

THE IDAHO NEWS.

VOL. 5.

BLACKFOOT, IDAHO, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1891.

NO. 22

Just as They Come.

The United States court, Boise session, will begin next week.

Messrs Rapp & Keeler have opened a law office at Pocatello.

Mrs. S. C. Winters has been visiting Salt Lake City the week past.

An elegant lot of visiting cards just received at THE NEWS OFFICE.

The Bay Horse smelter is soon to close down for lack of coal.

Want to take a pair of fine pork hogs. Apply at NEWS OFFICE.

Senator Shoup goes to Boise City for a few days and thence to Washington for the winter.

F. F. V. in New York after next Tuesday may be translated to read: Flower's first class victory.

The Court calendar for Bingham county next term will be a "whopper," all of the cases fresh and new.

Capt. Dick Chamberlain's high trotter, Young Gipsy, was taken to the Ogden races this week.

McEvoy, the photographer, will be in Blackfoot next week. Note the fact, "and get your picture struck."

B. A. Jenne is closing out his clothing store at Idaho Falls to move to Anaconda.

Will Danilson is now running as express messenger between Butte City and Anaconda.

C. C. Tautphus, of Idaho Falls, has taken a big canal and reservoir contract at Mountain Home.

Dr. Hicks predicted stormy weather for the 29th and sure enough Dr. Hicks was correct. The storm came.

The Boise City Statesman is to have a new editor, a gentleman formerly connected with Salt Lake Times.

The asylum farm has its cellars overflowing with vegetables for winter uses.

Mrs. Senator Shoup has resigned as Lady Manager of the World's Fair Commission from Idaho. Private reasons.

Mrs. R. J. Osborn is spending the week in Logan, Utah. Her visit is made to her son Robert who is attending the Agricultural College.

A large drummer party was in Blackfoot Wednesday. The party was one man who weighed about 150 kilograms.

G. W. Powell, the unterrified old Missourian came down from his Lo-T river ranche last week and loaded up a big freight team for Bay Horse.

THE NEWS is this day in receipt of a fine lot of wedding and ball cards for the coming holiday season and are yours to command.

Congressman Sweet left north Idaho last Saturday; after spending two weeks in South Idaho he will return to Washington City.

The worst misfortune that has befallen the democratic party this year is: A State election cannot be held in Idaho next Tuesday.

Attorney Reeves' family will move to Boise City about the middle of November. He will retain his law office at Blackfoot.

Parties are at work on the Idaho canal extension on the reservation south of town. Mr. N. A. Just has the contract.

The register and receiver of the Blackfoot land office are still selling lots at private sale in the townsite of Pocatello.

The friends of James Briley will be pleased to learn that he is improving and has a fair prospect of recovery.

One of the passenger trains running between Butte City and Pocatello will, we understand, be discontinued after the 5th of November.

Surveyor General Petit has ordered the survey of a large tract of country lying between Minidoka station and American Falls.

Mrs. Marshal Kirkpatrick will leave next Monday for a winter's visit to her parental home near White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia.

Next Tuesday you will hear "sumthin drap." It will be majority democratic votes in Iowa, Massachusetts, New York and maybe Ohio.

Bets, with the money up, are going in New York $10,000 to $3,000 on Flower against Fassett. And in biblical language many are called but few are taken.

A school teacher up in Idaho county advertises for lard on tuition. That's proper. Nothing like tanning and then keeping the leather well greased.

If reports be true, Idaho has been assigned a sort of back ally location for its World's Fair building. Maybe that had something to do with Mr. DeLamar's resignation.

Everybody hears all sorts of dusty chestnuts about the weather like that of Thursday, but the old man who ventured the remark: Dust is tuck a riz, told it just as it was.

Tracy, the Bingham county convict in the pen, slipped his traces and escaped. Now the Warden can get no traces of Tracy the convict who slipped his traces and escaped.

A committee from the Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F. of the state, was at Idaho Falls this week looking to the location of the Orphans Home in that town.

Our Democratic rooster that was so badly demoralized at the last state election as to stand on his head, has recovered his equilibrium and is now of fine plumage and ready to do good service crowing next week.

Postmaster Fred A. Stevens still continues quite sick with typhoid fever. He is at the home of his parents on the ranche and under the good nursing care of his mother.

Mr. H. Kirkpatrick, of West Virginia, who has been visiting his brothers William and Marshall Kirkpatrick all the summer and fall will return to his home next week.

Captain DeLamar has tendered his resignation as World's Fair Commissioner from Idaho. He got the honor of the appointment and the State didn't get his $100,000 magnificent gift.

We are not grieving about DeLamar's resignation. Bingham county can fill the place with as good a man every way, if he could be induced to accept, but there comes the trouble.

Coal Agent Vogler was notified by the company that he cannot get any coal in November. But Fred was a head of the company; he already had a November supply on hand.

State Land Commissioner Fenn spent Tuesday in Blackfoot. He modestly claims to be out of politics for next year and wouldn't pick up a nomination for office if it were rolling along the pathway before him.

The Bear Lake Independent has put on republican regalia, and henceforth, sink or swim, survive or perish, will support the principles of the G. O. P. Walter Hoge holds the helm that guides it.

The County Convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union convenes in Blackfoot next Wednesday. Let the home Union see to it that the visiting ladies have a right royal time while at the convention.

A Salt Lake City lady has sued the Tr. y Steam Laundry for $10,000, because it blew its whistle and made her horse run away and throw her from her buggy. From this you see, it wont do to blow your whistle anymore than to wet your whistle.

A gentleman in Pocatello presented Mrs. T. J. Matthews with a gold watch this week. A token of esteem and appreciation. Now, that's just the kind of a friend to have, dont you think so.

Affairs at the L'ombi Indian Agency between Agent and employes are in an unpleasant "tanglement." An Indian Inspector will be called on to unravel the skein. The matter is about this way with both sides: You are another and you know it, if you say so.

Blackfoot gave four citizens to the Sound country in its booming days: Harry Bennett, Dudenhausen, Emerson and Shannon. Emerson and Shannon have drifted back eastward to Baker City, Oregon, but what fate has befallen Bennett and Dudy no man knoweth even unto this day.

An Idaho county man has just returned from North Dakota where he sold a large shipment of horses. He claims to have lost $13.00 per head all around. In a letter to a home paper he begs his people never to think of swopping Idaho for North Dakota.

General Beauregard, the hero of Ft. Sumpter, has been indicted in South Dakota for violating the United States Postal laws in Louisiana Lottery schemes. Beaury was great on the retreat in Confederate days, and it is safe to guess he will retreat out of the clutches of the law in this case.

A youthful representative of THE NEWS was in Boise City for the first time last week, but he felt safe and easy under the courteous chaperoning of United States Clerk A. L. Richardson. Mr. Richardson is the very soul of civility and true politeness, and THE NEWS acknowledges his attentions with pride and pleasing satisfaction.

If Governor Willey is hunting a first class man for World's Fair Commissioner, Bingham county can name the man, and he lives in Blackfoot too. We dont know that the governor will take a man from Bingham, or that our man would accept, (he hasn't called many from Bingham the first year of his administration,) but then the right kind of man is over here all the same.

Following are the officers elected by the Grand Lodge of Good Templars, which met in Caldwell on the 21st inst.: G. C. T., C. W. Wernicke, Shoshone; Counselor, I. S. Hicks, Caldwell; G. V. T., Miss Delia Weatherman, Albion; G. S., Percy Jones, Blackfoot; G. T., W. L. Pierson, Albion; Superintendent Juvenile Temples, Mrs. Phoebe Jones, Caldwell; G. C., P. Murphy, Moscow.

Captain Jim, the Shoshone Chief, is mingling with friends in Boise City, and philosopher Lazy Joe has retired to the mountains where he cannot be interviewed on the subject of prize fighting in the penitentiary. Joe is not a fluent talker and he feels that he has been called on for an expression on State affairs too often of late, and it would be better to retire to the mountain fastnesses until the report of the State Board of prisons is made public, if it ever is. Joe is posting himself for the next campaign.

Boise City gossip will have it that His Excellency Governor Willey is soon to lead a charming young lady to Hymen's altar; our little bird, up to date, is silent in the matter, but if it should prove true, the governor can place his order for the cards with us, with the confidence that he will get something that his friends will be proud to keep as souvenirs of Idaho's bachelor governor's nuptials. Do you hear that, governor? Well remember it.

State Senator DeLamar is not as firm as the everlasting hills and rock-ribbed mountains in the stands he takes. He inflated Idaho like a balloon with expectations of the great things he would do as World Fair Commissioner. The people clapped their hands with joy, and the press vulgarly inclined shouted: Bully for DeLamar, when his promises were made public. Now he steps down from the pedestal and says in substance to Governor Willey: Farewell old fellow, be good to yourself, and he is gone. There is a pretty straight story that this is not the first time the state senator has disappointed expectations when his promises were recorded against him. However, the World's Fair matters will move right along just as if the senator had never crossed the ocean, and was watching a wind mill in Holland.

Bingham County Republican's Little Confidential Whispers TO JOHN ANDERSON, MY JO.

John Anderson, my Jo John, When THEY in office went We counted them good men, John, But now, not worth a cent. The school bureau, you know, John, First started the ball to go, Then came that stinking Pen affair, John Anderson, my Jo.

The next we hear of them, John Was th' board to "equalize," And what they did there, John Would make you bat your eyes. They lowered the corporations, John some fifteen hundred or more And ballooned the poor ranchers up John Anderson, my Jo.

But now, let me tell you, John, In a confidential way, We cannot stand such disgraces, John, Not another single day, Our party must account, John, For what the officials do, And were a reek'ning called for, John We'd be "konfumuxed" black and blue. And all of which is so, John Anderson, my Jo.

Never too old to marry. An old couple in Atlanta, Georgia, are arranging to marry. The ceremony is to be attended with pomp and pageantry. The groom is 124 years old and the bride 74. He is a widower and has a living son over 80 years old. The old man has the documents to show that he was born in Raleigh, North Carolina in 1767. He has his war record, furlough etc. of the war of 1812. He is in good health and says he is much in love with the blushing bride though her blushes extend over the furrows of many summers and winters plowing. Now if any Idaho parties are on the brink of despair over lost opportunities they can take heart and console themselves: As long as the light holds out to burn, a golden opportunity may yet return.

Ladies trimmed hats, the model of fashion both in style and color at Mrs. Barnhart's.

Bingham County Teachers' Convention at Blackfoot Nov. 23, 1891.

Rate of one and one-fifth fare on the certificate plan, certificates to be signed by Fred S. Stevens, superintendent of schools of Bingham county. Tickets on sale Nov. 22d and 23d. Good going date of sale. Good returning until Nov. 30th.

H. M. MILLER, Agent.

The old plantation darkey tells of the approach of Christmas by the seven stars. He says the seven stars set at day-break three weeks to Christmas.

What's Blackfoot contemplating for Thanksgiving, and for the teachers' entertainment. Let us make merry and have a good time.

The State Land commissioner will be puzzled to find suitable lands to cover all the appropriations for the different institutions in Idaho. We don't believe he can do it.

Two school sections of Idaho lands will bring big prices when put on the market, namely: The one partly in the corporate limits of Boise City and the other in the limits of Moscow.

For the latest styles in dress patterns call at the ladies emporium at Mrs. Barnhart's.

DON'T READ THIS.

With each succeeding day comes an increased demand for better service on the railways of our country. The Union Pacific and Missouri Pacific railways to the front as usual, have been leading in these lines of improvement, for some time and running Through Pullman Sleepers between Salt Lake City and St. Louis via Denver.
