HOPE IMPLEMENT COMPANY, Hope, North Dakota

It is Time to Think About

Hail Insurance

and when you Think About It,

Think of the

Alliance Hail Association of North Dakota,
Jamestown, N. Dak.

It furnishes you insurance AT COST.

It has paid its losses in full for the past 15 years at an average cost to its members of 4% and it paid its losses last year at a cost of 3½%. They confine their business entirely to North Dakota, and are controlled by the Board of Directors elected from its own members. It is organized for your protection and not for anyones profit.

Does it pay to insure? Yes, statistics show there are ten losses in this state by hail to one by fire, and one crop lost will pay your insurance in the ALLIANCE for 25 years. Their terms are the same as heretofore and it cost you no more to make your application early than it does LATE. NO INTEREST ON YOUR NOTE. If you are not familiar with its terms call and see us at THE HOPE NATIONAL BANK.

Hope 3

Northwood 2

The Hope Ball tossers were awakened from their slumbers by their midget first sacker early Tuesday morning by the profusive use of cannon crackers.

When all the colts assembled they were packed in their rigs and journeyed via Blanchard to Northwood, where they were to meet the invincible Strand and his aggregation of sphere pursuers.

The local boys went up with the determination of getting revenge for their defeat of several days ago and they certainly got it.

"The How"

Hope went to bat first and as they were a little bashful declined offers to get on; Northwood sent their ex-leaguer catcher, one Mr. Kaasa, up to look over Mr. Hoar's slants and after looking quite hard three times he discovered the round thing in Pa Law's mitt. Peterson, the next man up, got his bat in the way of the ball and got second on the hit; the next two were easy outs.

The Hope boys were retired in the one, two and three order in the second inning.

Thordarson singled, took third on a wild pitch, Quamme struck out. Sagen rolled a slow one to third and Thordarson scored. The next went out in order.

In the third Burner's red legs failed to accomplish anything and Northwood likewise.

In the fourth Hughes landed on first, stole second and scored on Law's hit for two sacks.

Northwood was retired in order. Nothing stirred for either side in the fifth. The sixth opened by a hit by Milligan who was sacrificed to third and scored on a hit by Davis. From then on until the last of the ninth gilt edge ball was played. With Hope in the lead all looked well but Northwood came to bat and tied the score in a knot on an error and a hit. In the first of the tenth Manager Burner called his men together and gently informed them that if a run was not forth-coming they would have to walk back home. As the boys didn't feel like walking they went after one tally. The first two went out and it looked like walk, but Milligan whose pins are not very substantial for walking connected for a single. He stole second and dusted home while Hughes tore for first. Northwood came back strong in their half with men on third and second but could not score.
