PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR INAUGURATION CEREMONY

Governor-elect Nestos Will Take Oath of Office on Wednesday, Nov. 23

Monday, Nov. 14th. The chairman of the state canvassing board having announced that the official count of the ballots will be completed Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 23rd, plans are now practically completed to have the inauguration take place in the House chambers immediately following the announcement of the vote. Secretary of State Thomas Hall will, as chairman of the canvassing board, officiate at the ceremonies. The oath of office will be administered by A. M. Christianson, Justice of the supreme court.

While the inaugural ceremonies will be complete in detail and carried on with becoming dignity the outstanding feature will be its simplicity. According to precedents and time-honored custom both the retiring and the new chief executive will be given a chance to deliver a message to the people of the state. The reason for the inaugural ceremonies given in the invitation issued to Governor Frazier in these words:

It has been a long established custom in our country and our state that whenever there is a change in the office of governor, both the retiring governor and the incoming governor should have an opportunity to speak publicly to the people of our state. "In harmony with this custom, arrangements have been made for an inaugural ceremony to be held as soon as the canvassing board is thru with its work on the 23rd of this month.

"Acordial invitation is extended to you to address a brief statement to the people of North Dakota in the House Chamber of the State Capitol immediately following the administering of the oath of office to the governor-elect."

The public is invited to attend and participate in the exercises and copies of the announcement have been mailed to state officials and members of the legislature.

The program is as follows:
America—By the Audience.
Invocation—Right Rev. Bishop Vincent Wehrle, O. S. B.

Administering oath of office and address—A. M. Christianson, Justice of Supreme Court.

Song—North Dakota Hymn—Gale Community Chorus.

Address—Gov. Lynn J. Frazier.
Address—Gov.-elect Regnold A. Nestos.

America the Beautiful—Gale Community Chorus.

Reception from 4:30 to 6 p. m., Governor's office.

MINERVAS ARE GUESTS AT ELABORATE PARTY

On the evening of Armistice Day, the Woodman hall was the scene of an elaborate party given in honor of the members of the Hope Minerva (young ladies) Club. The hosts of the evening were a group of young men who had previously been the guests of the Minervas at a Halloween party given at the Cassell home.

The hall was entirely transformed from its usual appearance by the decorations. Because of the day, Armistice Day, the decoration scheme was carried out with streamers of red, white and blue, together with a canopy of string confetti. At one end a canopy of blue dotted with stars and a big "Oscillating (no, not oscillating) Moon" added a finishing touch to the arrangements.

Three of the high school girls, Mildred Lathrop, Gertrude King and Zoe Bowen, costumed as "Maids of Honor" presided at the frappe and favor tables and served the luncheon.

The evening was spent in dancing special favor dances being the feature of this part of the entertainment. A delicious lunch was served during the evening. It is understood that the affair was one of the most successful ever given in Hope.

A simple, yet beautiful ceremony took place last Monday afternoon at three o'clock at the Lutheran church when Mr. Oliver G. Vierkandt and Miss Phoebe R. Eggert joined hands for life. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. H. L. Wiese in the presence of a small number of relatives and friends.

To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Mrs. Fred Steinke, Miss Ruby Eggert maid of honor, preceded the bride, dressed in a beautiful frock of white. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bride looked very charming in her gown of white satin with scalloped and beaded overskirt of georgette. She wore a veil of maline and carried bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The groom's attendant was the brother of the bride, Mr. Lloyd Eggert.

Following the ceremony a bounteous dinner was served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Carrie Eggert to about twenty guests, consisting of members of the immediate families.

The young couple is well known in this community and has the good wishes of their many relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Vierkandt will reside on a farm several miles east of Hope.

Wearily Willie slouched into the pawnshop.

"How much will you give me for this overcoat?" he asked, producing a faded but neatly mended garment.

Isaac looked at it critically. "Four dollars," he said.

"Wh!" cried Wearily Willie, "that coat's worth ten dollars if it's worth a penny!"

"I wouldn't give you ten dollars for two like that," sniffed Isaac. "Four dollars or nothing." "Are you sure that's all it's worth?" asked Wearily Willie. "Four dollars," repeated Isaac. "Well, hear's yer four dollars," said Wearily Willie. "This overcoat was hanging outside yer hoop, and I was wonderin' how much it was really worth."—Los Angeles Times.

EX-SERVICE MEN GIVEN OPPORTUNITY REINSTATE INSURANCE

Branch Established in Minneapolis for Convenience of Northwest Soldiers

Every person formerly identified with the military or naval service during the late war who has allowed his Government insurance to lapse for more than eighteen months may reinstate such insurance prior to January 1, 1922, by paying two months premiums on the amount of insurance he wishes to reinstate, providing he can pass the required physical examination.

Those who are unable to pass the examination on account of a disability received in or aggravated by military or naval service may reinstate their insurance by paying all premiums due from the date of lapse to the present time, together with interest at five per cent (5) per annum, compounded annually upon each premium from the date the said premium was due.

This means that if you were formerly identified with the service and intend to reinstate your insurance and can pass the physical examination, that you will have to attend to the matter immediately.

It also means that those who are unable to pass the required physical examination as stated above, will have to arrange to pay up their back premiums immediately if they intend to carry Government insurance. This is a matter of utmost importance and should be taken care of before the time set by the Treasury Department expires. The Government is equipped to handle this matter with the utmost expedition and any person interested and entitled to consideration, as stated above, should communicate with the United States Veterans' Bureau, District 10, Keith-Plaza Building, Minneapolis, Minn.

Term insurance, that is, war time insurance which is now in force, may be converted without medical examination to any of the following forms of insurance:

- 20 payment Life,
- 30 payment Life,
- 24 year Endowment,
- 30 year Endowment,
- Endowment at the age of 62.

Conversion into any one of these forms may be made at any time prior to March 4, 1926, but inasmuch as it is to the advantage of the insured to convert the insurance into one of the forms mentioned above, it should be done as soon as possible if the person circumstances will permit.

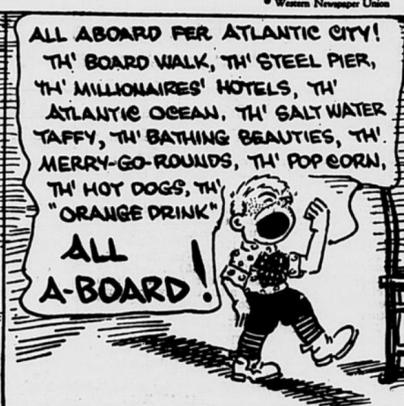

There is at the present time an insurance Cashier's Representative stationed in the District 10 office of the United States Veterans' Bureau, Minneapolis. Premiums may, therefore, be paid from this time on in person or by mail, to the above mentioned representative at the Keith-Plaza Building, 1100 Hennepin Ave., Minneapolis, Minn. It will be of advantage to every ex-service man or woman, who has or has kept up his or her insurance, to apply to the Veterans' Bureau, and investigate the benefits which are obtainable to those insured under the Government plan. If your insurance has lapsed do not fail to reinstate the same before January 1, 1922.

You are invited to the Thanksgiving Ball at the Hope opera house on November 24th.—Advertisement.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid will hold their Annual Fancy Work Sale and Supper in the basement of the church on Wednesday, Nov. 30.—Advertisement.
