plained. He sauntered into the office of the Post with an inquisitorial air about Juim and opened up his bazzoo as follows :

"Hello, Mike; how's newspaper business ?

"O, never saw it better in all my life; everything's swimin'. Pull ou one of those buffalo robes there and lie down."

" Are you making a good deal of money ?'

"O, yes; I suppose I'm getting rich faster than any man in this whole country. I was just figuring up my income when you stepped in and I find it amounts to exactly $9,467.46 per minute.

"Does it cost you much to run the Post ?"

"Not a cent. All I have to do is to press the button and the office does the rest. Here, I'll show you. Now, this little button here, simply by touching it, writes up all the news happenings of a whole week in about 95 seconds. You will notice that each type-case is supplied with a doubleback-action, front-cut Columbian laminated steel spring; well, this spring is operated by sitting off about ten feet and looking at it out of the thumb-hand corner of the fork-hand eye-of course a cross-eyed man could n't work it-so all I have to do is to sit here on this Oriental couch and, at the proper time, glance at that spring and the type for the entire paper all fly up and into position after the order of a gang of English sparrows when you turn lose on them with a spat-gun."

"That is a complete arrangement, now, sure. After the type are all up, don't you then have to make up the forms and get ready to go to press?"

" No, no; that's old fogy business. As soon as each item gets into type it walks right over and gets into its proper place in the form, just the same as a work-steer walks into his stall at night. When the form has such as a work-steer walks into his stall at night. When the form has such as a work-steer walks into his stall at night. When the form has such as a work-steer walks into his stall at night. When the form has such as a work-steer walks into his such as a work-steer walk into his such as a work-steer walks in the work-steer walks in the work-steer walks stall at night. When the form has completed itself, these automatic rollers here places it upon the bed of the press; the weight or pressure thus brought to bear sets the press to going; it goes right along said county. and prints off the entire edition and | By C plays Annie Rooney or Laurie, owing to its peculiar fancy just at that time. Yes, it can play Ta-ra-boomde-ra, but on such occasions it gets off a very poor print, besides the paper always has a great number of cuss words scattered through it."

"Well, how about the mailing business, such as folding, wrapping abilities of the estate of said Jones, and to take and are under an account of the executorial and other associated the said Jones, and to take and are under an account of the executorial and other associated the executorial and other associated the said Jones, and to take and are under an account of the executorial and other associated the said Jones, and to take and are under the executorial and other associated the said Jones, and to take and are under the said Jones, and to take and are under the executorial and other associated the said Jones, and to take and are under the said Jones, and to take and are under the said Jones, and to take and are under the said Jones, and to take and are under the said Jones, and to take and are under the said Jones, and to take and are under the said Jones, and to take and are under the said Jones, and to take and are under the said Jones, and to take and are under the said Jones, and to take and are under the said Jones, and to take and the said Jones, and the said Jones, and the said Jones, are under the said Jones, and the said Jones, are under the said Jones, and the said Jones, and the said Jones, are under the said Jones, and the said Jones, are under the said Jones, and the said Jones, and the said Jones, are under the said Jones, and the said Jones, are under the said Jones, and the said Jones, are under the said Jones, and the said Jones, are under the said Jones, and the said Jones, are under the said Jones, are under the said Jones, and the said Jones, are under the said Jones, and the said Jones, are under the said Jones, and the said Jones, are under the said Jones, are under the said Jones, are under the said Jones, and the said Jones, are under the said Jones, are under the said Jones, are under the said Jones, and the said Jones, are under the and writing the names and address of your 13,000,000 subscribers?"

"That is a mere matter of mooneffect. It is all done by electricity all at one time, the squirt of electricity that does the work being turned on by the last revolution of the press. See those quart tin cans stacked over there? well, the names are put up in them in fluid form ; the same current of electricity that folds and wraps the papers, on the re-bound grabs a can of names, jabs a hole in it and pours the contents over the pile of papers. Each name knows exactly where it belongs and without the least hesitancy seeks its proper place."

"Then you have to distribute your type in the cases again, don't you ?" "What, throw them back in the cases again, one at a time, like they used to do; is that what you mean?' "Yes; don't you have to put each letter back into its special box ? "

"To-be-sure, to-be-sure; I understand you now; I'd forgotten about that old business. No, no ; see that elevator over there? well, just as soon as the press is through with the forms they walk right over to the hydrant there, wash their faces and climb right on to that elevator; it carries them back right over the cases, gives 'em a little shake and the different letters all retire to their respective boxes in the same manner as the different classes in a Sunday-school seek their proper pews at the tap of the superintendent's bell." "How about your white paper on which you do your printing ; don't that cost a good deal?" mine up on Callahan, therefore I am promptly?" "Promptly? well I should smile. I now have $47,962,753.59 stored away in 'Dock' Kelly's oil-room back there; every cent of it paid by now stands to their credit on my cash-book. Many of them have paid me as high as $50,000 at a clip, saying they didn't know that they would ever use it all up themselves during their life-times, but that their chil-

"Don't you think this turning of such an immense amount of money into your hands might have something to do with the present stringency in money matters 2010

" No doubt of it, and I have so suggested to my numerous friends, but with all my argument on this point it has so far been impossible to stop this great influx of lucre.
