FINE CARD FOR S. A. C. SMOKER

FRANK DUNCAN

Five boxing events and two wrestling numbers comprise the program for the Seattle Athletic club smoker tonight, including the fastest amateur talent of the local club and the Victoria A. C. Victoria will send three boxers and two wrestlers to meet the local stars. The complete card follows:

Boxing

Floyd Lyons, S. A. C., versus Davis, Victoria, 112 pounds.
Buster O'Neil, S. A. C., versus Urquhart, Victoria, 125 pounds.
Cal Harris, S. A. C., versus Harry Wheeler, Victoria, 145 pounds.
Clarence Dixon, S. A. C., versus Bert Graham, S. A. C., 125 pounds.
Hugh Perkins, S. A. C., versus Chet Anderson, S. A. C., 158 pounds.

Wrestling

Frank Duncan, S. A. C., versus Canady, Victoria, 135 pounds.
Lloyd Wray, S. A. C., versus Middleton, Victoria, 158 pounds.

Charlie Hulen will referee the boxing bouts, and Oscar Marbet the wrestling matches. The athletes on the program include the best talent each club can produce. Davis is P. N. A. champion, at 112 pounds; Cal Harris is considered the best amateur 145-pounder in the Northwest, and Frank Duncan is 135-pound wrestling champion. The other boys are all close to championship class.

The two bouts between local boxers will be as keenly contested as the inter-club matches, for Dixon and Graham are a well-matched pair of youngsters, while Perkins will try hard to wrest middleweight honors from Chet Anderson, although he will have to give four or five pounds in weight to the more experienced boxer. The smoker promises to be the best of the season.

SNODGRASS AT HOME

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—Fred Snodgrass, the New York Giant outfielder whose error in the tenth inning of the deciding game cost him $1,500 and helped Boston to win the world's championship, is back in Los Angeles today. He expects to play winter baseball in Southern California. Art Shafer accompanied Snodgrass from New York. Charles Hall, Boston pitcher, is expected at his home in Ventura in a few days.

WHIFFS from the SPORT PIPE

By Kaybee Smith

Wisconsin coaches declared there was not a cripple on the squad last week. Can it be that this progressive stuff has got hold of the football coaches, too?

* * * * *

My idea of nothing at all—Being the sporting editor of the Christian Science Monitor.

* * * * *

As for baseball, it dies hard, but in another week, with the Coast league season finished, oxygen and saline solutions won't stir the fluttering pulse to life.

* * * * *

Johnny Coulon has picked so many soft ones that he expected to box Kid Williams under wraps. He did, and nearly went out under them.

* * * * *

My remarks about the late W. H. Lucas have stirred up a word or two of protest, all in most respectful tones, because the former Northwestern league president has passed before the judgment of the Great Umpire. Baseball fellows differ as to what Lucas did for the game in the Northwest. Some say he did little but draw salary and dictate.

* * * * *

Mr. "A. B. S." to the contrary notwithstanding, I have watched baseball hereabouts since 1901, and I stick to the statement that Lucas helped much in developing the game. He was handicapped by a lack of paying ball towns. The article on page 2 today, by a bush league president, gives a few ideas of what he had to struggle with. Also, he had a firmness of decision which made him many enemies. But even through the trying days of the Coast league war, and afterward, when the National Association gave the Coast league every demand, at the cost of the faithful Northwestern league, Lucas helped hold together a nucleus from which the present strong organization has grown.

* * * * *

Lucas was not an ideal official. But the men who knew him best, and whose success lay partly in his hands, the team owners, elected him again and again to head the league, and felt that he was doing very good work under difficult conditions.

* * * * *

Eric Lemming, the world's champion javelin thrower, with a record of 204 feet 6 inches, must look to his laurels when the National league magnates start throwing the harpoon into Horace Fogel.

* * * * *

Principal Luther of the Queen Anne high school wants his football boys to catch the 5 o'clock train for home after playing Aberdeen on Saturday. Does he think the boys, or Aberdeen, would suffer if they stayed all night?

* * * * *

This is one time when the Big Smoke is retiring without his consent, and, believe us, there'll be no come-back.

Chance has been canned, and Bresnahan ended the same way, and we are now awaiting some more rare discretion by other big league magnates.

PICK VERNON FOR WINNER

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—Vernon will win the 1912 Coast league pennant, according to Walter McCredie, manager of the Portland club, which is pitted against Hogan's Tigers this week.

"Oakland hit the toboggan two weeks ago," said the Beaver manager. "They have no fight left in them. Vernon is playing 50 per cent better ball than any team in the league. We are doing our best to hold Hogan's men down; but baseball luck seems against us."

EAKINS TRAINS U. OF W. TO MEET IDAHO BACKS

BY R. C. WRIGHT

Preparatory to the game with Idaho next Saturday, the University of Washington football team spent Wednesday afternoon in perfecting the defense. The assistant coach, Maxwell Eakins, saw the Pullman-Idaho game, and the varsity is preparing to meet the heavy line bucks, in which Knudson, the Idaho fullback, is said to be proficient. Knudson is an experienced player, having been on the Coeur d'Alene high school eleven and for three years on the Idaho team.

Reports from Idaho say that Kinnison, right guard, and Phillips, right tackle, are both so expert in toeing the pigskin that Washington, which has no brilliant star in the kicking end of the game, will lose on an exchange of punts. Phillips is from Lewiston High and is a speedy youth who shines on the track as well as on the gridiron.

"The Idaho back field is fast and hard hitting. The ends are the best I have seen," said Maxwell Eakins last night. Yesterday a stiff scrimmage full steam was put on in the practice work on Denny field, while today, Coach Dobie says, there will be easier in order that the men may be in best condition for a championship struggle Saturday.

Idaho is being picked by many to win the Northwest championship on the gridiron this year.
