

GLOBE EXTENDS GLAD HAND TO LOS ANGELES VISITORS

noon. Secretary Rohrabacher entertained the visitors with good natured repartee and kept them together until train time and the visitors, accompanied by a good sized local delegation, boarded the train in good spirits.

Miami Inspected
At Miami the visitors were shown the plant of the Miami Copper company, which, when completed, will be one of the big concentrators of the district. Miami was also inspected by the visitors, Seymour Swartz, manager of the Great Western Smelting & Refining company, purchasing two lots in the business district.

Owing to the fact that the special was delayed in leaving for Miami, the proposed inspection of the Old Dominion workings was eliminated from the program, owing to lack of time. On the return to Globe, luncheon was served to both the ladies and gentlemen of the party.

At the Saguro club, the gentlemen were entertained for one hour at luncheon. While no addresses were given, many of the excursionists as well as members of the Globe chamber of commerce, entertained with stories and impromptu talks, which added much to the enjoyment of the affair.

In the meantime, the ladies of the party were entertained at the Dominion hotel, where a tasty luncheon was served.

After the luncheon, the visitors spent an hour in enjoying themselves as they saw fit. Many of the local merchants and business men and renewed old acquaintances or established new business friendships. Others spent their time at the hotel, conversing with the people of this city who were assembled there and enjoying an open air concert given by the Globe City band.

Four o'clock, the scheduled time for departure, came all too soon. The visitors would have enjoyed a much longer visit if the itinerary would have permitted a stay of longer duration. It was the intention of quite a number of the visitors to remain here until morning and join the excursion at Bowie, but as it was found that the railroad schedule would not permit of the consummation of this plan, it was abandoned.

Big Crowd Speeds Parting
The station grounds were crowded with people of this city when the special train took its departure. Many rousing cheers were given by both the visitors and the local hosts. The best of feeling prevailed and it was not until the special had passed out of sight that the crowd dispersed.

When it was all over, a great sigh seemed to sweep over the city. Not a sigh of resignation, but a sigh of satisfaction, for the people of Globe realized that the Los Angeles delegation had been met and entertained in a way that would have a lasting effect upon the business relations between Los Angeles and the Globe district.

Secretary Frank Wiggins of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce and incidentally one of the biggest boosters for southern California in existence, was more than pleased with what he saw here.

"Globe is a remarkable city," he said to the Silver Belt after the city and the district had been inspected. "It is made up of men of the sort who make any city progressive and just this class of people will make Globe one of the really important cities of the territory within the next few years. Throughout the city I can see ample evidences of recent growth and from the resources of the district as I have found them today, this growth will continue in the future. Globe is so far ahead of the expectations of the people who have visited it today that I am sure it has made an excellent impression on every member of the party, as it has upon myself personally. The hospitality which has been displayed here today is far beyond our expectations and I am sorry that our visit could not have been prolonged. Those who have made the trip to this city have been well repaid and I am sure that there is not a member of the party who has not benefited by the trip to Globe."

Itinerary from Here
Owing to the fact that Wednesday's delay prevented Bisbee and Douglas being visited, the itinerary for the remainder of the trip has been altered, in order that these two cities may not be slighted. Safford and Wilcox were visited yesterday afternoon and last night and today Douglas, Bisbee and Benson will be visited. The special will arrive at Phoenix tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock and after a stay of twelve hours in this city, the trip will be carried out according to the original schedule.

Yesterday's visit of the Los Angeles delegation has been a big advertisement for Globe and the Globe district. That Globe was visited at all and that the originally scheduled visit of four hours was extended to six is due to the chamber of commerce of this city. Secretary Rohrabacher is receiving well deserved praise for the excellent work which he carried out to secure the visit of the Los Angeles delegation and in engineering the entertainment of the city's guests in a way that carried the entire program through with scarcely a hitch. Mr. Rohrabacher's work is appreciated by the people of this city. That it was appreciated by the visitors was manifest by the rousing cheers given for his benefit at the close of the entertainment, yesterday afternoon.

The entire membership of the chamber of commerce, which assisted in the work of arranging the entertainment and the business men of Globe, both members and non members of the chamber who gave financial aid to the entertainment, merit and are receiving from the people of this city a vote of thanks. To the automobile owners, the ladies of the entertainment committee and last, but not least, the members of the Globe City band, credit is also due.

Globe saw an opportunity to cement business relations between this district and Los Angeles, by entertaining the business men of the Angel city. That Globe carried out her part of the work to the best of her ability cannot be gainsaid, neither can it be said that one penny of the money expended for this entertainment will be lost. It was one grand joyous day for Globe, a day that will long be remembered, both by the people of Globe and by those residents of Los Angeles who were fortunate enough to be present.

How the Ladies of Los Angeles Spent the Day

Judging from the expressions of pleasure of the visiting ladies from Los Angeles, their stay in this city yesterday was one of delight from the first to the last moment.

A committee of ladies received the fair visitors upon their arrival in Globe and after greetings had been exchanged and a cordial welcome extended, they were escorted to the waiting automobiles in which they were taken to the chamber of commerce rooms and from there in the parade along Broad street.

After the parade the ladies attended the general meeting of the chamber of commerce and afterwards made the trip to Miami with the gentlemen. Returning to this city at 2 o'clock the ladies were escorted to the Dominion hotel where they were entertained at luncheon.

Tables were arranged in T shape and at the intersection a mound of richly colored specimens of ore had been formed. This was surmounted by a mass of white and lavender blossoms, of varieties growing wild upon the hills, and the summit was formed of violets.

The favors were unique, being little trays made of the copper matte in the form of hearts, and filled with dainty confections. A souvenir spoon of Globe made of refined copper was also presented to each guest.

The luncheon was quite elaborate, including the full number of courses, and it was remarkable for the entire absence of formality and the spirit of evident friendship existing between the ladies of the sister commonwealths.

Mrs. C. T. Sturgeon presided as toastmistress and her opening remarks were very appropriate. She then called upon Mrs. Frederick S. Nave who delivered a brief address of welcome. Mrs. Nave's remarks were so witty and well chosen that if any restraint had previously existed it immediately vanished.

Mrs. Franklin P. Towle then proposed a toast "To Our Guests." Although brief, it carried with it a cordial welcome that served to strengthen the bond of good fellowship.

Mrs. A. F. Maisch, when summoned by the toastmistress, responded with a beautiful tribute to friendship.

Mrs. F. Wiggins, one of the visiting ladies, gave a toast to Arizona in which she dwelt upon the impressions received during the trip. She declared that the ladies were delighted with everything that the glorious atmosphere had given them all a feeling of exhilaration which was made even greater by the warmth and hospitality with which they had been entertained. They had all wished to come but the actual pleasures of the trip had proven far greater than the anticipations. She also spoke of the pleasure of their visit to Miami and, in concluding, called upon Mrs. William Mead who read the following beautiful quotation by Dr. Lindley of Los Angeles:

To Arizona, Our Sister State

"California and Arizona are bound together by ribbons of steel, rivers of water, intimate community of interests and indissoluble ties of friendship. With similar systems of irrigation, with united mining interests of the greatest wealth, both populated by people who love the soothing of the mountain pine and the fascinating tang of the air of the mysterious desert, shoulder to shoulder we face the world together. We love the people of Arizona. There is nothing mean, narrow or little about them. The Colorado river does not separate us, it simply cements us together. God bless our sweet sister Arizona, she was first kissed by the sun, but now loved by us all."

Mrs. M. Hutchinson then gave a toast "To the Ladies" into which she introduced some clever paraphrasing. Her words were a warm tribute to the ladies of Arizona and especially of Globe.

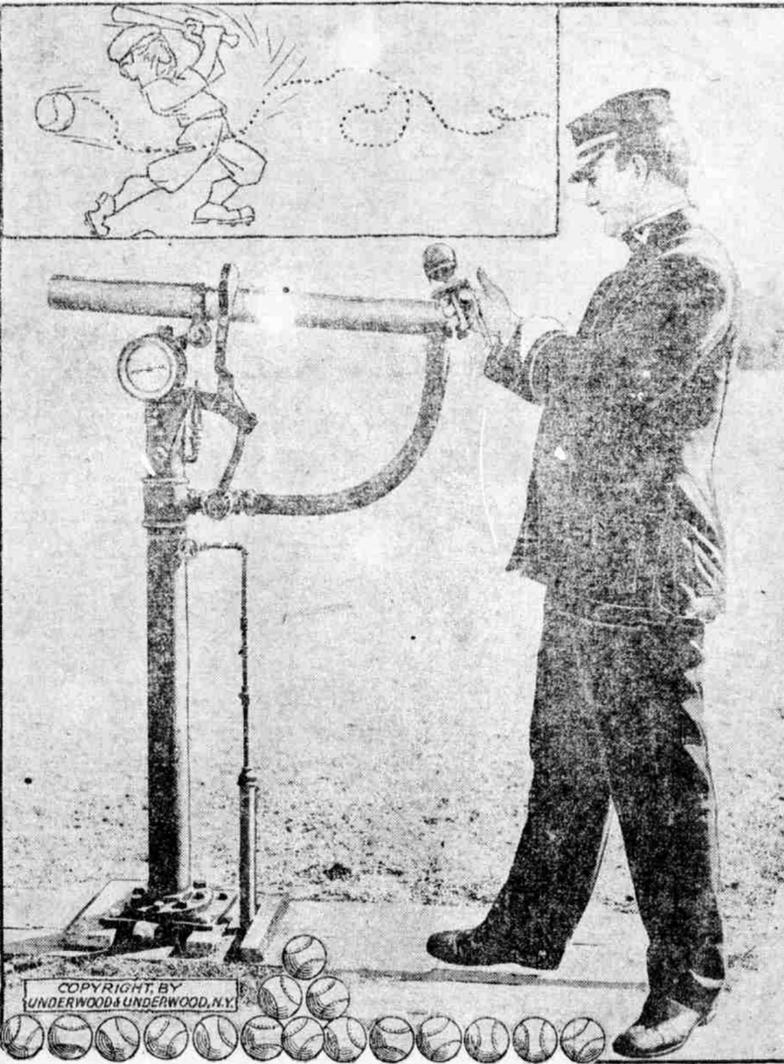

Mrs. F. L. Toombs arose with a toast "To Our Country and Our Flag," and just as the glasses of delicious fruit punch were being raised in response the band just outside began playing "Yankee Doodle." The coincidence was quite remarkable and greatly enhanced the effect of her patriotic words.

Several other toasts were on the list, among them "To St. Patrick's Day," by Mrs. M. E. McCarthy, but the time had passed all too quickly and they had to be omitted.

Before leaving the table, each visitor was presented with a bunch of violets for sweet remembrance.

The Los Angeles visitors were: Mrs. F. Wiggins, Mrs. M. Hutchinson, Mrs. Wm. Mead, Mrs. F. A. Brown, Mrs. Wm. D. Fisk, Mrs. J. S. Cook, Mrs. J. W. Bandhauer, Mrs. J. H. Marchand, Mrs. J. J. Keegan, Mrs. P. P. Greer, Mrs. C. Little, Mrs. R. C. Rohrabacher, Mrs. J. S. Miles and Mrs. M. L. Naquin.

"Baseball Gun," Intended to Take Place Of Human Pitcher, With Its Inventor.

This is the first picture made of the new "baseball gun" and its inventor, P. H. Lake, a warrant officer in the United States navy. The photograph was taken at Annapolis while Mr. Lake was demonstrating the use of his invention. It is intended to take the place of the baseball pitcher. With it the ball is propelled by compressed air at a speed equal to that of the speediest of pitchers. By means of a strap of variable length fixed at the breech end the degree of the curve, which may be as much as eight feet, is accurately determined. The gun is mounted on a swivel and can be pointed at any angle, vertical or horizontal.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY CELEBRATED QUIETLY BY LOCAL IRISHMEN

Marked with little in the way of an observance other than by the "Wearing of the Green." St. Patrick's day was quietly observed in this city yesterday.

The sons of Old Erin were out in force, proud of the shamrock or the green ribbon which they wore. Of course some of the more fastidiously inclined appeared with green ties or even green sox, but the majority were content with a simple emblem of the Emerald Isle.

Harry Earle, who drove in the chamber of commerce parade, made up to represent St. Patrick, made a big hit with those who wore the green. The show windows about town carried out the St. Patrick's day colors generally in decorations.

At Dreamland last night, the annual St. Patrick's day ball by the Knights of Columbus marked the only celebration of the occasion. This affair was attended by a crowd that taxed the floor of the auditorium almost to its capacity and was one of the most successful social affairs of the season.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS BALL
The ball given at Dreamland last evening by the Knights of Columbus was a brilliant success, greater than had been predicted by the most sanguine. The attendance was the largest since the Elks' ball, and many exquisite gowns were in evidence.

The decorations were very attractive and gave to Dreamland a very festive appearance. Flags formed the chief decorations, the Stars and Stripes alternating with Erin's emerald banner with its golden harp. Green bunting was also very effectively used. The orchestra was stationed in the center of the room, where a pretty booth had been constructed for that purpose. Here too the flags and bunting were lavishly used.

The music was excellent, being furnished by Vincent's orchestra. The programs were very artistic, bearing an embossed design of the two flags and a globe surrounded by a gold rope. There were eighteen numbers and at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and will be open to the public.

The services of the Globe city band have been secured for the occasion. A street parade, in which automobiles will carry the fair friends and relatives of the local Elks will be the first feature of the celebration. At the site of the new building, a ritualistic ceremony will be carried out, the main oration being made by Frank Stewart, of Phoenix. Music, both vocal and by the Globe band, will also be furnished.

The cornerstone, which has already been prepared, will contain a brief history of the lodge, the constitution and bylaws of the order and the membership list of the local lodge, as well as copies of the daily papers and possibly other documents.

A platform from which the exercises will be held, will be constructed tomorrow at the site of the new building. The program has been carefully prepared throughout and it should be carried out without a hitch.

A large class of candidates is to be initiated into the lodge at tonight's session and with Mr. Winsor present, this meeting promises to be one of importance.
