(By Scripps News Ass'n.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 10 .-President Roosevelt today appointed Robert J. Wynne postmaster general

Wynne is one of the strong figres in Washington efficial life. He was a veteran Washington correspondent and served a term as presdent of the Gridiron club.

Some years ago he was appointed to a place in the treasury depart-ment, but he soon returned to the ranks of the newspaper men. President Roosevelt appointed him first assistant postmaster general, and Wynne has proved to be a fearless and vigorous official. He was chief-ly responsible for the uncovering of postoffice department frauds and the prosecution of the offend-

RESURRECT THE REAL NEGRO, his start. An amateur minstrel still in the business; for burnt cork the plantation negro, who sings plantation songs, the sweetest songs ever written, full of melody and it. He did a clog and show was given in his home town, has its charm for him who has been long associated with it.

Sanford," said Dockstader, speaking guaint harmony.

"The change is so radical that for years I have hesitated to make it. The germ has been bothering me ever since 1884, and I'll tell you how the germ was born.

"In that year I was showing in New York. I gave a series of what I called 'singing weeks,' the songs of all nations. We sang songs of so much money he thought he sange of so much money he sange of so much money he sange of so much money he sange of old-timers. "He is 75 years old. At the beginning of every season I get a letter from the old man ASKING FOR AN ENGAGEMENT. He swears he is as good as ever. His son owns a show or two, and won't let the old man go back into the harness. It makes Sam very bitter."
