WILMINGTON, DELAWARE.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1897.

CLEMENT H. CONGDON, PUBLISHER.

Entered at the Wilmington Post Office as Second Class Matter

BUSINESS OFFICE AND EDITORIAL ROOMS, No. 103 East Sixth Street.
LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE 1967.
MECHANICAL DEPARTMENT, No. 100 East Sixth Street.
PHILADELPHIA OFFICE, Room 3, No. 911 Walnut Street.

THE SUN is published every day in the year and is distributed throughout the City of Wilmington and the State of Delaware by authorized agents. Subscriptions should be sent to the publication office by mail or telephone.

GOOD morning!

LOOK out for pneumonia!

THE Cuban war is still not ended.

BUSINESS is reported on the mend.

THE advertiser shall have his reward.

THE Klondike has taken a back seat.

THE blasts of winter are nearly ready to be discharged.

SENOR CASTELAR, says Mr. Taylor is another, and General Sickles calls Senor Castelar a ditto.

THE man with the $80,000 bag of gold, who went to Hawaii to have a good time, must have been a hono-lulu.

THE unparalleled epidemic of murder and suicide exceeds anything of recent years and is not confined to America, but extends over the world.

NOW that the tramps' quarters in the City Hall are heated by steam, business will probably increase. There's nothing like modern improvements.

JUST why Philadelphia can't use some of that $12,500,000 loan to improve her gas works, instead of turning them over to a gas company, remains a mystery.

EMPEROR WILLIAM is reported to have been "amazed" at the extent of the damage done by the floods in Germany. William had better call Providence down for flooding things without his permission.

THE Secretary of the Navy, who knows a river when he sees it, will probably be here on the twenty-third of the month. Let him take a sounding line and throw it into the Christiana, and see how much margin the light-draught gunboat Wilmington has.

CY LELAND, of Kansas, Republican National Committeeman, is charged by a Populist with an attempt to bribe. The country should suspend judgment until it hears how much Mr. Leland is alleged to have offered the Pop. If it was over $2.75, then Cy must be guilty.

THE SUNDAY SUN showed enterprise in publishing a cut of the gunboat Wilmington as well as the cuts of some twenty-two well-known gentlemen connected with the presentation of the silver service to the gunboat on the 23d inst. Its enterprise is to be commended.—Republican.

THE DAILY SUN, of Wilmington, Del., made its first appearance October 25. It consists of four pages, six columns to the page, and sells for one cent a copy. C. H. Congdon, formerly of Philadelphia, is the publisher. It is edited by Frederick Gore, formerly city editor of the Wilmington Sunday Star.—The Newspaper Maker.

A MILK Trust is on the eve of organization to control the supply for New York City. The stated object of the Trust is to bring about such economies in the service as would enable the farmers to get more for their milk and the consumers to get it for less than they now pay for it. The New York Tribune asserts that a majority of the dealers in the city have given options to the Trust for the purchase of their business.

THE decision of Chancellor Nicholson in the matter of the sureties of ex-Tax Collector Dougherty makes it seem likely that recent laxity in the way of prosecuting the bondsmen of defaulting public officials was based upon a misconception of the law and the facts. Many persons who go upon these bonds do so under the apparent impression that their signing is a mere formality, having no particular business significance. Hereafter, they may be more apt to realize that signing a man's bond is a serious business matter which means that they are peculiarly willing to vouch for his honesty and business capacity.

THE colored gentleman who appeared before the meeting of the Board of Education on Monday and demanded "justice" in the way of the appointment of one of his daughters to the post of public school teacher, turned out upon inquiry to have three daughters already engaged in teaching the young idea how to shoot. One of these other daughters has resigned her position, to be sure, because her sister was not appointed; which, to say the least, doesn't seem to have been a very sensible way of getting satisfaction. The whole affair is rather peculiar, but it may be that the father of all these daughters knows a good thing when he sees it, and wants the Board to help him push it along.

AMONG the first matters to which the next legislature should turn its attention, is the substitution of some respectable system of minor judicial courts in place of the existing crude affairs presided over by magistrates and coroners. The system of magistrates' courts, in particular, needs complete alteration. Some of the justices are able men, some are honest, and some are capable. There are, however, constant scandals connected with the administration of justice in some one or the other of these courts. For instance, certain magistrates are apparently unaware that their functions are judicial, and act more as the attorneys of plaintiffs than as judges between parties. Several charges, equivalent to that of compounding misdemeanors have been made against incumbents, and, as a whole, the system, with its secret records, and other disadvantages, might be much improved.

Commerce and Finance.

Flour was dull, buyers holding off in view of the further decline in wheat, and prices were weak to sell. Spot Bran was quiet, with moderate offerings at former rates. Hay was not much wanted, and supplies were large, with holders anxious to sell on a basis of quotations. Straw was in ample supply for the moderate inquiry, and prices were unchanged. Provisions sold in a jolting way on a basis of quotations. Refined Sugars are in rather better demand and steady. Wheat opened weak and further declined on call. Cables were low and speculation was bearish in all domestic grains centers. Export demand continued light. Corn options showed no important change on call from last evening's rates, but there was no speculative trading. Export demand was fair, but bids were generally a little below a workable basis. Local car lots were quiet but steady, with moderate offerings. Oats, in car lots, were in moderate but ample supply at former rates. Cotton was quiet but steady.
