News From Bellevue.

To the Editor of the Clarion.—Cotton in this section of rich old St. Landry (commonly called South Bellevue), is in splendid condition. The late rains have not injured it in the least, and the farmers are jubilant over the prospects. Our farmers are not of the sleepy kind at any time. They are wide awake, and never give up.

All are in favor of the railroad in Alton. Even the girls are cheering for it. Three cheers for the Alton girls!

While milking his cow the other day Farmer Higgins heard the whistle of a railroad engine (on the S. P., of course.) He called out to his wife "Ha, there, look out, Tom Lewis' train is coming right through our field!"

A very pleasant dance was given at the home of Leon Lavergne Wednesday night. The boys and girls only regretted that the party ended so soon. Miss Winnie Lavergne was undoubtedly the belle of the occasion.

Mr. John M. Ware is just waiting for the water to recede. He has his fishing tackle ready, and everybody knows that the finy tribe is in danger when Ware gets after them.

Miss Nannie Marcotte has returned home from a weeks visit to Branch.

Misses Corrie Childs and Florence Wilson, of Opelousas, had a narrow escape from getting their horse drowned while crossing Plaquemine bridge, on last Tuesday.

The public roads in this section need immediate attention. It is a hard matter to keep the roads in order in this section owing to lack of drainage. When it rains the roads are perfect lakes of water. Mr. Road Man, call and see this. Your visit will be much appreciated.

With best wishes to the Clarion and Old Opelousas, I am, truly,

Ways of Preparing Green Peppers.

BY JULIET HITE GALLAHER.

Pepper Fish Puffs.—Chop together one teaspoonful each of cold fish, mashed potatoes and stewed green peppers; season with salt, pepper and two large tablespoonfuls of butter. Form into balls by mixing with two well-beaten eggs. Dip into egg, roll in breadcrumbs, and bake thirty minutes in a hot oven.

Pepper Sandwiches.—Remove the seeds from four or five green peppers, chop fine, and simmer in two tablespoonfuls of butter for eight or ten minutes, without allowing them to brown; add salt to taste. When cold, spread between slices of bread, cover the layer of pepper with grated cream cheese, and serve.

A Mexican Indian Wedding Dish.—Stew together a chicken and three or four pounds of fresh pork with several hot dried chili peppers and three large onions. Salt, and serve hot.

Stuffed Peppers.—Select peppers of uniform size, cut off the stem end, and remove the seeds and partitions. Parboil in water for five minutes, then fill each with equal parts of chopped tomatoes and cold meat; flavor with salt, butter and onion juice. Place in a baking dish with water half an inch deep, and bake thirty-five minutes.

Green Peppers and Rice.—Smooth off the stem end of the peppers so they will stand, extract the membrane, and fill with boiled rice and minced veal. Place in a baking pan, and add stock to half their depth. Bake one hour. Then add cream to the gravy in which the peppers were baked, thicken, and pour over them.

Red Pepper Catchup.—Take one dozen red peppers, one quart of vinegar, two tablespoonfuls of grated horseradish and four sliced onions. Boil ten minutes, then strain. Add one teaspoonful of brown sugar, an ounce of celery seed, one ounce of mace and one pint of cider vinegar. Boil one hour, and bottle.

Pepper Mangoes.—Extract the seeds from large green peppers by cutting a slit in each side. Lay in brine for twenty-four hours. Make a stuffing of five tablespoonfuls each of green tomatoes and chopped cabbage, four tablespoonfuls of English mustard seed, one tablespoonful of celery seed, three teaspoonfuls of chopped onion and one teaspoonful of grated mace, one heaping teaspoonful of ground mustard and three tablespoonfuls of brown sugar. Moisten to a paste with salad oil, and stuff the peppers with it, closing the slit and wrapping with a string. Pack in stone or glass jars. Pour over it scalding vinegar to which has been added one teaspoonful of brown sugar to each quart. Cover, and let stand several months before using.

Pepper Salad.—Take one cupful of tender, chopped green peppers, one cupful of chopped celery and two cupfuls of chicken. Add two cupfuls hard-boiled eggs, one cucumber pickle and salt to taste. Set away to chill. When ready to serve, pour over it a rich cream mayonnaise dressing. Garnish with parsley and olives.

The Farm, the Household, the Stock.

Hog Lice.

The Texas Farm & Ranch prescribes creolin from 2 per cent to 3 per cent, i. e. from 33 1/3 to 50 times as much water as creolin.

Barb Wire Cut.

For a horse cut by wire, Farm and Ranch tells you to use 2 per cent creolin solution on the sore two or three times daily. This will keep the sore healthy and the flies away from it. A little iodine dusted on the sore occasionally will also stimulate it to heal.

The Horse's Sunday Feed.

When a horse is working hard and highly fed all the week he should have his food reduce on Sunday, and one meal should be a bran mash. If he gets his regular amount of food he should have some exercise.—Ontario Institute Bulletin.

Hen Manures.

Such strong manures (hen manures) are best adapted when applied to any leaf crops, such as spinach, cabbage, kale and Swiss chard. Being highly nitrogenous, they induce growth of leaf. They should be applied sparingly to fruit crops, such as tomatoes, peppers and strawberries, says an exchange.

Buying A Horse.

Never accept a horse with leather sole on foot. Have him unshod before deciding that there is nothing wrong. This applies to fore and hind feet, and, as a general rule, it is safest to have the shoes removed when the horse is valuable.—Dr. A. S. Alexander, Wisconsin Experiment Station.

Diversification.

Only a few years since, a farmer was considered fool-hardy who dared diversify his crops. Public sentiment has changed in a majority of our countries, so that he who does not attempt to raise some new crops or stock, is looked upon as "old fogy."

Water For Horses.

The amount of water required by horses varies more than for any other animal. It is greatly affected by work and feed, being about twice as great when horse is at hard work and much greater when fed on dry roughage than when fed on a concentrated ration. In one experiment a horse while walking required 27.5 pounds of water daily, while trotting and performing he required fifty pounds.—Farm and Live Stock Journal.

Fried Green Tomatoes.

Fried green tomatoes are good with steak, and are said by those who have tried them to form a particularly happy combination. They are cut in rather thick slices, salted and peppered and fried slowly in hot butter. They may be served in the platter with the steak, or as a side vegetable. Creamed green tomatoes are also commended. In this case they are cut in slices, boiled in salted water for about fifteen minutes, then served with a rich cream sauce.

The Horse Fly.

J. S. Hines, professor of etymology in the State University of Ohio, visited the Gulf Biologic Station at Cameron La., for the purpose of making an investigation of the horse fly, which is causing trouble to cattle and annoyance to people of the Gulf parishes of the State. The horse flies have become so numerous this year that it was deemed advisable by the Biologic Station to secure the aid of an expert in making an investigation, with a view of finding a remedy for the evil which is fast injuring the stock and cattle industry of the State.

Sore Head on Chicken.

Our readers are still writing us for information about sore head, which appears to be distinctively a disease of the Southern States, says Home and Farm.

We have had several letters giving remedies but few, if any of them strike at the foundation and give remedies that will prevent it.

The disease is strictly a blood affliction and must be treated constitutionally, though local application of coal tar, kerosene and similar products, will give relief to those already afflicted.

Iron, sulphur, etc. will purify the blood and prevent the first attacks. A few drops of tincture of iron should be put daily in the drinking water and you will never see a sore head.

The jail building was to be completed on May 1st, 1905, which would show that their time eighteen days.
