

THE PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD EXCURSION STARTS TOMORROW

Complete Program of Exercises of the Unique Religious Conclave on Salt Water.

Tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock the Presbyterian synod starts on its excursion to Alaska. The City of Seattle has been chartered for the trip, and her accommodation will be crowded to the limit. Two hundred and twenty-five passengers have been booked, and over 150 more have been refused passage. Had the management anticipated such a large demand for tickets, another steamer would have been engaged to accompany the City of Seattle. Even then both would have been filled. Rev. A. L. Hutchinson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, has the arrangements in charge.

The Presbyterian synod of Washington has an eye to business as well as pleasure, and so the annual session of the synod will be held aboard the City of Seattle during the trip. The following is the program, as far as can be arranged beforehand:

TANNER TALKS ON POLITICS

Gov. John R. Tanner, of Illinois, who arrived in the city last evening, predicts that President McKinley will have a majority in that state in 1900 of from 100,000 to 150,000.

Mrs. Tanner, J. F. Peters, secretary of the state board of charities of Illinois and wife, and Dr. C. P. Winslow, surgeon-in-charge, of the insane hospital at Jacksonville, Ill., accompanied Gov. Tanner. The party left today for Victoria, but will return to Seattle about the end of the week. Gov. Tanner, in an interview, said that he had visited California, Colorado and Oregon, but could find no greater state than Washington.

Speaking of the political outlook in the East, he said that the people of Illinois would not again commit the folly of voting the Republican party out of office. In reference to the situation in the Philippines, he said: "The islands fell in our lap as a fortune of war, and we must give them a proper government, similar to that now enjoyed in Cuba."

A BULLET KILLS THROUGH A DOOR

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 2.—Mrs. Clara A. Wolff was killed this morning by a bullet fired at her through a door by W. E. Cole, a bartender, at her home at Cottage Grove avenue. Cole called at the Wolff residence to see Miss Jessie Gordon, but Mrs. Wolff denied him admittance and closed the door in his face. Cole drew a revolver and shot through the door, the bullet striking Mrs. Wolff in the groin, killing her almost instantly. Cole was captured after an exciting chase by the police, who were obliged to fire several shots at the escaping man.

NOW RUNNING EMPTY CARS

Boycott on Cleveland Street Railroads.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 2.—The city remains quiet, and the dismissal of the troops is being gradually effected. The strike has settled down into a sort of siege. The street car company is running empty cars, while the strikers are being supported by the unions. The boycott is effective and few dare to brave it.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Seattle and vicinity.—Tonight and Thursday, fair, warmer; northerly winds.

The coast "high" has continued to advance slowly to the northward, and is now central over northwest Washington, while the "low" is over California and Nevada. Such a distribution of pressure favors fair and warmer weather in the vicinity of Seattle.

Copious rain has fallen in Montana and a thunderstorm, with rain to the amount of 0.81 of an inch has occurred at Spokane. From Portland to the southward, the temperature has fallen.

LUMBER TRADE GROWS BRISK

Victor H. Beckman, who is considered the leading expert on the lumber and shingle industry of Washington, has many words of good cheer for the lumberman, and tells those that are incidentally of interest and benefit to everybody in the state, and in particular to Seattle, which is the center of Washington's lumber industry.

"The lumber and shingle market is now the best we have had since the panic. Foreign shipments of lumber are on the increase, and the demand from the East is very good. We are shipping on an average of about 1,500 carloads of lumber, and very close to 2,500 carloads of shingles to the East every month. All the mills in both the Gray's harbor and Puget sound countries are running as much overtime as possible, and are only checked by the scarcity of labor."

"Prices are very fair, and conditions all along the coast are favorable. California is taking more lumber than ever before, and has become Seattle's best market. That state takes from Washington 250,000,000 feet of lumber annually, while foreign shipments demand 15,000,000 feet more."

"The Shingle Men's association has accomplished good results. The membership now includes 90 per cent. of the mills of the state, which number 260 enterprises."

"The demand for logs is quite heavy, there being very few now in the water, and prices are daily becoming stiffer. Quite a number of people are here from the East prospecting for mill sites, and it is expected that the good trade will continue four or five years. If the Nicaragua canal is built in the meantime, it will open a market that will make the prosperity of the lumber man continue indefinitely."

A MUSICAL TREAT.

Those who attended the song recital given by Dr. R. A. Heritage last night at the First Methodist church, enjoyed a rare treat. Dr. Heritage is president of the Spokane Musical college. He was assisted that night by Mr. E. Boyd Wells, of this city, a rich mellow concert bass voice, over which he has perfect control. The numbers of the program last night were descriptive, and the rendering by Dr. Heritage was excellent. The program was as follows: Bizet's "Carmen," Verdi's "The Muletier," Schubert's "The Erl King," Schubert's "Ship on Fire," Russell's "Watcher Grey," Bliss's "Mighty Deep," Jude's "The Little Woman," Samson's "Honor and Arms," Handel's "Thus Saith the Lord," Handel's "Thus Saith the Lord."

BIG SALMON IS VERY RICH

According to the Klondike Miner, the big salmon strike on Catonsville creek is proving very rich. Nuggets from $22 to $24 have been taken out, and the pay dirt which is in pockets, is exceptionally good. The claims are all staked, and new territory must be prospected. A good trail has been opened from a point about 16 miles up the Hootalinqua, and it is easily followed all the way through.

OUR TRADE WITH HAWAII

Fred Lee, manager of C. Sidney Shepard & Co., of the city, has just returned from a visit to Honolulu. He said to a Star reporter today: "The purpose of my visit there was to establish trade relations, and the prospects seem very good. As soon as the people of Hawaii find that a permanent steamship line is established between the islands and this port, we will have no trouble in introducing our goods there. There has been some talk that we will have to look to Hilo, figuring that San Francisco has a monopoly on the trade of Honolulu. This is not true. The people at Honolulu look very favorably on Seattle. I want to impress our people here that we must guarantee a permanent steamship line, and then we can bank on the profits coming in quick order."

Asked as to the volcanic disturbances, Mr. Lee said: "That is only a boom of the hotel and transportation companies. The mountain is only a small one, the crater being about 500 feet in diameter. There have been no earthquake shocks, and none are expected. The volcano is located about 60 miles from Hilo, and 40 miles from the sea, and is in a part of the island where it is likely to do little harm."

HE SOLD BEER TO A MINOR

Morris Koester, proprietor of the Oak Leaf saloon on Third avenue between Cherry and James street, was arrested by Officer Iversen this morning for selling liquor to Albert Formen, a boy 14 years of age. The boy has been in the habit of going to Koester's place of business and buying beer for his employer. Since Chief Reed ordered the police officers to arrest all saloon keepers selling liquor to minors, Iversen has kept a close watch on the Third avenue saloon.

Several days ago Koester was caught selling beer to Formen, and he was given notice not to violate the order again. He still persisted, and his arrest was ordered. Koester was brought before Judge Cann, and his case was set for tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock. His bail was placed at $50.

THE VERY LATEST CONFIDENCE GAME

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Aug. 2.—One of the latest "con" games being successfully carried on has been worked on Root Wagner, a very wealthy farmer. A well-dressed man of clerical appearance called at Wagner's home, asking for lodging for the night, and creating a favorable impression, was given permission. Just before the family retired a would-be groom and bride stopped and inquired for the nearest minister, as they wished to get married.

"Clergyman" volunteered his services, and a marriage certificate was made out with Mr. Wagner as a witness. Day before yesterday a promissory note for $60 turned up showing Wagner's signature. Reports show that the three farmers have worked their game in Northern Indiana, in which the would-be groom concealed the promissory note inside the certificate, and with a slight twist of the wrist substituted the bottom of the note for the certificate.

FEAR UPRISING OF THE UTES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Reports received at the war department and the Indian office indicate that there is danger of trouble with the White river Utes. It is said the band, numbering several hundreds, has not been permitted to enter the old reservation in Colorado since the Meeker massacre. The Utes have served notice that they propose to return to their old hunting grounds, leaving the Uintah reservation in Utah at the full of the moon.

There are no soldiers in the immediate neighborhood of the Utes' camp to assist in controlling the Indians, and fear is expressed that the Utes may succeed in stirring up other Utes and causing a general uprising. It is not known what action the interior and war departments intend to take. The Indians claim to be exercising a privilege guaranteed them to return to the old reservation during the hunting season.

TRAGIC RESULT OF ELOPEMENT

CAMDEN, Mich., Aug. 2.—An elopement, that has been covered from the public gaze for some time is now given publicity and proves to be a mystery. Easter day, Harry, the only son of Ephraim Kinsel, an extensive wool buyer of Bridgewater, O., and Florence, daughter of Wm. Osborne, a prominent farmer in the same vicinity, left the Osborne residence ostensibly for a short drive. Little anxiety was expressed when the young people failed to return at bed time and the family retired. Consternation prevailed at the Osborne residence next morning, however, when it was found that the pair had not put in an appearance. A quiet but fruitless search was started, and the interested families continued to hush the matter up and to await developments. Weeks and months flew by with no word of sign from the runaway couple. The disappearance preyed on the mind of Mr. Kinsel and finally deranged his mental faculties. Prostrated with grief over the double affliction Mrs. Kinsel's life is despaired of. Mr. and Mrs. Osborne are heartbroken.

He lost all the money he had by following up a number of schemes to get rich. Once he planned to make a fortune by raising Christmas trees, then he saw wealth in perminon culture, and tried a duck farm. He was an enthusiastic horseman, and had his own views as to how a horse should be trained.
