Miss Grisem has been the guest of Mrs. Jas. S. Johnston this week. A big crowd from this parish went down to Natchez on Monday to attend "Madam Butterfly."

Judge S. L. Elam and Hon. Jno. S. Boatner, Jr., of Vidalia, were in attendance on Court this week. Miss Amalia Steen left this week for New Orleans, where she, will remain for the Carnival festivities, and will leave soon after for New York where she will attend the Comstock School until spring.

Mr. J. G. Rucker was a visite to St. Joseph on Friday and was accompanied home by his little niece, Miss Wealthy Clarke, who will be the guest of her little cousins at a party to be given at "Bombay." Mrs. D. F. Ashford, who has been so ill for some time, was taken to Natchez on the Cordill Friday night, where she will enter a sanitarium. Her friends sincerely trust she will be fully restored to her former health.

Mrs. Appleton Bonds Ratcliff entertained most delightfully at euchre on Thursday evening, which was attended by quite a coterie of ladies of town. The first prize, a handsome pair of guest towels, was won by Mrs. R. H. Whitney, and the guest prize, two beautifully em-broidered handkerchiefs, was awarded to Mrs. John S. Boatner. The games were followed by delicious refreshments.

nounced of Mr. Joseph Levy of St. Joseph and Miss Moore, daughter of Judge I. D. Moore, a prominent attorney and jurist of New Orleans. The date for the wedding has not been set. Mr. Levy is a prominent young merchant and business man of St. Joseph and has hosts of friends, who will extend him heartiest congratulations and best wishes on the forthcoming event.

Judge John S. Boatner came up from Vidalia on Monday and convened the regular civil term of Court. The Judge is but recently up from a severe spell of pneumonia. His friends were all delighted to see him again and fervently hope his health will soon be fully restored. The Judge was accompanied by Mrs. Boatner, who Joseph, and received marked attention in our social circles.

It will be greatly pleasing to the many friends of Miss Mary Bell Murdock and Miss Katie Smith, who have been attending the State Normal at Natchitoches, to know that these young ladies graduated with honor at that institution this week and were presented with their diplomas by Prest. Roy. Miss Murdock has accepted a position as teacher of art and music at Dodson, in Wynn parish, and leaves to-day to assume her duties. Miss Smith SUBSCRIBE TO THE GAZETTE will probably return home next week. In common with their many friends the Gazette extends these young ladies heartiest congratula-

The Gazette is in receipt of a copy of the program for a musical to be given to-night by the Girls' Glee Club of the Louisiana State Normal, at Natchitoches, when "King Rene's Daughter" will be rendered. The director of the music department of the Normal, Prof. H. W. Stopher, assisted by Miss Anna Maude Van Hoose, of the faculty, has taken unusual pains in the preparation of this class, and no doubt those who will be so fortunate as to attend the recital will have a treat in store. The program contains the likenesses of the several members of the club, and among the second sopranas we notice one of St. Joseph representatives, Miss Almeda Van Hoose, as well as Miss Genevieve Smitha of Tallulub, who has many friends in this her former home. We are satisfied these young ladies are quite the peer of any of their class in point of talent, while we are certain they are so in appearance.
