THE IDAHO NEWS.

BLACKFOOT, IDAHO, JULY 25, 1891.

OHIO will make a state compaign on national issues.

THE big crops in the West and the movement of Eastern money in this direction to handle them, ought to make money matters a little easier. It will do it.

IT is not good horse sense to lock the stables after the horse is stolen. There is no use printing the acts of our legislative body after they have been repealed by the next following.

THERE is an old nautical maxim in common use: rats leave a sinking hull. Mr. Quay will resign the chairmanship of the Republican National Committee.

THE Eastern press is busying itself with a discussion of the question: was Abraham Lincoln a politician? In the mean time Old Uncle Abe is resting in the far away land where politics never break in on the melody of the songs that are sung.

IT is fun by the jug full to sit in the shade and note a political engagement. Idaho politicians have this opportunity. They can watch the battles in Iowa and Ohio, and learn, as they have never learned, of the real science of a political warfare.

EX. PRESIDENT CLEVELAND is expected to lend a helping hand to the democracy of Ohio, also Gov. Hill, Senator Pepper and Congressman Simpson of Kansas. The Farmers Alliance men are with the democrats in this fight.

ONE of the state officials alleged to be connected with the Teachers' Bureau Association at Boise which has been coining money out of the poor teachers of the east may not be in it, but his name rhymes with McCune the moving spirit of the Association.

THE fight is on in Ohio. The battle is in an open field and no flank movements. It is McKinley and McKinley bill against Campbell and tariff reform. It is an open, fair and square issue. The results will show what the people want in that state and the country will so accept it.

REPORTS say that a big number of letters await the teachers' bureau managers in the Boise office but in the absence of McCune and Squires they are allowed to sleep. Just think of it! Letters presumably with money and no callers for them; so near and yet so far.

OUR republican friends of the country indulge in a great deal of private "lafture" because they believe the democrats are playing on a discordant fiddle in Ohio. If they would learn their own orchestra is not exactly in tune. Foraker, Sherman and McKinley are not altogether in harmony in the music they are making.

SOME Tennessee convicts were put to work in a mine in the eastern part of that state; the miners raised a riot; the governor called out the militia and sent them down to restore peace; the miners captured the militia and put them on a train and shipped them home. The miners hold the fort but trouble is anticipated.

A PLANK in Ohio democratic platform bears this inscription:

We demand the reinstatement of the constitution standard of both gold and silver, with the equal right of each to free and unlimited coinage.

This is the ring of the pure metal and written so plain that a man with a cinder in his eye can read it. There is no mistaking the position of the Ohio democracy on the coinage question.

Our little bird and confidential oracle in all matters of the tender passion, tells us that the little mischeivous god Cupid is coyly playing with the strings about the heart of Idaho's bachelor governor, and timidly adds that he may succeed in pulling his Excellency close enough to one of reigning beauties of the capital city to ask her to become the first lady of the state. Cupid is a winner even against veteran warriors wherever he plants his tent on a battle field.

THE Irrigation Congress at Salt Lake City, September 15th. gives promise of being a great meeting. Fifteen states will be represented. The citizens of Salt Lake City are awake to its importance and will make every arrangement necessary so far as the city itself is concerned for its success. The subject of irrigation is becoming one of the live questions of to-day and the country of the West will have its eye on the congress and be eager to learn what may be said and what may be done.

It Must Pay Well.

BUILDING stone quarried for a ready market by convict labor at 50 cents per day for each laborer, the state paying board for such laborers, must be as profitable as advertising for school teachers in the east at salaries ranging from $75 to $225 per month.

It is rumored and the rumor has floated this far from the state capital that a number of convicts of our state penitentiary is thus being worked in a quarry either on the penitentiary reservation or land now in contest. THE NEWS is profoundly ignorant of any law that may have been passed by the last legislature touching convict labor, and is therefore a subject of "lafture" for those in position to know, but it does know that the constitution says: All labor of convicts confined in the state prison shall be done within the prison grounds, except where the work is done on public works under the direct control of the state. Is the honest laborer of to-day to be brought in competition with the convict laborer of the state? Is the constitution to be violated and convicts be marched in and out under guards on outside works? Is rumor aright in her statements? Let the State Prison Commissioners speak; we call upon them to deny these rumors. They come from under the very shadow of the state capital and the people ought to know whether they be true or not.

One of Two Things.

IF all reports about the McCune School Association with headquarters at Boise be true, or even half be true, and if State Auditor Moody and State Superintendent of schools Harroun be connected with the same as is alleged in the reports then these state official ought to step down and out of office for the good of the state, not only for the good name of the state at home but for its good name abroad. If they are not connected with the association and have never been then for their own good name they should deny the charges and in terms plain enough to satisfy the public. The matter has gone far enough. THE NEWS has been unwilliug to give publicity to the reports, it has always been unwilling to give publicity to such reports, but this matter has become the talk of the state, it has crossed the boundary lines of the state, and it is due the state that these officials make a disclaimer of all connection with the association if they can truthfully and honestly, or cease to represent it as state officials. One or the other of these things must be done.

SINCE the above was written and in type as well as what we say elsewhere in to-days NEWS about the matter, Hon. Silas W. Moody, State Auditor has published a card in the Boise Statesman admitting his connection with the Squires' educational bureau and claims, so far as he could learn there was nothing to it to which exception could reasonably be taken. Mr. Moody states that he has never recieved one dollar from the enterprise and adds that he and Supt. Harroun can give detailed information of the facts in the case. We are glad Mr. Moody makes this statement but it is to be regretted that he and Mr. Harroun were silent so long in a matter involving their good name as state officials.

The Democracy of Ohio.

THE NEWS is frank to express its belief that the democrats of Ohio are the boldest men of their party to-day, and in Governor Campbell they have a leader whose courage and daring have never been surpassed, save by courage and daring of old Andrew Jackson. In their convention last week they took the most advanced grounds known in the politics of any state in a long time. If they win they prepare the way for the greatest democratic victory in 1892 known in the past fifty years. If they lose, the curtain drops and shuts them out from the light of another victory for long years to come There were some divisions in their state convention but there can be none in the campaign. Every democrat with democratic instincts will fall into line. All petty factions will dwarf and fade away and the party will be solidified from the Great Lakes to the Ohio river. The issue is supreme for or against democracy. They must fight and win or lose in their advanced position; from it there can be no retreat, the bridges are burned behind them. They have placed Ohio in the leadership of the great West in the movements that won such glorious results for the party last November. They have boldly demanded for the people all that the people demand for themselves. In their platform they demand taxation only for revenue and not for protection; they demand free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver and for a currency regulated by supply and demand; they demand a gradual income tax that will force the great money kings to bear their share of taxation for the support of the general government and they demand an honest and economic administration of the affairs of the government, and further they declare againt the ruinous extravagance of the party in power as shown by the billion congress of last winter. Ohio, in this race, has been made to stand in favor of the interests of the great West as against the northeast and the influence of the great West must be given her. It is Campbell for the interests of the great West or McKinley for the protected interests of the East. Which shall it be?

MR. BLAINE is still at Bar Harbor, and daily bulletins are given the country: Mr. Blaine is better; Mr. Blaine is worse.
