"ACADIA REMINISCENCES"

The True Story of

Evangeline

2nd Edition just off the Press.

The New Orleans Times-Democrat says of the book:

The Times-Democrat has received from the Jacobs News Depot Company of Opelousas, a copy of "Acadia Reminiscences," an attractively bound and delightfully written little volume by Felix Voorhies, a Louisianan, with an introduction by Andrew Thorne. As its title indicates, the work deals with the early Acadia settlers in the Teche country. It purports to be the narrative of an Acadian grandmother, who describes as a part of her own experience, the life and customs of the Acadian French in their Nova Scotian homes. She tells of the coming of the English, the refusal of the village folk to "become traitors to their faith and to their King," of their ruthless exile, the destruction of their homes, the separation of families, of the landing of the party to which she had been attached upon the Maryland shores, of the kindness of the Englishmen, Brent and Smith, who gave the exiles shelter, and finally of their toilsome journey through the wilds to join their compatriots in Louisiana. A chapter is devoted to the "True Story of Evangeline,"—Emmeline Labiche, who, separated from her betrothed, finally found him wedded to another. The narrative is touchingly told, the descriptions of Acadian life are charming, and the little volume is a delightful addition to Louisiana literature.

It is durably bound in cloth, and will be sent to any address, postpaid, for only $1.00. Order from

ADVERTISE IN THE CLARION

EX-ST. LANDRIAN IS IN DEMAND

Garland Dupre "Speckling" All Over the State, And 'Tis Said That Fact Confirms His

CANDIDACY FOR GOVERNOR

It looks like the Campaign Will Open Earlier Than Usual...Many Names Mentioned for Governor.

Indications would point to an early opening of the State campaign, however foolish and ruinous such a policy is.

This early agitation may be a play at "boosting" candidates—"trying them out," to speak in horse language—to see what they can do; how the dear peeps will take to them. And, of course, if a candidate does not prove acceptable to the "multitude and the masses," why, another will be trotted out.

It is said that the idea is to get out opposition to the present State administration; that the city ward bosses are not satisfied with Governor Sanders' steering of the wheel of State, and that they want to put a man in the gubernatorial chair that will not be subservient to Sanders, but to the ward bosses. How true this report is, is of course problematic; as well as is the report that Foster and Sanders have a razor in their socks for each other.

"Dupre is in demand," says the Picayune of Sunday, in telling of the many calls being made upon the ex-St. Landrian for Fourth of July speeches. It is as near certain as a thing can be without being an actual fact that Mr. Dupre will be a candidate for Governor. Whether he will oppose the administration is not quite so clear, although it is stated that the bosses have him picked out with which to put Sanders out of business.

Here is the article telling of the demand throughout the State for Mr. Dupre's oratory:

"Hon. H. Garland Dupre, Speaker of the House of Representatives, will deliver the Fourth of July oration at Kentwood, Tangipahoa parish, next Saturday, July 3. He received an urgent invitation from the committee in charge of the big Fourth of July celebration at Arcadia, Bienville parish, north Louisiana, and a personal letter from Senator J. Rush Wimberly urging him to be present and deliver an address on that occasion, but Mr. Dupre had accepted the Kentwood invitation previously. The Arcadia celebration will begin on Friday, July 2, and it is expected will draw a crowd from all north Louisiana. Mr. Dupre also received invitations from two organizations in this city, but the Kentwood engagement preceded all of them.

"The recent swing around the circle by Speaker Dupre, taking in Southwestern Industrial Institute at Lafayette, the State Normal School at Natchitoches, and winding up at Natchez, Miss., delivering a number of public addresses on the tour, is taken as rather significant in the face of persistent rumors and beliefs that Speaker Dupre may become a candidate for governor in the next State primary. His friends in the legislature are evidently of the belief that he may become interested in the next State contest, from the number of invitations to deliver public addresses that are being heaped upon him. While at Natchez attending the several public functions there, including the battleship Mississippi reception, he was met by representatives from a large number of the north Louisiana parishes and practically every one had some comment on the prospective candidacy of Mr. Dupre.

"Speaker Dupre has not denied that he may become a candidate for governor. So far as known, he has remained silent, but his action in turning down the suggestion that he become attorney when Congressman Gilmore resigned is taken as significant and conclusive that he had State and not city ambitions. Friends of Mr. Dupre are no longer concealing their talk of his prospective candidacy. They contend that he belongs both to the country and city. They argue that he possesses special strength, in that he enjoys the personal friendship of a number of active, hustling young workers in every parish in the State, who would form the nucleus of a strong working organization in case he should need it.

"A number of other names are also being mentioned. Lieutenant Governor P. M. Lambremont is regarded as a candidate. The name of Judge Charles V. Porter, of Natchitoches, has been mentioned as the possible leader of the State-wide prohibition party. Judge Walter Guion, attorney general, has also been mentioned with more than ordinary interest in political circles. Judge Thornton, of Alexandria; Colonel William H. Price, of Thibodaux; Senator Thomas C. Thomas, of Caddo; Dr. Clifford H. Irion, of Bossier, are among other names that have been rumored from time to time."

Lalanne-Barland.

The Church of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, was the scene of a beautiful marriage Tuesday morning, June 22nd, which was celebrated with a nuptial mass at 7 o'clock, when Miss Alice Lalanne, daughter of the late Dominique Lalanne, and Mr. David T. Barland, of New Orleans, were united and made one.

The sacred edifice was filled with a large and interested assemblage of friends and relatives.

The wedding march announced the arrival of the bridal party, led by the ushers, Messrs. Fernand Derbes, Frank B. Voltz and James Goings. They were followed by the bridesmaid, Miss Rose Sordelet of New Orleans, who was met half way the aisle by the best man, Mr. John Prescott, she being gowned in a lovely embroidered mull with rich lace, with picture hat of white, which completed a lovely toilette.

Then came the bride, a charming and accomplished young woman, leaning on the arm of her brother-in-law, Dr. W. R. Boudreau, who gave her in marriage. She looked regal in an exquisite costume of Chantilly lace over satin. Her soft full veil of illusion fell like a mist to the hem of her long train. The only ornament she wore was a diamond brooch which held her veil in place. She carried a prayer book of pearl, from which was suspended satin ribbons entwined with orange blossoms.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Dr. W. R. Boudreau. The residence was prettily decorated with ferns, pot plants and cut flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Barland left the same morning for New Orleans, where they will spend a few days and then proceed on their bridal tour to different points.

They were the recipients of numerous handsome and costly presents. Many telegrams were received from absent friends which attested the popularity of the young couple.

The house guests from away were: Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Lalanne, Mrs. Geo. D. Doerle, Mrs. Paul Doerle, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Riehl, Mrs. A. D. St. Cyr, Miss Rose Sordelet, Miss Helen Cain, Miss Alma Doerle, Miss Loeline Lusted, Miss Lodo Mestayer, Mr. Stafford Lusted.

MRS. O. D. ORTEGO,

G. G. & N. E. MAY GO TO WASHINGTON.

Officials of Opelousas Road Said to be Impressed With Possibilities of Washington.

WASHINGTON WANTS ROAD.

And the Progress Says the Citizens There Will Meet the Railroad Officials Half Way on Proposition.

A spur from a point two miles from Opelousas to Washington is in process of incubation, and as the road is willing, and the citizens of Washington are willing, the project may materialize.

Our information comes from the Washington Progress, which says:

"There is a rumor current on our streets that the management of the Opelousas Gulf & North Eastern Railroad is very much pleased at Washington's chances for industrial development in the way of manufacturing enterprises, and has intimated to the business men of this place that if they were met half way the company would put in a spur from the main line, at a point about two miles east of Opelousas.

"The citizens here are very willing to investigate any proposition that the road would make, and, if conditions were fair, would push the project through."

NOTHING IN THE RUMOR.

A Clarion man asked Superintendent Flanders, of the O. Gee, concerning the rumor of an extension on the part of the Opelousas, Gulf & Northeastern Railroad to Washington. "The O. Gee can not extend anywhere just now, and does not contemplate going to Washington. But when the canal is built, some railroad will cover the territory of the canal, and go to Washington, because it is a good railroad proposition. Of course I can not tell whether this will be the O. Gee, the S. P., or some other road. But at present the O. Gee does not contemplate extending.

CHICOT MELON CROP LATE

But Clarion's Correspondent Says Next Week They Will Be in the Market—Other News

Bayou Chicot, June 29.—The watermelon crop is late this year, but no doubt are another issue of the Clarion is circulated, there will be plenty of them on the market.

Thanks to our neighbor, Dr. W. E. Hawkins, for a sack of fine roasting ears, potatoes and squash. Anyone else desiring to do likewise will find the late harvesting on the outside. Mr. R. R. Kelley also has our thanks for a sack of fine potatoes, just brought in.

Slowly but surely the question of the location of the courthouse of Evangeline is warming up.

The latest political news is the running of Lieutenant Governor Lambremont for Governor in 1912. Unless the Legislature amends the Constitution so that Gov. Sanders can succeed himself (which it will hardly do)—at any rate, should Lambremont become a candidate, and Hon. James J. Bailey, of this parish, also enter the race, it will be an interesting contest.

Capt. Sam Haas, Dr. W. D. Haas and Mr. C. E. Haas, the latter of Bunkie, and Mr. Clifford, of Texarkana, Ark., an artesian well drillers, were visitors at Pine Prairie last week.

Mr. R. R. Kelley went to Opelousas on a visit last Saturday.

Mr. Phillips, of Bellevue, passed through here Friday with a drove of fat cows, from his pinewoods range, for the Opelousas market.

Mr. Adrasie Lafleur, of Ville Platte, passed through here bright and early Saturday morning, with fifteen loads of lumber. He had quite a jolly crowd with him. One or two of them were playing the violin, while sitting on their wagons, as they passed through.

Mrs. Ariel Fontenot and little Sidney spent last Saturday and Sunday here.

Col. Sam T. Thomas attended a ball at St. Landry last Friday night.

Rev. A. W. Turner came by here last Saturday evening, en route to Pine Prairie, where he will hold a ten days' meeting.

Chicot in the near future will give a grand rally in the interest of Evangeline courthouse. Prominent speakers will attend. A game of baseball between Col. Thomas' and Judge Singleton's Chicottites and a picked nine of the parish will also take place that day. Date will be given later.

Hon. J. C. Murray and family, Miss Zoe Guillory, Miss Georgia Thomas, Mrs. I. Ardoin, Mr. Sam Griffith and family, Erlich, Jr., and others, attended the beginning of the Methodist meeting, which is to continue ten days, at Pine Prairie, last Sunday.

When Mayor Behrman first ran for Mayor, Col. Parkerson was the reform candidate against him. It is now rumored that Behrman will be the administration candidate for Governor, and Parkerson will be the administration candidate for Mayor of New Orleans. Politics certainly make strange bed fellows.

A most delightful rain fell last Sunday evening, proving of great benefit to the corn and 'tater crop.

Rev. Willie Staggs, of Garland, filled his usual appointment at the Baptist Church Sunday at 11 a. m., and at night.

Quite a crowd of Opelousenne are now at Belle Cheney Springs, among them being Mr. Ike Roos and family, George Dejean, Tottle Mornhiney, Arthur Comeau, Mrs. Henry Crawford, Miss Bee Crawford, and others.

Miss Lillie Thompson is spending several days at New Town, the guest of Miss May Murray.
