"The saddest hour," sings a poet, "is just after sunset." Evidently he doesn't have to get up at 6:09 a. m in the winter time.

A Harvard professor has just discovered that women talk too much. However, a lot of old stuff has been worked off as new this year.

A Kansas man fed a mule three tablespoonfuls of tabasco sauce. We understand his widow is not blaming the mule for what happened.

Harvard astronomers have made a map of 1,500,000 stars. Yet the supply of shortstops and third basemen seems unequal to the demand.

The only baseball trust that requires investigation is the trust of the young man in the bleachers that his boss won't find out where he is.

The swain who is being sued for divorce because he has fifty-five affinities might as well find a couple more and make it fifty-seven varieties.

A minister's wife recently testified that she had thirty homes in eight years. With her life must have been just one moving van after another.

It costs one dollar, according to an expert, to raise a hen from infancy to the laying age, but the cost is greatly reduced if the neighbor has a garden.

A statistician tells us that this country imports 150,000 tons of chalk annually, but just how much of it is used by milkmen we are unable to learn.

The world's supply of oxygen is said to be growing less, probably because candidates are using more than their share of it to keep their presidential booms alive.

An American woman has won the distinction of being the first of her sex to pilot an aeroplane across the English channel. This leadership is in keeping with the record of her countrywomen.

A Harvard lecturer announces that women talk too much. It needs no lecturer, come from philosophic depths profound, to tell us that. What is nore, women will keep on talking to the end of the chapter, long after lecturers have ceased from troubling and the critics are no more.

nominated for the presidency, but declined to let their names stand. Under the rules of the convention. no nominating speeches were allowed.

Stand Against Violence.

Aside from the nominations, the only other business of the convention at the last session was the adoption of a section of the constitution which places the party as taking a decided stand against "violence as a weapon of the working classes." The session was the most heated of the convention and the section hours of debate, which many times ran into personalities.

The section was opposed by the "direct action" forces who have been espousing the cause of the Industrial Workers of the World and was favored by the so-called "yellow" or conservative faction in the party. Bernard Berlyn of Chicago, in speaking in favor of the section, denied he was "yellow," related his experiences in Colorado where he was sent into various sections which he said were "regarded as unhealthy" for socialists and concluded by saying: "I would go to hell if told to make a Socialist speech there." He said violence did not gain the working classes anything.

Blow at I. W. W.

Congressman Victor L. Berger of Milwaukee declared those who opposed the section belong with Emma Goldman and are trying to hide behind "political action."

"There is no bridge between socialism and anarchism," said Congressman Berger. "Those who stand for political action' are not for the bomb thrower and the dagger wielder. The trouble is, there are anarchists in the party whe are trying to hide under the guise of the I. W. W."

Stranded Submarine Intact. Atlantic City, May 20 .- The reve nue cutter Itasca and the collier Lebanen, sent to the aid of the stranded submarine Tuna all lying close to the little craft, ready to pull the Tuna into deep water at high tide. Minot. - A fire originating in the rubbish can in the rear of the postoffice in the Frank building, caused the loss of $38,500. The alarm was given out by a postoffice employee, who saw smoke coming through the floor. The fire department responded quickly and soon had six streams working though handicapped by the dense smoke which made it impossible to enter the building. A bursting hydrant put two streams out of commission. The total loss is estimated at $40,000.

Valley City .-- A funny stunt was pulled off in this city. There are three prisoners confined in the county jail, being held to the district court -one on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, and the other two charged with blind-pigging. The first mentioned is held under $1,000 bonds and he has been making strenuous efforts to get bail, but without success. However, his attorney appeared before the trial judge with a bond for $500, just half the amount, and requested the judge to accept it. The judge took it and, looking it over, discovered that the sureties were the two blind-piggers. The "bond" was refused and the attorney informed that the prisoner would not be released until a proper bond for the full amount was tendered.

Howell-I don't see why Tom Watson always has "of Boston" after his name.

Powell-Neither do I; it is no more necessary than it was in the case of John L. Sullivan.

HEALTH FOR THE CHILD.

The careful mother, watching closely the physical peculiarities of her children, soon learns that health is in. a great measure dependent upon normal, healthy, regular bowel action. When the bowels are inactive, loss of appetite, restlessness during sleep, irritability and a dozen and one similar evidences of physical disorder are soon. apparent.

Keep the bowels free and clear and. good health is assured. At the first. sign of constipation give the child a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at bed-time and repeat the dose the following night, if necessary. You will find the child will quickly recover its accustomed good spirits, and eat and sleep normally.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is far preferable to salts, cathartics and purgative waters which are harsh in their action. Syrup Pepsin acts on the bowels easily and naturally, yet positively, and causes no griping or discomfort. Its tonic properties build up the stomach, liver and bowels, restoring their normal condition.

Druggists everywhere sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in 50c and $1.00 bottles. If you have never tried this remedy, send for a sample to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 201 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. He will gladly send a trial bottle without any expense to you whatever.
