STATE RANGE FOR EXCLUSIVE USE OF IDAHO SHEEPMEN

Lands Will Not Be Leased to Outside Owners by the State in the Future—Land Board Takes Action.

Idaho state lands used for the ranging of sheep will in the future be devoted to the feeding of a home product—Idaho sheep. This is the ruling that has been laid down by the state land board. It means that Idaho sheepmen, either small or large, will have exclusive use of state lands for grazing purposes. It also means that owners of sheep brought into Idaho from border states will not be permitted to lease lands in this state for that purpose, which heretofore has been the practice.

Recently a flock owner and a resident of Utah, who has been using state lands under lease, over which to range his sheep, wrote to Governor Alexander asking to have his lease renewed. Governor Alexander refused to sign the renewal. He did so on the ground that state land should be leased only to residents of the state and not to non-residents. The issue was taken before the state land board at its meeting yesterday afternoon. The board took the same action as the governor, or, rather affirmed the stand the chief executive had taken and refused to renew the lease. By taking this action the board places in operation a new policy which is of considerable importance to Idahoans, especially those who are using state lands on which to graze their sheep. Heretofore thousands of head of sheep from adjoining states, particularly Utah, have been permitted to graze on state land in Idaho. Under the new ruling they are excluded.

City Briefs

Rebecca Carden has filed suit in district court against Mary Carden. The papers were withdrawn.

Raleigh G. Wirth and Viola E. Howard, both of Caldwell, were issued a license to wed yesterday afternoon.

In the case of Earl S. Peet versus Ada C. Peet, a demurrer was argued and was by the court taken under advisement.

All Pythian Sisters are requested to meet at the K. of P. hall Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock to attend the funeral of Sister R. Eleanor Bickley.

George C. Hance was Saturday awarded judgment in the sum of $1145.27 against the Boise Development company together with the costs of attorney fees.

The W. R. C. will celebrate Washington's birthday at the Soldier's Home Tuesday evening, Feb. 22, with an entertainment. All patriotic orders and friends are invited.

A motion to strike out the demand for costs was argued Saturday in the case of A. W. Athey versus the Oregon Short Line. Judge McCarthy took the motion under advisement.

Sarah Lick has filed suit in district court for divorce from Nathaniel Lick. The couple were married in Boise in January, 1884. Desertion and failure to support are the grounds on which the separation is asked.

L. W. Howard, United States commissioner at Oakley, is a Boise visitor. Mr. Howard came to Boise to attend the Pan Hellenic society banquet held here Friday night and remained over Saturday to look after some legal matters in which he was interested.

Judge C. P. McCarthy Saturday afternoon granted Matilda Fritzel a divorce from Adolph Fritzel on the grounds of desertion and cruelty. The defendant was restored to her maiden name of Matilda Hauck. The couple were married in New York, Jan. 23, 1905.

The Gem State Association of Life Underwriters will give a luncheon at the Commercial club next Saturday at 12:30 o'clock. Governor M. Alexander will be the guest of honor and will make an address. All life underwriters in the city are cordially invited to attend.

A demurrer was argued Saturday in the case of J. Loftus versus Charles Van Dorn, constable, and was taken under advisement. This case is one in which Loftus is suing the constable for $100 damages and the value of a station which he quotes at $50, which was seized by the constable.

Irene Waters, a little eight-year-old girl, whose home is at Fifteenth and Heron streets, was found on Main street crying by Officer Marion about 11:30 last night. The girl had gone to a picture show and lost her mother, whom she was to meet. Through the generosity of a citizen the little girl was sent home in an automobile.

Because her husband struck her with a stove poker, threw the baby's rocking chair at her and failed to support her, Judge Davis Saturday evening granted Nettie Valentine a divorce from Alpha's Valentine, gave her the custody of the two minor children and awarded her $15 per month alimony. The couple were married in Colorado.

in 1905. Complaint was made to Chief of Police Parker that H. C. Mauser conducted himself in a disorderly manner in the Manitou hotel and last evening a complaint was filed against him charging him with disorderly conduct, to which he entered a plea of guilty when arraigned before Judge Hays of the municipal court. He was assessed a fine of $10 and costs, amounting in all to $13, which he paid. The literary society of Roosevelt school near Meridian had one of its programs and social meetings Friday night. Wilbert H. Tver was present and delivered his lecture, "Civilization and the Present War." A large number were in attendance and refreshments were served after the program. The next meeting will be held in two weeks when Oliver C. Jones will give a musical talk illustrated with piano selections and Miss Ethna Anderson will sing.

In the Saturday evening issue of the Capital News it was stated that Miss M. A. Mallory of Hailey was court stenographer for Judge Bothwell, which is an error. Miss Mallory has done considerable work at Hailey and a young woman who had talked with her and gave the information to a Capital News reporter believed she was stenographer for Judge Bothwell and that she had reported the bond cases at Shoshone, whereas it appears she was only a witness in the case.

The Boise Council of Women Voters will have its regular February program Monday evening at the council chambers of the city hall. Raymond L. Givens will speak on the subject of the duties and privileges of the county attorney with special reference to the discretionary power in prosecuting. This is a point which has been under public discussion for some time and all interested are invited to be present for the discourse Monday evening. Opportunity for questions will be given after the address.

A two-story barn in the rear of the residence of W. D. McReynolds at 912 Hays street, was destroyed by fire which broke out in the upper story at 10 o'clock last night. The supposition is that some one was sleeping in the barn and started the fire. The loss of the barn with a few articles in it, is estimated at $300. The loss is covered by insurance. The firemen held the flames to the barn and the garage adjoining was not burned, but when conditions looked bad Mr. McReynolds' machine was run out to safety.

State Horticultural Inspector Graham went to Meridian yesterday where he made an inspection of orchards and consulted with his deputies.

The supreme court yesterday, on motion of counsel, dismissed the appeal in the case of Orson J. Wilson versus Lincoln county, without prejudice to either party.

Governor Alexander has the following speaking dates for the week: Feb. 22, at Bowmont; Feb. 23, White Cross school house, Feb. 26, insurance men's conference, Boise Commercial club. The governor has also been asked to attend the ball of Company G at Caldwell.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state by the Anderson Ranch company of Challis. The capital stock is given as $3000 and the incorporators are, T. W. Chivers, C. B. Jensen and J. Rogers.

State Veterinarian Bodle stated yesterday he has been notified that two emigrant cars arrived in the state during the week, one from Texas and another from Missouri. The emigrants will locate in this state and make Idaho their future home.

The public utilities commission issued an order late yesterday in the case of the village of Roberts versus the Ashton & St. Anthony Power company. The order permits the Idaho Power & Light company, the Ousley Irrigation company and Mud Lake Canal company to intervene. The defendant company is given until Feb. 23 to file an answer and the case is set for March 3 at Idaho Falls when a hearing will be had.

The adjutant general's department is in receipt of a copy of the committee bill, introduced in congress to provide for the organization, armament, discipline and government of the militia of the United States and to further provide for national defense. One striking provision of the act is juvenile military training to be given to those under age to join the militia.

The Farmers' General Supply company of Sandpoint filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state yesterday. The incorporators are W. T. Milliken, C. E. Albice, C. B. Foote, T. F. Woodard and R. G. Prichard.

The King Hill extension settlers applied to the state land board yesterday to use its good offices to discharge the receiver having the affairs of the project in charge and turn it over to the settlers for them to handle in the future. The board took no definite action on the application. The King Hill extension is the project located around Medbury. The canals of the King Hill project were run to the extension tract.

Both the King Hill and the King Hill extensions have been in financial trouble for some years owing to the fact the project works were never completed. For the past two or three years B. P. Shawhan has been the state's agent and manager of the project. The board also considered the application of Victor Hegstead of Teton for the extension of a segregation of 3500 acres of land in Teton county, which he promises to have supplied with water by October of this year and to commence work on in June. The extension will probably be granted.
