

Don't! Don't! Don't! Think, just because you have been suffering terribly with Rheumatism or Neuralgia, that you must always continue to suffer. Don't think just because nobody has been able to cure you or your friends, that Neuralgia and Rheumatism are incurable. Don't think that a cure is impossible just because the physicians have been unable to accomplish it. Don't think that because ATHLOPHOROS has not been known ever since the foundation of the world, it will not cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Neglect the testimony of the hundreds of sufferers who have tried ATHLOPHOROS and are now sound and hearty. Don't think that because you have tried fifty other things that failed, that ATHLOPHOROS is like them. Don't be discouraged! The very thing that will cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia is ATHLOPHOROS. Don't be Skeptical! ATHLOPHOROS has cured others. It will cure YOU. If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 WALL ST., NEW YORK.

VERNON, ILL., May 15.—Frank Miller and Carl Satterfield, of this place, aged sixteen and eighteen, a few nights ago followed and attempted to rob a stranger who had just got off the train. Their noise, however, brought several persons to his relief. The boys fled but were captured. Miller is held to bail. Died of Her Injuries. ALTON, ILL., May 15.—Mrs. Lucy A. Clayton died yesterday from the effects of injuries received by being thrown from a buggy while driving from this city to her home in Upper Alton last week. She was over sixty, leaves a husband, aged seventy, and four grown children. Shoot the Tramps. MCLEANSBORO, ILL., May 15.—Isaac Thomas, living near here, met with a serious loss this morning by the burning of his barn and its contents, including a large quantity of hay, about 1,000 bushels of corn, a new self-binding reaper and other valuable farm machinery; supposed to be the work of a tramp; insurance small. The Bolters Stand Firm. CHICAGO, ILL., May 15.—Ex-Senator Boyd, of New York, and Robert Deakins, J. A. George, and A. J. Weddner, of Baltimore, who bolted the Anti-monopoly Convention, last night held a conference. This morning, with the delegates from New York and other States, they decided to issue an address to the country and stand by their action of last night. Adjudged Insane. MCLEANSBORO, ILL., May 15.—Whitefield S. Martin, a prominent citizen of Dahlgren, this county, was tried before Judge Eckley this morning and adjudged insane. He will be sent to the asylum at Anna. Financial embarrassment, domestic trouble and strong drink are given as the causes. Prohibition's Worst Enemy. SPRINGFIELD, ILL., May 15.—At the meeting of the State Sunday-School Convention this morning a resolution was adopted declaring that high license is the most formidable enemy the temperance cause has ever met and that the delegates will use their money, influence, ballots and prayers to defeat it and to bring about prohibition in its stead. The resolution was offered by H. E. Wykoff, of Jo Davies County. A Kentucky Killing. RICHMOND, KY., May 15.—The news of the killing of John Ketchum by a man named Bowles, in Rock Castle County, has just been received. Ketchum stopped at Bowles' house on his way home from court, and the men quarreled, when Bowles shot and instantly killed Ketchum. The latter was a bad character, and one of the principal actors in the Breathitt County troubles. Bad Men at Pekin. PEKIN, ILL., May 15.—Chas. Glarum, a piano tuner, well connected in this city, disappeared, leaving a great many debts. Will Geiger, a sewing-machine salesman for Ebers & Co., has also gone, taking money belonging to the firm. A State's warrant has been issued for Geiger.

THAT VERY BAD CASH. Bogan Below Par in the Fight With Marshal King and His Posse. He Is Surrounded in His Barn and Ordered to Surrender, But Replies by Firing Upon the Officers. The Fire is Vigorously Returned, and the Murderous Outlaw Falls Riddled With Bullets. CHICAGO, ILL., May 15.—A special to the United Press from Columbus, S. C., says: Bogan Cash, the notorious outlaw and son of Colonel Cash, was killed this morning by a posse under Deputy Sheriff King. He fired upon the posse who returned it, riddling him with bullets. There is great excitement in Chesterfield County. CHARLESTON, S. C., May 15.—Governor Thompson received the following this morning: "CHERAW, S. C., May 15, 1884. "To Governor Hugh S. Thompson: "I went with a posse last night to arrest W. B. Cash. I instructed the men not to fire unless absolutely necessary. I surrounded the house and barn, placing two men between the house and barn and two between the barn and swamp. Flinging Cash in the barn I ordered it surrounded. Cash came out and fired. The fire was returned. After Cash fired several shots he was killed, being riddled with bullets. None of the posse were struck, except W. H. Hilton, whose fingers were shot off by Cash. "E. L. KING, "Deputy Marshal."

Election of Bishops. PHILADELPHIA, PA., April 15.—Bishop E. G. Andrews presided at the opening of the M. E. Conference this morning. Long before the hour of opening arrived the hall was full of visitors anxious to be spectators of the great event of the day, the election of the four new Bishops. There was little or no discussion of the various candidates by the delegates, and in fact it was difficult to find out exactly who were candidates. No nominations were made, and each delegate voted by ballot for four Bishops. The Secretary called the roll of the conference and each delegate cast his vote as the name of his Conference was called. The only incident during the vote was an attempt at applause when the name of Governor Pattison was called. It came from the gallery and was promptly checked. At conclusion of the ballot the tellers retired to count the vote and the Conference resumed the call of resolutions. FROM WASHINGTON. Law's Report. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15.—Prof. Law, Chairman of the Treasury Cattle Commission, has sent to the Secretary of the Treasury for transmittal to Congress an elaborate report upon the investigations of the outbreaks of cattle disease in Illinois and Kansas. The conclusion arrived at is that for a number of reasons this could not have been the contagious European foot and mouth disease. Medals Awarded. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15.—The Secretary of the Treasury has awarded medals for gallant and heroic conduct in saving human life at different times and places to Dominic Ryden, John H. Theiss and Charles Roseway, of New York; Joseph and Alfred Cardan, Mackinaw, Mich.; Julius W. Rohn, Milwaukee; W. E. Bowman, Shawneetown, Ill.; William H. Daly, San Jose, Calif.; and Lieutenant Alfred Palmer and Sergeant William Wilson of the United States Army. FORTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS. Senate. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15.—The Chair presented a message from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of State recommending the immediate appropriation of $224,656 to execute the provisions of the convention between the United States and Mexico for the relocation of the monuments marking the boundary between the two countries. Senator Allison reported favorably, with amendments, from the Committee on Appropriations a bill to provide for the celebration of the World's Cotton Exposition at New Orleans. The bill was taken up. Senator Sewell moved to make the appropriation $5,000,000 instead of $1,000,000. After further debate the amendment was voted down and the bill was passed as reported. Senator Morgan introduced a resolution, which went over under the rules, directing the Committee on Finance to examine into the causes of the failure of such National banks of New York city as suspended business in the month of May, 1884, and report whether any such failures have, and to what extent, resulted from violations of the laws regulating their conduct, or from giving certificates on drafts, or by their acceptance of drafts or other commercial paper drawn upon them directly or indirectly, in evasion or in violation of the law; and whether any National Bank in New York city has been engaged since July 12, 1883, in the violation or evasion of the laws regulating their conduct; and that the committee have leave to sit during the sessions of the Senate, to visit the City of New York, to send for persons and papers and to examine witnesses on oath. Senator Cullom introduced a bill to prevent speculation by National banking associations. At 2 p. m. the Senate went into executive session. House. Mr. Laird, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported a bill authorizing the location of a branch of the soldiers home in Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri or Nebraska. Referred to committee of the whole. Senate bills were passed authorizing the construction of bridges across the Rio Grande between Eagle Pass and Piedras Negras, and between Laredo and Nuevo Laredo. A bill passed authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Missouri River between the north and south lines of Douglas County, Nebraska. A bill passed authorizing the extension of the Chesapeake & Ohio Road to a point on the military lands of Fortress Monroe. By unanimous consent the morning hour was dispensed with and the House went into committee of the whole on the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill. The bill was considered by paragraphs, under the five minute rule. Mr. Hill (of Illinois) moved to amend by making the salaries of Ministers to Austria and Italy $12,000, as now, the committee having cut down the salaries to $10,000. Mr. Blount opposed the amendment, expressing his indifference as to whether or not the whole diplomatic system were abolished. Mr. Hiscock regarded the reduction as a wholesale cut without rhyme or reason. Mr. O'Neill (of Pennsylvania) declared that owing to the small salaries paid ministers and consuls they were compelled to live in remote corners of the cities to which they were accredited, and in some cases it was almost impossible for an American citizen to find them. Mr. Blount appealed to the Democratic members not to be divided on this question, and regretted that the gentleman from New York (Dorshelmer) had joined with the Democratic party and held an inquest. The testimony showed that the train dispatcher, Gilbert Lewis, had ordered the engineer of the camp train to run wild to Ohio Pyle, a distance of eighteen miles; that before the train was out of sight he remembered that the second section of No. 80, coming west, had not passed. He made an effort to stop one train or the other, but did not succeed. On account of a sharp curve where the trains collided, the engineers thinking that the track was clear, could not be held responsible. At ten o'clock time came to their death that the wreck was caused by the carelessness of Gilbert Lewis. District Attorney Cochran attended the inquest, but has not yet determined whether to prosecute Lewis or not.

THE RUMOR VERIFIED. But the Half of the Sad and Harrowing Tale Was Not Told. Details of the Late Accident on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Near Connellsville, Pa. Slow Death and Partial Cremation of the Fifteen Victims of the Disaster. PITTSBURGH, PA., May 15.—A freight train collided with the gravel train on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, one mile east of Connellsville, between nine and ten o'clock yesterday morning. A number of laborers, variously estimated at from twelve to twenty, were killed and many were injured. The scene of the disaster is on a sharp curve just west of the Sheer sand works. The freight train consisted of six cars. It contained about fifty men, who had just been transferred from the Pittsburgh Southern Road and were on their way to the Ohio Pyle falls to work on the east end of the division. Both trains were going at a high rate of speed and came together with a terrible crash. The engines remained on the track and telescoped each other into the smokstack, but the heavy tenders jumped into the air and fell, the freight tender upon its engine and the gravel train tender back upon the first car in the rear of it. Here was the scene of death. Six men were killed outright in this car, and four others, fastened down by the broken timber, were roasted to death, the car catching fire from the overturned stove and burning up before the stupefied survivors could comprehend the awful situation of their shrieking companions. Three men escaped from the car; one of them assured your correspondent that the fire could have been extinguished had water been applied in time. The wreck itself was a ghastly sight. The tender of the freight engine stood thirty feet in the air at the side of the iron car that was burned, and there could be seen sitting amid the glowing embers and twisted iron rods and ashes three grinning skeletons, one sitting bolt upright apparently peering into the flames that had smothered out his life as well as those of his companions. At noon a large force of hands were on the ground extinguishing the flames, and the wreck train was at work pulling the debris away and rescuing the charred remains. The burned trunks of four of the victims were taken out. Across the breast of one the white, unsmiling flesh contrasted strangely with the blackened surroundings. That spot was where the heavy timbers caught him and held him in the grip of fate until the flames left nothing but a headless, armless, legless trunk. The remains were reverently placed on a board, carried aside and laid down upon the green grass, spotted with purple forest flowers. A lean and hungry-looking mountain dog sniffed the roasted flesh, and licking his chops descended on the remains. Fortunately he was discovered and driven away. When the wreck was cleared away it was discovered that twelve persons had been injured and fourteen more were missing. The bodies of ten of these were recovered. The others are supposed to have been completely consumed. Of those recovered only two—Cassidy and McDermott—could be positively identified. The others were burned shapeless. One of the injured—J. T. O'Shea—died on the way to the hospital, making fifteen deaths, as follows: KILLED. Patrick Cassidy, aged forty, residence Cumberland, Ind. Scott Desmond, aged twenty-one, Ursina, Pa. Dennis Ward, aged forty, residence unknown. Shebeyneuman, residence unknown. Owen Conner, aged thirty, Pittsburgh. John Perry, aged thirty, Johnston, Pa. Thomas Whittle, aged twenty-five, residence unknown. Eli Sloan aged twenty-five, residence unknown. Joseph Desmond, aged thirty-one, residence unknown. Patrick Kelly, aged thirty-seven, residence unknown. John Hughes, aged forty-four, Cumberland, Md. John Conly, aged forty, New York. Timothy Shay, aged forty, Staunton, Va. J. T. O'Shea, aged twenty-one, Cumberland, Md. The latter was fireman of the freight train and the others laborers. WOUNDED. The wounded are as follows: James Smith, laborer, scalp wound. Samuel Clay, engineer of the camp train, right arm broken. William McNulty, laborer, Philadelphia, right ankle fractured. Daniel Albright, laborer, Ursina, Pa., leg broken. W. J. Borna, clerk, right arm broken. Thomas McCabe, laborer, both arms broken. Four Swedes, whose names are unknown, were also injured, but not dangerously. The injured were sent to the West Pennsylvania Hospital at Pittsburgh, and the dead were brought to Connellsville for burial. Coroner Britton arrived at the scene of the wreck in the afternoon, and held an inquest. The testimony showed that the train dispatcher, Gilbert Lewis, had ordered the engineer of the camp train to run wild to Ohio Pyle, a distance of eighteen miles; that before the train was out of sight he remembered that the second section of No. 80, coming west, had not passed. He made an effort to stop one train or the other, but did not succeed. On account of a sharp curve where the trains collided, the engineers thinking that the track was clear, could not be held responsible. At ten o'clock time came to their death that the wreck was caused by the carelessness of Gilbert Lewis. District Attorney Cochran attended the inquest, but has not yet determined whether to prosecute Lewis or not.

FOREIGN NEWS. England. BIRMINGHAM, May 15.—The authorities, professing to have received information of a plot on foot among Fenians to rescue the dynamites, Daily, Egan and McDonnell, have quartered a detachment of soldiers in the jail. LONDON, May 15.—American Railway shares are being bought on the Stock Exchange as rapidly as offered at figures above New York closing quotations of last evening. There has been a slight advance in prices since the opening with a continued upward tendency. A hopeful feeling prevails. Large buying orders have been received from Americans in Europe tending to greatly sustain the confidence generally felt in American railways. Judge Phillips Reported Shot. HILLSBORO, ILL., May 15.—Great excitement was caused here to-day by the report that Judge Phillips, candidate for Congress from this district, had been shot at Ellingham by his opponent, John R. Eden. Later reports indicate that there is probably nothing in the rumor. A Foolish Butcher. BOONVILLE, MO., May 15.—George Smith, a German butcher of this place, while killing hogs last evening, put his pistol in his hip pocket, cocked, with the barrel up, and when putting his hand in his pocket soon after, it went off, shooting him through the arm, which will have to be amputated. Burglary—Insane. INDEPENDENCE, MO., May 15.—The residence of James K. Parr, Blue Springs, was burglarized last night. Parr had a fight with the burglar, but he escaped with his plunder. Wm. Gill, the man who shot John Stanley at Blue Springs last week, was adjudged insane this morning by the County Court. Death in a Coal Mine. STAUNTON, ILL., May 15.—Last evening while P. M. Miller, aged twenty, was working in mine No. 7 of the Elsworth Coal Company, a large mass of slate fell, breaking his neck and killing him instantly. John Palmer on the Stump. HILLSBORO, ILL., May 15.—Ex-Governor John M. Palmer will lecture in the Court-house this evening under the auspices of the Young Men's Democratic Club, upon the political issues of the day. TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES. Thirteen thousand head of cattle were sold at Dallas in one bunch for $35,000.
