It Did Cure

Rev. S. R. Dennen, D.D., pastor Third Congregational Church, New Haven, Conn., writes: "I was laid up with Rheumatism and Neuralgia. A long succession of disappointments has made their agonized victims despair of the possibility of cure. For centuries they have been considered beyond the power of medical skill to cure."

It Will Cure

The great question is, Will it cure me? We believe it will. Is it worth trying? You must decide. If you cannot get a Rheumatism of your druggist, we will send it free of charge...

ATHLORPHOS CO., 112 WALL ST., NEW YORK.

"Will the coming man smoke?" was asked by Prof. Fisk in his charming pamphlet. He says, moreover, that the rational way to use tobacco is through the pipe. All agree that only the best tobacco should be used. Which is the best? That to which Nature has concentrated the most exquisite flavors. Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco fills the bill completely. Nearly two-thirds of all the tobacco grown on the Golden Tobacco Belt of North Carolina goes into the manufacture of Blackwell's Bull Durham. They buy the pick of the entire crop. Hence Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco is the best of that tobacco. Don't be deceived when you buy. The Durham Bull trade mark is on every genuine package.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Our Strong-Minded Sisters Submit Arguments in Favor of Female Suffrage.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—Arguments in favor of the proposed Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution, giving woman the ballot, were heard by the House Judiciary Committee. Mrs. McClellan Brown, of Ohio; Mary E. Maggart, of Indiana; Florence Halleck, of Illinois; and Phoebe Cousins, of Missouri, were among the speakers.

Committee on Expenditures.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—The investigation before the House Committee on Expenditures was opened at ten o'clock this morning. Mr. Gibson was heard in explanation of his connection with the Star-routers. He said he was paid $5,000 for his services, and thought he was under paid. He tabulated the excesses of the Star-route expeditions. No new information was brought out. He stated that the Government intended to proceed against the contractors by Grand Jury, but the Grand Jury adjourned before conclusion had been reached.

The first report of witness was to the Attorney-General, who submitted it to Congress with his annual report. About this time it was announced by the press at the instance of the Department of Justice, which was arrayed on the side of the accused, that he had no connection with the departments. From that time the connection of the witness terminated. The Department of Justice published statements that witness had no authority to make the report. Witness thought it was the work of Woodward. The report was sent to Solicitor Phillips, but a receipt by the Solicitor-General was refused. On December 1st, 1881, MacVeagh addressed a letter containing mentioning him on the character of the report, also a letter to Solicitor Phillips endorsing the complaint to witness.

The inspectors acted under the direction of witness; during the investigation witness said he was actually and constantly employed from April twenty-second to some time in November, 1881, working fourteen hours a day, including Sunday. He had advised the prosecution of other routes, but Bliss overruled him. The Attorney-General paid no attention to Bliss. Witness at one time recommended that proceedings be instituted against Kellogg relating to the San Antonio and Corpus Christi routes, and wrote out a basis for the prosecution, but the Attorney-General didn't avail himself of the information. Witness met Merrick, attorney for the prosecution, and told him he didn't know what he was about; that he had taken the wrong route, and the case was being laughed out of court. Upon the authority of Merrick the witness stated that the prosecution acknowledged that the first trial was a failure, and that the Government had been unable to prove a conspiracy. Committee adjourned until Monday.

Hewitt Ill. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—Friends of Abram S. Hewitt say that he is lying very ill at his residence here.

"OH, THE SNOW!"

"The Beautiful Snow! It Saves the Wheat and Will Make It Grow."

NOKOMIS, ILL., March 8.—Snow began falling here about noon yesterday and has continued incessantly ever since, with no prospect of ceasing at ten o'clock this morning. The farmers say it will be an excellent thing for the wheat in this section. The fall has now reached a depth greater than has been experienced here for years.

AT EDWARDSVILLE, ILL. EDWARDSVILLE, ILL., March 8.—Several inches of snow and hail fell here yesterday and last night. The farmers are hopeful that the wheat crop, has suffered greatly this winter from dry, freezing weather, will be greatly benefited by this snow.

AT MATTOON, ILL. MATTOON, ILL., March 8.—The three or four inches of snow that fell here yesterday and last night is considered by the knowing ones as a great blessing. The wheat crop needed a covering very badly. It will be worth thousands of dollars to this county.

AT CLARKSVILLE, MO. CLARKSVILLE, MO., March 8.—A heavy snow storm raged here yesterday afternoon and last night, covering the ground with several inches of snow. Pike County's principal crop, winter wheat, will be incalculably benefited by the storm.

AT HIGHLAND, ILL. HIGHLAND, ILL., March 8.—Snow fell here last night to a sufficient depth to cover the wheat. This assures a much better crop than was anticipated.

AT BLOOMINGTON, ILL. BLOOMINGTON, ILL., March 8.—Five inches of snow fell here yesterday and last night.

AT SHELBYVILLE, ILL. SHELBYVILLE, ILL., March 8.—The fourth snow storm since the first of the present month fell here last night.

AT MARSHALL, MO. MARSHALL, MO., March 8.—The snow storm in this section yesterday was a god-send for the wheat crop.

AT PARIS, MO. PARIS, MO., March 8.—Three inches of snow fell here yesterday. Farmers are very hopeful now regarding the wheat prospect.

THE SITUATION AT CORNING.

Father O'Boylan's Trial Postponed—Public Sentiment.

NEW LEXINGTON, O., March 8.—The preliminary hearing of Rev. Father O'Boylan, pastor of the Catholic Church at Corning, began yesterday. He is charged, in connection with about a dozen others, with assault with intent to kill Andy J. McDevitt. Extraordinary interest was manifested, and long before the time set for the case to be called the court room was crowded to suffocation. The principals for the defense did not arrive till three o'clock, and then the prosecution was not prepared to proceed on account of the absence of important witnesses, and asked a continuance till this morning, but the question was argued for some time and the case went over till 9 a. m. The magistrate is a man of about sixty-five years, of more than ordinary intelligence, and is inclined to do right by all parties. Religion and sectarianism is pretty effectually eliminated from the case. There would be a great sense of relief if the evidence could show that O'Boylan is not blameable for the assault on McDevitt. The defense is inclined to make capital out of the request for continuance on the part of the State. The latter argued at length that their principal witness was the editor of the State Journal, who had a number of cards written by O'Boylan condemning McDevitt, which were held by request of the former after he had sent them. The cards appear as an untried murderer, and points to evidence of his alleged guilt in the killing of Quickbaum, of Pennsylvania, about a year ago. The Hickey lynching complicates matters. The arrests in this case were brought about by McDevitt, and it will catch some of his closest friends. McDevitt was among the crowd that witnessed the lynching, and efforts will be made to bring him into the affair, as well as for the murder of Quickbaum. Everything at Keoville and Corning is quiet, and as the strike continues everybody is idle. McDevitt returned yesterday to McDonough the coat the latter gave him the night of the abduction, he being one of the party, and at the same time began a suit for $5,000 against him for damage to business. None of the balance of the prisoners under arrest for the abduction are worth anything. An effort was made to get a compromise between the parties to-day, but without avail. A strong feeling prevails against Father O'Boylan, because it is reported that he locked the door of the church on Sunday and made his congregation take the action they did, and then the next day said prayers for the lynchers. If these things are proved there will be a warm time in the valley. The Catholic Column, the official organ of the diocese, and under the personal supervision of Bishop Watterson, defends O'Boylan in an editorial of a column's length.

JUGGED ARTISTS.

The Experienced Counterfeiters All Behind the Bars—Petty Conkners.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 8.—Captain Hall, of the Secret Service, has returned from Fuller County, where he was called by a telegram announcing the arrest of two counterfeiters. The offenders are Daniel Feaster and Frank Arnold, residing near the village of Smithfield, and it was found that they had as yet manufactured only seven pewter dollars and passed only two. The prisoners were taken to Springfield. "We are bothered a good deal by these petty conkners," said the Captain, "but their work is so crude that the person who is deceived by it must be either near-sighted or stupid. The days of scientific counterfeiting seem to have gone by. It is only occasionally that you see a counterfeit bank or treasury note floating around, and even then it is one of the old issues. Tom Condon and Ervin White were among the most successful counterfeiters this country ever produced, and they are both doing time in King's County, New York, where they were sent for thirty years. Condon manufactured the stuff from plates cut by White, who was a fine engraver. Ransom Warner, a notorious circulator, is serving a term of eight years in Sing Sing, while Peter McCartney, another clever distributor, is in the penitentiary of the Michigan City penitentiary. Ben Boyd and Tom Ballard, both splendid engravers, are both behind the bars, and Miles Ogle, the Cincinnati man, who made some clever imitations of the Indiana V. and Treasury X, has just finished a term at Pittsburgh. Joe Gordon, of Philadelphia, is in durance vlie, and John Doyle and the Brockway gang are also living on prison fare. Of the western gang, there were Nels Driggs, old John Hill, Big Jim Conely, Dow Crockett, Alex. Murpo and others, all doing time at Joliet. About all the professional counterfeiters seem to be out of harm's way, and these petty amateurs, who are trying to make cheap imitations of the silver dollar, are not going to cheat the government out of any considerable sum."

An Immigrant Robbed.

VINCENNES, IND., March 8.—A verdant German emigrant was relieved of his pocketbook and $175 in cash, by two disciples of the light-fingered gentry, at the Union Depot, this morning. Among the money was a one hundred-dollar bill, the pick-pockets spotted him at Washington on the west-bound train, and when the train arrived at the Union Depot, in this city, they got in their work as the passengers were leaving the coach. His name is not known. There have been no arrests as yet.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Wm. Jarrell, a brakeman on the C. & V. Railroad, slipped off the platform of a north-bound train at Bruceville, this county, this morning, and sustained injuries that it is feared will prove fatal. He was brought back to this city, and at this writing is resting easy.

Crushed and Cremated.

KEOKUK, IA., March 8.—A quarter of a block of buildings were destroyed by fire at Memphis, Mo., yesterday afternoon, and several lives lost by falling walls, while other persons were seriously injured. The reports received indicate that the walls of a two-story brick building near the northwest corner of the public square gave way. The brick and mortar and timbers crushing the lower floors and falling into the basement buried the three men therein. Fire was communicated to the debris by the stoves in the basement and first floor, and soon spread to the Wabash Hotel in the Mackley Block adjoining. The entire building with the greater part of the contents were destroyed.

Vessel Ashore.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 8.—Early this morning the light-house keeper at Atlantic City sighted a vessel ashore on Brigantine Shoals, six miles north. The life-saving crew, his miles to her assistance, but owing to the fog no particulars have been obtained.

IT WAS THE CLYDESDALE OF GLASGOW.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—Signal Corps Station, Atlantic City, reports the steamer Clydesdale of Glasgow, from Jamaica, from New York, with a general cargo and eight passengers and crew of nineteen, struck the Brigantine Shoals last evening at five o'clock during a heavy fog. She was boarded this morning by life-saving crews from South Brigantine and Atlantic City. The steamer struck once and passed over with damage and powder lies at anchor inside the shoal.

THE NATIONAL HOST.

President Arthur As a Dinner Giver—A Most Clarming Entertainer.

Brilliant Receptions, Unsurpassed Decorations, Easy and Pleasant Manners and Perfect Etiquette.

An Old-Time Stag Party, to Which Fifty Bachelors and Grass-Widowers Are Invited.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—President Arthur has fully vindicated himself as an entertainer and has lent a charm to the White House festivities which they have not possessed for lo! these many winters. Said a real nice naval officer to a Critic reporter: "The receptions have been brilliant, the decorations unsurpassed, the entertainments frequent, the manners easy and pleasant, the etiquette perfect, and everything has come up to the highest expectations. On Wednesday evening the President will vary the programme by an old-time stag party—bachelor dinner. Fifty Senators and Representatives who have never shouldered the matrimonial yoke will be invited, if that many can be found, and if not the list will be filled out by Senators and members whose wives are not with them in Washington.

"The President is courageous, too, in his entertaining, and a good manager. He has boldly expressed his intention of seeing that every Senator and every member is at least once invited to accept the hospitality of the White House at a state dinner, and this has never been attempted before since the House has assumed such large proportions. There is another thing that people do not properly appreciate, and that is the perfection of arrangement and absence of confusion at the White House dinners. There never were dinners given to such large numbers of guests in the state dining-room, and they never were so well managed."

BLESSINGS IN DISGUISE.

What the Woman of To-Day is Doing to Conceal Her Charms.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 8.—A well-dressed lady went into a fashionable Chestnut street clothing house yesterday and asked to be measured for a pair of trousers. After she had been served an attendant said to a reporter: "We make men's suits for ladies right along. I don't know what this party wants with men's clothing, for we never ask, unless they choose to tell. We make a good many full suits. This pair of trousers is for a very pretty little lady who looks so petite that you would never suppose to look at her that she would require so large a size. She is having three suits made. One is a knock-around suit with a single-breasted sack, another is a full-buttoned blue frock, with fancy lining, and the other has

KNICKERBOCKER BREECHES.

We think nothing of it. We make all kinds. "Really, what in the world does Miss Dickinson want with trousers?" "I can't tell you, only she has them. Maybe they are for riding or for indoor wear. We are in the habit of making all her trousers, anyhow. Why, women folks say that trousers are a great deal more comfortable, and those we make for them have always been very successful in fitting."

From other sources it was learned that while men's trousers are not likely to be adopted by any ladies in Philadelphia for out-of-door wear, there is a tendency on the part of some of the ladies in this city, who are recognized as fashionable ladies, to have their spring street costumes this year more comfortable and simple, and in some respects resembling men's dress. A prominent firm of tailors are making a good many coats for ladies that are almost similar to coats for men. A number of ladies have already appeared on the streets with men's vests, showing shirt fronts and neckties.

Langtry's Loans.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Mrs. Langtry's mortgages on New York real estate aggregate $93,000 in amount. This money is invested in four mortgages, payable within five years, and bearing interest at five per cent. The heaviest loan is $45,000 on the residence of Mrs. Imogene Granberry, 29 West Fifty-third street. Another mortgage represents a $20,000 loan on the house of Wm. Messenger, on the east side of Eighth avenue, above Sixty-sixth street. A house and lot on the west side of Eighth avenue, north of Thirteenth street, owned by Matilde Le Conte and others, is mortgaged for $16,000 to her, and her last investment was $12,000 in a mortgage on a piece of property belonging to Joseph Kalish, and situated on the west side of Third avenue, between Eighty-eighth and Eighty-ninth streets. According to the records in the Register's office Mrs. Langtry has not yet purchased any New York property.

An Utopian Scheme.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 8.—Several labor leaders are working and circulating a petition which is to be presented to Congress, asking them to provide a sum of money from the surplus currency in the Treasury for colonization purposes. It is proposed that ten million dollars be set aside for the purpose, which would supply a hundred thousand families with five hundred dollars each, and granting fifteen years for the payment of the mortgage to be taken on the land for its purchase, and allowing the settler to pay for a homestead (160 acres) in five years at one per cent, and over five years at ten years at two per cent. The petition is being largely signed at all points of the State where it is presented. It is no political measure. The petition bears the signatures of leaders of all parties. Laboring men are united in the request that such provision be made.

Sentenced to Death.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., March 8.—The Supreme Court has refused a new trial for Wright, one of the Howard County murderers, and affirms the decision of the lower court, which sentenced him to death.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Jay Gould sailed yesterday in his yacht for the West Indies, to be gone sixty days.

Luke Blackburn will establish an asylum for imbeciles and lunatics at Louisville, Ky.

It is reported that moonshiners have hung an Internal Revenue officer in Floyd County, Va.

Wm. Burge, a Deputy United States Marshal at Waco, Tex., is missing. His accounts are straight.

Harrison Williams, colored, was hanged at Corsicana Tex., yesterday, for the murder of his wife's sister, Ada Salard.

LePelletier, a journalist, and Viardot, a violinist, fought a duel Friday at Greville, France. Both were seriously wounded.

A cloud-burst occurred at Florence, A. T., Friday morning. Water ran four feet deep in the streets. No lives were lost.

An attempt to boycott S. V. White, the man who engineered the Lackawanna corner, was made at the New York Stock Exchange yesterday.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Egypt. GORDON'S ADVICE.

CAIRO, March 8.—General Gordon in a dispatch this morning recommends an immediate attack on Osman Digna by General Graham. If the rebel force retires from its present position Graham should content himself with merely destroying the enemy's camp and not attempting to follow the rebels up, as his horses are too inferior to allow of penetrating to any considerable distance into the country. The rebel horsemen are well mounted, and would considerably weaken Graham's forces by keeping up a guerilla warfare which would probably end in a disastrous defeat, as the rebels would be constantly receiving fresh additions to their army. The farther Graham marched into the country, he would have, in addition to harassing attacks from the enemy many hardships to contend with, and perhaps meet a fate similar to that which befel Hicks Pasha.

LONDON, March 8.—General Graham has been ordered not to advance unless he is sure of finding the enemy. There will be a cavalry reconnaissance to-night. Osman Digna is urging his followers to fight, assuring them that success is certain. He will watch from afar as they do battle, invoking the blessing of Allah.

Germany. BERLIN, March 8.—Minister Sargent has decided not to resign. He will submit the matter to the authorities at Washington. The Deutsche Tagesblatt, calling attention to what it pleased to call "Sargent's incompetency," as compared with his predecessors, says: "We believe the American government is ignoring the fact that Minister Sargent has exposed himself to ridicule. He cannot remain at Berlin without affecting the relations of America and Germany." His stay will also be offensive to the Germans in America."

Six Cents Damages.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., March 8.—A large gathering of prominent lawyers of the Supreme Court were this morning anxious to learn the verdict in the $100,000 libel suit brought by Captain Charles C. Duncan, Shipping Commissioner of New York, against the New York Times. The jury gave a verdict for the plaintiff for damages in the sum of six cents on account of bankrupt proceedings. On the balance of the charges they found for the defense. Duncan's counsel moved for a new trial of the case.
