FALL AND WINTER GOODS
which he will sell at the lowest bottom prices. It comprises the best of ST. LOUIS HAND-MADE and of BOSTON MANUFACTURE, LADIES' and CHILDREN'S SHOES, and GENTS' RUBBER BOOTS and SHOES.
We also make to order anything in our line of the best material and workmanship.

It Can Cure
It is a fact that remedies almost without number, already tested the claim to cure all the ailments which humanity suffers. Physicians have found their powers to cure a cure for them.
No diseases have so baffled all attempts at permanent relief as have Rheumatism and Neuralgia. A long procession of disempowering laws have agonized victims desirous of the possibility of cure. For centuries they have been considered beyond the power of medical skill to cure.
And yet we say both can be cured, and that Arthroporos will do the business. The best proof that it can do it is that it has done it.

It Did Cure
Rev. S. R. Dennen, D.D., pastor Third Congregational Church, New Haven, Conn. Rheumatism had kept him from the pulpit four or five months at a time. He says he had suffered for one month, and he took his first dose of Arthroporos on Friday, Sunday he was in the pulpit; Monday he was well, and he remained so since.
Rev. William P. Corbit, D.D., pastor George St. M. E. Church, New Haven, Conn., was laid up for two months with inflammatory Rheumatism, suffering most excruciating tortures. Arthroporos cured him, and he believes it to be infallible.
H. S. Chandler, of the N. Y. "Independent," says Arthroporos cured him of Rheumatism from which he had suffered for a year and a half.
Rev. W. B. Evans, Washington, D. C., says, "I consider it the work of the Lord of a miracle. It is a most wonderful medicine. It ought to be spread throughout the land."

It Will Cure
The great question is, Will it cure me? We believe it will. Is it worth trying? You must decide. If you cannot get any comfort from your doctor, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you try it from your doctor, but if he has not, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from ARTHOPOROS CO., 112 WALL ST., NEW YORK.

"Will the coming man smoke?" was asked by Prof. Fisk in his charming pamphlet. He says, moreover, that the rational way to use tobacco is through the pipe. All agree that only the best tobacco should be used. Which is the best? That to which Nature has contributed the most exquisite flavors. Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco is the best choice of all judges of Smoking Tobacco.
Nearly two-thirds of all the tobacco grown on the Golden Tobacco belt of North Carolina goes into the manufacture of Blackwell's at Durham. They buy the bulk of the entire section. Hence Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco is the best of that tobacco. Don't be deceived when you buy. The Durham Bull trade-mark is on every genuine package.
Blackwell's Genuine Bull Durham is the choice of all judges of Smoking Tobacco.

ANOTHER DARING ROBBERY.
The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Victimized to the Tune of $27,000.

A Paymaster's Lunch Which Cost His Employers a Fortune and Himself a Situation.

The Well Kept Secret Revealed at Last to Prevent the Circulation of Exaggerated Stories.

CHICAGO, March 7.—Last Saturday about 1 o'clock in the afternoon Paymaster C. A. Bartlett, of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, left his office for lunch without taking the necessary precaution to close the combination of the big safe in which money for the payment of employes was deposited. On leaving the room he did so without waiting the return of other attendants of the office, who had all gone to lunch. Before his return the safe was robbed of all its contents, with the exception of some packages of nickels and small change, the total amount disappearing, as near as the company officials can estimate, being $27,000.
On the facts becoming known and an investigation being instituted, Paymaster Bartlett was discharged from the service of the company for negligence, and the matter placed in the hands of detectives. Effort was made to keep the affair a secret in the hope that the detectives would be facilitated in their work, but the affair becoming known, and in the belief that an exaggerated statement would be published concerning the robbery, the officials showed a willingness to let the exact facts be furnished the public.
THE THEORY ADVANCED
By the Treasurer of the company is that the robbery was accomplished by a sneak thief. Two doors lead into the cashier's office from a vacant room, one of which was found ajar on the paymaster's return. The paymaster's room is located in the general offices of the company on the second floor of the building, and was constructed especially with a view to guard against intrusion or theft, but in this instance the most ordinary precautions appear to have been ignored. The explanation given by the paymaster is that it was supposed that the vacant room adjoining his office was always kept locked, but in this case it was proved otherwise. This door was close to and adjoining the vault in which the safe was located. When the paymaster left the room the cashier of the company and an assistant, who occupy practically the same room, but sit at desks somewhat removed from the vault, and in an angle which partially conceals the entrance to the vault, so that any one entering from the vacant room could have accomplished the robbery without their knowledge, the paymaster assumes that the robbery must have been committed by some one having complete knowledge of the room and the habits of its occupants.

RAISING THE WIND.

Singular Discovery of Buried Treasure Trove—Other Finds.
GOSHEN, N. Y., March 7.—A few days ago some workmen were making an excavation for a windmill on the farm of Henry Smith near Unionville, this county, they came upon a flat stone, a foot wide and two feet long, and about four feet below the surface. Upon removing it, it proved to be the covering to a shallow pit, the four sides of which were laid up with brick. A Spanish dollar, which on being cleaned showed the date of 1781, was found in the pit; also an oblong piece of something resembling scorched paper about six inches long and three inches wide, and which reached half way up to the top of the pit. Upon being touched it crumbled to pieces. There were no legible marks upon it, but from its shape and appearance it is believed to have been a pile of bank notes. At different times since the revolutionary war buried treasures of greater or less value have been unearthed in the above neighborhood and different parts of the county. The plow has frequently brought these treasures to the surface, notably in a field near Unionville, where only a few years ago a farmer came upon an earthen jar which contained nearly $100,000 in old gold and coin. A gentleman named Corwin discovered a sealed jar in 1871 near Cornwall while excavating for a cellar, which was the whole amounting to over $1,500. It is supposed that these hoards of money and treasure were secreted by persons who lived in the vicinity to keep them from falling into the hands of predatory bands of Tories, cowboys and Indians, which were continually raiding the early settlements, and that the owners, driven from their homes, were either unable to return and recover their property or locate its hiding places. Many of the present generation are firm believers in the legend that there are $100,000 in gold buried in an iron chest on Crabtree Island, in a wild part of Vernon Township, Sussex County. This, according to the legend, was placed there by a large band of Tories, who secured the plunder in the lower portion of the Delaware Valley, and, being pursued and close pressed by American soldiers, they were guided by a Tory named DeWitt to the spot named, where they deposited. DeWitt lived many years after the Revolution near Port Jervis, and a son of his died only a few years ago, nearly 100 years of age. The family always insisted on the truth of the buried treasure story, and in years past much money and time have been spent in endeavors to find the hidden riches. The finding of the pit with the evidences that money had been buried in it, near Unionville, has awakened new interest in the Crabtree Island legend, and there is talk of another search for the Tory plunder.

FILLED WITH ANCIENT COIN,

news that she had embraced Judaism to satisfy her lover. Miss Hopwood's father is a prominent citizen and a staunch Protestant, being one of the vestrymen of the Ascension Protestant Episcopal Church. Oberndorfer came to this city last Spring from Norfolk on a visit to Mrs. Laura, a relative, who lives opposite Mr. Hopwood's house. While there he met Miss Hopwood and a mutual interest arose. A few weeks ago, just as the young people had decided to brave all obstacles and marry, Mr. Hopwood informed his daughter that it was time she became a member of the Ascension Church. To this her lover strenuously objected, and at his bidding a few days ago to South Mills, Va., and they were married. Mr. Oberndorfer took his bride to his home in Norfolk. Her people were greatly exercised over her disappearance, as she left no word behind her. After a long search they tracked her to Norfolk. Her parents went immediately to that place, but were forced to return without her. They yesterday publicly announced the marriage. At the same time news came that Mrs. Oberndorfer had embraced Judaism. The Rabbi warned her not to take the step unless her motives were pure. She replied: "My motives are pure." The Rabbi formally received her into the faith.

FROM WASHINGTON.
The Retort Sarcastic.
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—Hon. William Henry Smith, of New York, is expected to appear before the Senate Committee on Post-offices and Post-roads in behalf of the Associated Press. It was the desire of the committee that Smith should appear immediately after Swineford, who gave his testimony yesterday, but Smith informed Chairman Hill on Tuesday that it would be inconvenient for him on Thursday owing to an important committee meeting of the Associated Press. It is now learned that the "important committee meeting" was for the purpose of discussing the testimony given before the Post-office Committee by Walter Phillips, General Manager of the United Press, and for preparing a statement defending the methods of the Associated Press. Since Tuesday, Smith's envoy has been endeavoring to make arrangements to have the committee meet at ten o'clock this morning for the purpose of hearing him, but the answer to the request was that it would be inconvenient to do so. As the gentlemen would be detained on the bill but a short time, it would be unnecessary to call a meeting at so early an hour.

Shortly after Smith appeared, when the committee was called to order. Smith proceeded to read from a manuscript a statement in refutation of the evidence given tending to show that the Associated Press is a monopoly. "The word monopoly in connection with the Associated Press," Smith said, "is due to misinformation. The news of the association is free to all desiring it. The Government charges rich and poor alike for postage. The Associated Press discriminates in favor of the poorer papers." He took up the testimony of Walter Phillips, of the United Press, and proceeded to deny the statements therein set forth.

It was untrue that it cost the United Press as much to serve one paper in Chicago as it did the Associated Press to serve seven. Exclusiveness, so far as a city is concerned, is not recognized by the Associated Press. He referred to the long struggle of the Association in building up its business, and asked if it was the intention of the committee to sweep it all away.

Spencer Before the Committee on Expenditures.
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—Senator George E. Spencer, of Nevada, was heard this morning by the House Committee on Expenditures concerning the Star-route matter. It seems that Spencer was among the first who called the attention of the Department to the alleged dishonest transaction of the contractor. He cited the route in Nevada leading out from Eureka where seven mails a week were paid for, and only three received. Later witness went to New York where a warrant was served upon him to appear at the Dorsey-Brady trial. He protested and complained of being subpoenaed from New York. The process should have been served upon him at his home in Nevada. He thought it bad policy to call him as a witness as he knew nothing that would aid the prosecution. Attorney Bliss promised several times to talk with him, but avoided the witness, and finally told Secretary Chandler that he didn't want to talk to witness until he was on the witness stand. Witness went to New York and saw Roscoe Conkling and showed him the subpoena. Conkling said the service was illegal and advised witness to go about his business and pay no attention to the subpoena. Witness considered this good advice and went back to Nevada; heard no more until November 21st, when the government brought him here upon attachment. The case was heard by Judge Wylie, who decided the service illegal and discharged the suit. "I never saw Dorsey and Brady together, and consequently never saw Dorsey pay Brady any money, or give him an envelope with money in it."

THE BATTLE OF TEB.
More Disastrous to the Rebels in Killed and Wounded Than at First Reported.

No Less Than Six Thousand of Osman Digna's Men Fell Before the British Fire.

Active Preparations Going Forward for an Early Repetition of the Awful Scene of Slaughter.

REBEL LOSSES AT TEB.
SUAKIM, March 7.—Two chiefs of the Amara tribe with 120 men and forty camels have arrived. They report that the losses of the rebels at Teb amounted to 6,000 killed or wounded.

BATTLE IMMINENT.
SUAKIM, March 7.—The greatest activity prevails in the British camp this morning. Everything is being got in readiness for a forward movement. Scouts were sent out early this morning to learn the exact strength of the position of Osman Digna's forces. Skirmishes are preparing to follow, and the artillery has been limbered. An immediate advance on the enemy's position has been ordered, and a severe battle is imminent, as the latest information received from the rebel camp indicates that Osman Digna will make a determined resistance, and is much better prepared to give battle than were the rebel forces in the recent engagement at Teb.

OFFERING SUBMISSION.
SUAKIM, March 7.—Active preparations made by Graham this morning for an immediate attack upon the enemy's position caused consternation among the rebels. Chiefs of a number of tribes are arriving and offering submission under the terms of the joint decree recently issued granting protection if they came in. Others are said to be wavering and many are deserting Osman Digna.

STOPPED HEWITT'S PROCLAMATION.
SUAKIM, March 7.—Mahmoud Ali, a leading Sheikh, and one who has been regarded as friendly to the English, has stopped Admiral Hewitt's proclamation to his tribe on the ground that if pardons are offered before the rebels ask it, more trouble is certain to follow.

SUAKIM, March 7.—The rebel, Osman Digna, refuses to negotiate and ignores the flags of truce sent out from Suakim. General Graham is already beginning an advance against Osman.

A ROUTE OPENED.
LONDON, March 7.—Advices from Khartoum state that a caravan has arrived there direct from Dongola, by a route which has been closed for a year, but is now opened owing to General Gordon's decree.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 7.—In the suit of the Union Company to eject Governor Sprague from the home recently bought by the company the Supreme Court decided against Sprague, and a writ of ejectment will be issued to-day, returnable in fourteen days. Sprague will probably go peacefully. He has now no place to call his own. He appears downcast and uncommunicative. The above proceedings were delayed as long as his mother lived.

What Crittenden Has to Say.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 7.—Governor Crittenden remarked to-day that he had not heard a sufficient demand from the people concerning an extra session of the Legislature to consider the repeal of the present statute regulating the rights of foreign corporations to loan money in this State, to even call his attention to the matter. He sees no reason for capitalists to become frightened at the recent opinion of the Supreme Court touching this question.

A Tax Collector Missing.
HONOLULU, N. H., March 7.—The absence of City Tax Collector McMahon excites surprise and some apprehension, though no other reason than his unexplained absence exists for suspecting irregularity in his accounts. He paid in to the treasury the full proportionate amount due from him. His bondsmen and relatives expect him to turn up soon. His books have not yet been examined.

The Will of Hon. L. J. Knowles.
WORCESTER, MASS., March 7.—The will of the late Hon. L. J.
