Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, October 20, 1884. The Ohio election has quite monopolized the attention of everybody in Washington the past week.

Much disappointment is evinced in Republican circles at their fallen majority. In fact the Republican plurality claimed on Wednesday diminished so rapidly that the much boasted victory in Ohio turns out to be in reality a defeat.

Pension Commissioner Dudley, by the way, found some difficulty in getting the expense accounts of the pension office agents whom he had ordered to Ohio, approved on his return to Washington.

The pyramidal capstone of the Washington monument is completed and is an object of great curiosity to multitudes of people. The pinnacle of the marble is cut away to allow a copper apex to set into the stone...
