Number 44

MISS ELIZABETH SULLIVAN UNITED IN WEDLOCK TO CAPT. EDWIN FRITH

Event Was One of the Most Brilliant in Louisiana Society and Was Witnessed by a Large Number of Friends and Relatives—Will Return Here When Husband Goes Overseas.

BOGALUSA'S daughter, Miss Elizabeth C. Sullivan, only daughter of Mayor W. H. Sullivan, was united in marriage to Captain Edwin Hunter Frith on Saturday evening, October 26, at 8 o'clock, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. Louisiana has never witnessed a more beautiful wedding. The spacious lawn at the Sullivan home was transformed into fairyland by a decoration scheme of flowers and electrical illuminations. It was a patriotic wedding, performed under a great oak from which was draped an American flag and garlands of red, white and blue lights, under which was arranged an arch of white corymbiums and ferns.

Miss "Betty" was given in marriage by her father, Rev. A. Inman Townsley officiating. The ring ceremony was used.

Coming here twelve years ago as a little tot of six years, when Bogalusa was founded, she grew to womanhood and is known and loved by every citizen of Bogalusa. There was no social, civic or patriotic event in which Miss Sullivan did not take a leading part, and all these made her "Bogalusa's daughter." Since the death of her mother heavier duties fell upon her, which she executed with great success. She was endowed with sweetness, loveliness, charm and was popular among all ages and her genuine popularity is as great among the laboring men and their families as the social circles.

"I always did think Betty Sullivan looked something worth having when she looked out of babyland and announced: 'That's the man I choose for my daddy,' and got him too, as she has gotten everything else she set her heart on," said an intimate friend of the bride.

As Miss Inez Blanche played Schubert's Wedding March the bride appeared. Mrs. Emile Bienvenue, the bridegroom's sister, of New Orleans, was the maid of honor. She wore a chic gown of white Georgia crepe, embroidered in wool and beads, and a lavender tulle hat trimmed with ostrich plumes. She carried an old-fashioned round bouquet of lavender orchids. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Frank Sullivan and Miss Lou Kendrick. They were robed in pink taffeta with trimmings of white. Hats of pink tulle trimmed with pink ostrich plumes were also worn. They carried old-fashioned bouquets of pink radiance roses.

Mr. Frith, a brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. Miss Dorothy Cassidy, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cassidy, was the flower girl. She wore a white tulle lingerie frock trimmed with red lace and carried a Marie Antoinette basket filled with pink roses. The ring-bearer was Master Tom Frith Bienvenue of New Orleans, who wore a military suit.

The bride, beaming with loveliness and happiness, was crowned in an exquisite coronet and in bridal robes, embroidered with silver thread and crystal embroidery; a gracefully arranged veil fell added to the beauty of her appearance. The veil of illusion was held in place by orange blossoms. She carried a white satin prayerbook from which fell a shower of lilies of the valley and from which the service was read. The inclement weather caused Rev. Townsley to omit recesses prior to the ceremony. Following the ceremony a flashlight photograph of the wedding party was taken after which the happy couple received good wishes and congratulations of scores of friends.

Captain Edwin Frith of the Air Service, United States Army, is a resident of New Orleans, but is now stationed at Kelly Field, San Antonio, Tex. He is widely known in the Crescent City, being the son of the late Thomas Poindexter Frith of Bogalusa parish and the grandson of the late Dr. John Arthur Taylor of Landry. Previous to the call of his country he was engaged as an accountant and was a frequent visit to Bogalusa, where he made a large number of friends. Captain Frith expect to soon sail for overseas service.

It was planned to have the bridal table on the lawn, but the inclement weather caused these plans to be changed at the last minute. Luncheon was served the guests by attendants from the Grunewald of New Orleans.

This new army bride occupies a more prominent position in Bogalusa than possibly any other lady in any other city. Aside from her social leadership, she is connected with all the patriotic organizations of the city. She had charge of the ladies' division for the parish in the Fourth Liberty Loan drive, a member of the Red Cross executive committee, an active worker in the Y. W. C. A. and president of the Mothers' Honor Commission, the organization which is unique in the welfare work of the country, being the only organization of its kind in existence and having over eight hundred members. It is the organization started by her mother and Mrs. Frith has already proved that it is going to be as successful in the future as in the past. The bride has unusual talent, being a fine character dancer, a splendid motorist and highly cultured young lady.

Captain and Mrs. Frith left Sunday afternoon for a honeymoon which will carry them to New York and from there they will go to San Antonio, where they will remain until Captain Frith leaves for France, when Mrs. Frith will return here.

Mrs. Edwin Hunter Frith, formerly Miss Elizabeth Calkins Sullivan, daughter of Mayor W. H. Sullivan, as she appeared in her trousseau. She is one of the South's most lovely army brides and the wedding, which was held Saturday evening, was an event of state-wide interest.

Services On Sunday Open Meetings Now

Dr. J. H. Slaughter, president of the City Board of Health, notified the Enterprise yesterday afternoon that the ban had been lifted against services in churches, effective next Sunday, and that open air meetings will be permitted after today, Thursday. Reverend Townsley of the M. E. Church notified the Enterprise that the regular Sunday services, both Sunday school and sermons, will be held at the usual hours next Sunday.

As to when the schools and picture shows will open and indoor meetings be permitted, it has not been decided, but Dr. Slaughter expected to have a ruling on these within the next few days, and if the ban is lifted due notice will be given the public. No new cases of influenza were reported in Bogalusa Wednesday, and with the ideal weather prevailing it is expected that few, if any, new cases will develop as long as the good weather continues.

SANFORD IS CAPTAIN

F. L. Sanford of Zona, owner of a sawmill there, has enlisted with a regiment of lumbermen and was made captain of a company. He will arrive home this week on a ten days' furlough to look after business interests and then report to camp. He expects to go overseas within a few weeks.

GETTING READY FOR BIG DRIVE ON NOV. 11

Chairman Sullivan Hopes to Raise Amount by Date Campaign Is Opened.

If District Chairman W. H. Sullivan and his assistants have their way on the big War Community drive the amount is going to be raised by the time other communities have started to work. Mr. Sullivan has been allotted a big sum to raise in Washington, St. Tammany, St. Helena and Tangipahoa parishes and already the plans and details are being worked out and subscriptions will be asked for within a few days.

District Chairman Sullivan has issued the following letter relative to the drive to the public:

"I have been appointed chairman of the Ninth District War Work Campaign. This district consists of St. Tammany, Tangipahoa, St. Helena and Washington parishes. A campaign will be organized in each parish under a parish chairman and an executive committee. In every war activity up to the present time everyone of the above mentioned parishes has gone over the top. The campaign begins November 11 and continues for one week.

"It is my ambition for our district

Dr. Connell and Miss Whelan Marry

Dr. Max Connell, a popular dentist who has been located here for the past several months, and Miss Genevieve Whelan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Whelan, and a teacher in the Bogalusa schools, were married at the Church of Annunciation last Thursday, Father Morris officiating, in the presence of only close relatives.

Dr. Connell and Miss Whelan came here from Chippewa Falls, Wis., several months ago and their engagement was known to intimate friends. Both are popular in the social circle and have been kept busy receiving. They have the congratulations of their many friends.

Road to Poplarville Now Open to Traffic

The road between Poplarville and Bogalusa, which has been closed for the past few weeks, owing to the fact that a new bridge was being built, has been opened, according to H. E. Rester, who is the Ford dealer at Poplarville as well as at Bogalusa. Mr. Rester will be glad to supply information to anyone intending to make the trip, as there are some bad places in the road and he will tell you how to avoid getting "stuck."

GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN FLU SITUATION IN BOGALUSA

Indications are that the influenza situation in Bogalusa, as well as throughout the state, has shown a remarkable improvement during the past few days. To date there has been almost 2000 cases in Bogalusa, practically all of whom are out. On Sunday thirty-three new cases were reported and on Monday there were sixteen. Except in a few cases where complications have set in it is certain that all of those who have been confined to their rooms will be out in a few days.

Bogalusa people who feared the disease here was reaching an alarming stage last week were unduly excited, two of the victims were from Lees Creek, one from Kentwood, one from Pineburr, Miss., another from Pine, which reduced the number of deaths of Bogalusa citizens to seven. The following are those who have died since last Wednesday:

Horace O. Eastman, aged 38, pneumonia, resident of Pleasant Hill. Buried in BaGehee Cemetery.

Verda May Thomas, aged 17, of Pine, daughter of Morris Thomas.

Buried at Hackley.

J. R. V. Pine, car repairer, aged 34, pneumonia, resident of Terrance. Remains shipped to McComb, Miss. Died October 24.

Mrs. J. R. V. Pine, aged 26, pneumonia, wife of above, died October 26. Remains shipped to McComb, Miss.

Catherine Mizell, aged 20, wife of Leo Mizell, Lees Creek, pneumonia. Died October 24. Burial at Rio.

Jesse Holmes, aged about 20, pneumonia. Died October 26. Deceased married only a short time.

Marie Lewis, aged 14, of Kentwood, La., daughter of J. C. Lewis, typhoid fever. Died October 24.

Homer, 1-year-old son of A. W. Yawn of Pineburr, Miss., pneumonia. Died October 25.

Bennie C. Holmes, aged 20, Richardsontown, pneumonia, a son of Clarence Holmes. Died October 24.

Horace Sandifer, aged 42, of Lees Creek. Died October 25.

Mary Elizabeth Parker, aged 23, pneumonia, daughter of L. D. Cox. Resided beyond Adamstown.

YOU GET WORK CARD TOMORROW AND HAVE IT PUNCHED EVERY DAY

Are you ready to work six hours or more every day and six days every week until the end of the war? If not, you had better take a good rest this afternoon for tomorrow morning every male citizen in Bogalusa, between the ages of 17 and 55, will be required to work and failure to do so will result in making you liable to a heavy fine and a jail sentence. The police have been notified to arrest every person who is not complying with the law. Cards will be supplied by your employer and it will be necessary to have your card punched each day you work. At the end of the month you will be given a new card and your old one taken up. Those who employ other men will also have a card and their card will be punched by a city official. If you work for yourself and do not employ men, it will be necessary for you to have a card and have it punched daily. Punches can be secured at the office of the city clerk. Persons employing labor, who have not had cards sent to them, can secure same at the city clerk's office. The duty of securing these cards and having them in operation tomorrow morning, November 1, rests with the employer.

DR. CLAUDE DEAN DIES SUDDENLY AT GEORGIA CAMP WITH INFLUENZA

Bogalusa citizens received a severe shock last week when it was announced that Dr. Claude Dean of the Bogalusa Hospital staff had died at Camp Oglethorpe, Ga. Death was said to have resulted from complications following an attack of influenza.

Dr. Dean left Bogalusa about three weeks ago for a few days' visit with his mother, who resides in Alabama, before entering the service. He intended to return to Bogalusa last week for a day's visit, but when the influenza epidemic became so serious at the camp he called off his visit here to render assistance at the camp. He had evidently been there but a few days, as only one card is known to have been received from him here. Dr. Lafferty received a card stating that he was at the camp and thought he was taking the influenza and would write him a few days later. No other word was received from him and news of his death came here from New Orleans, which was verified by members of the local hospital staff.

Dr. Dean was an exceedingly popular citizen of Bogalusa and while his work kept him at the hospital almost constantly during his two years here, he made hundreds of friends. He was about 32 years of age, a man of high character and with a promising future. He was a popular member of the hospital staff and recognized as a most able physician. He is survived by his mother.

The following item from the Evergreen, Ala., correspondent of the Mobile Register of October 26 will be of interests to the hundreds of friends of Dr. Claude Dean:

"The funeral of Dr. Claude Dean was held from his mother's home in Evergreen Thursday. Dr. Dean's death occurred at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia, on last Sunday, after a brief illness of influenza, followed by pneumonia. Dr. Dean was a son of the late James and Mrs. Dean of Evergreen, was a graduate of Marion Military Institute and a graduate of the medical department of Tulane University. After taking his degree from Tulane and serving as interne in one of the largest hospitals in New Orleans, Dr. Dean located at Bogalusa, La., where he had a large practice, and remained there until a few weeks ago, when he received a commission in the Medical Officers' Reserve Corps of the United States Army and was ordered to Fort Oglethorpe. Dr. Dean was one of the most promising young physicians of the South and was about thirty years old. He is survived by his mother, his brothers, Judge F. J. Dean, T. Dean, Byron Dean, Charles Dean, all of Evergreen, and Cullen Dean of Monroeville; and sisters, Mrs. John Salter, Mrs. Kelly and Miss Beulah Dean of Evergreen.

CARL KNIGHT, STRUCK BY TRUCK, SUCCUMBED TO INJURIES FRIDAY

Carl Knight, aged 13, who was struck by a Standard Oil truck at the corner of Austin street and Alabama avenue last Wednesday afternoon, died of his injuries at the Bogalusa Hospital Friday. So badly were both of his limbs mashed that there was little hope entertained for his recovery when he was taken to the hospital immediately following the accident. It was useless to attempt amputation of the limbs as infection had started.

It was one of the most pathetic accidents that ever occurred in the city. The little fellow was employed as a messenger boy by Streck's Pharmacy and assisted in the support of his mother, the father is serving a prison sentence for killing Alex Cooper. Young Knight and a companion were playing in the street, shooting fire crackers, and the driver of the truck kept blowing his horn, but the youths were too enthused over their play to hear the alarm. There were several eye-witnesses to the accident.
