. Halley's. 1w

—St. Louis citizens are making an organized effort to induce the national Democrat ic central committee to select their city for holding the next Democratic presidential convention.

—Gold spectacles and eye glasses at the lowest prices, at Miller's. 2t

—Walter B. Pettis rejoices in the advent of another, born Tuesday morning—fourth baby and third boy.

—It will pay you to trade with Walter B. Pettis, the grocer. 5t

—The case of Parrot vs. Freeze was still pending in the circuit court last evening when court adjourned. It will probably be concluded this forenoon.

—Buy your groceries, fruits, etc., for holidays from Walter B. Pettis, the grocer. 5t —Right Rev. Geo. Seymore, bishop of the diocese of Springfield, and Rev. R. B. Hoyt, dean of the McLeansboro deanery, were in the city yesterday.

—If you want best goods and at living prices go to Walter B. Pettis, the grocer. 5t

—There were evidences of moderation of the temperature of the northwest yesterday, which may make themselves felt here soon; and Vennor's prediction of a mild entry of the new year may after all be fulfilled.

—Leave your orders for fine dressed turkeys and cranberries with Walter B. Pettis, the grocer. 5t —In a letter to this office, written from El Paso, Texas, under date of the 16th instant, Mr. H. C. DePue says his health is improving since his arrival there. He will probably remain there several weeks.

—Remember the sociable at the residence of Mr. Charles Galigher to-night. 1t

—Anchor Line steamers coming up from below will be stopped here by Capt. Shields as ice is running heavily at St. Louis and there is a probability that the river will close between here and St. Louis before the boats could get back if they went on to that point.

—Attend the auction sale of beautifully dressed dolls, at the Episcopal sociable to-night. 1t

—At the sociable to-night an elegant doll will be voted to the most popular miss present, the one receiving the highest number of votes will get the doll. This part of the entertainment is under the direction of Mrs. Geo. W. Corlies and her daughter, Mrs. Storer.

—We have a full line of fancy groceries for holiday trade at low prices. Walter B. Pettis, the grocer. 5t

—Dr. Gordon's son is now attending school at Champaign. He came home from Cape Girardeau some weeks ago and the Dr. sent him to Carbondale, where he arrived on the day the school building was destroyed. The Dr. then sent him to the school at Champaign.

—A. Halley is selling heating stoves at cost and all other goods very close. Call early if you want bargains. 1w —Another row was brewing on Commercial avenue below Sixth street last night, between a party of railroad men, some of whom had been parties to previous disturbances in that neighborhood. The timely interference of Officers Mahany and Boughner prevented an outbreak.

—Full stock and complete sample book of wedding invitations, etc., just received at THE BULLETIN Job Office, No. 78 Ohio Levee. 1f

—The rivers continue to fall, here and elsewhere, under the influence of the low temperature which causes all sources of supply to congeal. At St. Louis a fall of nine inches was reported for the twenty-four hours ending last evening. Here the fall was four inches less and the river seven feet higher according to the gauge.

—A large lot of heating stoves just received at C. W. Hendersons, corner 12th and Commercial. Skates and other articles suitable for holiday gifts, also in great variety. 1w —To-morrow night Harry J. Mortimer's Star Dramatic company will play "M'lie," one of the very best plays of that class now on the boards and our people will have the privilege of seeing it for the first time in Cairo and produced by one of the best companies on the road. The house will, undoubtedly, be filled from parquet to gallery.

—A drunken negro made himself very obnoxious on Commercial avenue yesterday afternoon by throwing kisses at ladies as they passed him, or running against them and striking at them. Chief Myers caught up with him and had him hauled to jail as he refused to walk along. He was until recently employed on the steamer Fowler. He acted the part of a mute, chattering a lot of unintelligible stuff all the way to jail.

—A dispatch to Hon. D. T. Linsgar of this city yesterday announced the death the night before of Hon. Sidney Grear, his colleague in the Thirty-third general assembly of Illinois. Mr. Grear had been seriously sick for some time with inflammation of the stomach. He was a young man of more than ordinary ability and promise to be one of the pillars of southern Illinois Democracy. He was elected last year and served in the legislature to the entire satisfaction of his constituents.

—Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock Magistrate Comings united Mr. Jno. T. Quinn, of Jonesboro, Ark., an engineer on the Texas and St. Louis road, and Miss Bess Jackel, of this city, in marriage, at the residence of the latter's mother, on Fifteenth street. They were the one hundred and fifty-ninth couple the magistrate has united since he has been in the business, his first marriage ceremony he performed ten years ago to-morrow.

—You make a mistake if you buy furniture without first examining the large and elegant stock now on exhibition corner 17th and Washington avenues, next door above postoffice. The line of bed room and parlor sets, reed, cane and folding chairs, is the finest ever shown on this side of Chicago, Cincinnati or St. Louis, and is offered for sale at low prices. Sales now open until 9 o'clock p. m. Wm. Eichhoff. 1m —Alderman C. N. Hughes returned last evening from Carbondale, to where he had gone to attend a meeting of the trustees of the Normal school. Nothing of special importance was done by the board. Work on the temporary building for the school is continued, interrupted only by the extreme cold of yesterday. The building is now estimated to cost $5,300, all of which the citizens of Carbondale are trying to raise among themselves. It is expected that the building shall be ready by the 3rd of January when the next term of the school begins; and it will be done if the weather does not interfere too much.

—General W. T. Clark, special examining agent of the revenue department, arrived in the city Tuesday. He spent all of Tuesday and part of yesterday in a thorough examination of the affairs of General W. C. Pavey's office here, and, in conversation with a friend yesterday, he said that he found everything in a first-class condition in every particular. Gen. Clark is quite a figure in the political history of the country. He was adjutant-general to Gen. McPherson during the civil war, was member of congress from a northern district of Illinois afterwards, was General Raum's chief clerk in the revenue department and one of the best that ever held that important position, was offered the chief clerkship of the treasury department by Secretary Folger, but declined it because of his friendship for Mr. Raum. But he has now reason to regret that he did not accept Secretary Folger's offer, for with the advent of General Raum's successor, he was compelled to surrender his chief clerkship in the revenue office to a Chicago man of no experience whatever in the duties of the department, which was another practical illustration of Republican civil service reform ("snivil service deformity," it has been appropriately termed.) It may be well to say, in this connection, that we did not obtain the "raw material" for this little sketch from General Clark himself, who is apparently entirely satisfied with his lot.

—The work on the Ohio river bank between Eighth and Twelfth streets, begun some days ago under the direction of Alderman McHale for the Trust Property company, is about finished. All the mattresses have been sunk with rock and the bank is now thoroughly protected. A small force is still at work putting in a few more mattresses at the foot of Eighth street, and this will finish the work on the levee along the Ohio side of the city. On the Mississippi levee men are still at work for the Property company, and St. Louis and Cairo road has also a small force engaged in raising the company's tracks. Henceforth the city may devote herself entirely to beautifying herself internally, without fear of being interrupted by external danger; and, as after this there will be no drafts upon her revenue to meet extraordinary expenditures made necessary on account of needed work on levees, etc., she will soon reach a state of financial ease that has not been hers before. In a contemplation of these facts there must be much consolation for tax-payers and citizens generally. But there is also much consolation in a knowledge of the fact that the money spent upon the new levee during this and last years was well spent, and therefore tax-payers, as a rule, will meet the collector next year with smiling faces and "fork over" the little sums set opposite their names "for city purposes," with countenances beaming with good cheer and with a hearty "God bless you." "Thus mote it be."

—The rivers continue to fall, here and elsewhere, under the influence of the low temperature which causes all sources of supply to congeal. At St. Louis a fall of nine inches was reported for the twenty-four hours ending last evening. Here the fall was four inches less and the river seven feet higher according to the gauge.
