Miss Pearl LeFevre, home demonstrator for Vernon Parish, was among the farmers' delegates attending the short winter course of lectures upon agriculture at the Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge.

Counselor W. W. Thompson was called to DeRidder, where his services were required by some of his clients.

Mrs. S. T. Ward was called home from Galveston last Tuesday, on account of her husband's illness.

Jim Roark was in town Monday looking over the road he built, and he still thinks it is a bird. If Jim will take a stroll down anywhere near the depot, we will bet a bent pin that he will not need any specks to see the waves and ruts.

Mrs. John Dallas Wilkinson and Miss Lavania H. Eagan, of Shreveport were guests of Mrs. F. P. Jones on Jan. 10 and 11. Mrs. Wilkinson and Miss Eagan spoke at the Court House on the eve of the 10th, in behalf of the Louisiana Woman's Party, to a large and appreciative audience.

Mrs. H. Copeland and son Glen have returned home from Houston. Glen is feeling fine since his operation and was able to take his mid-term "exams". Glen is Sr. this year and one whom the school feels proud of. Willie and Julian Atkins, accompanied their grandmother to Blanchard and spent the week end.

Robert Guy, of Anacoco, is back on the job, driving the oil wagon. We wonder if Robert was really sick, or love sick? Robert claims the former, but those who know claim that he is wrong. Say, Robert, when will you start school again at Anacoco? Well, she feels as bad.

The Methodist people are sure enjoying some good sermons by the Pastor, the sermon delivered Sunday morning on Gideon's Band was a treat; come out, strangers, to the Methodist Church, Sunday morning at 11 a.m., and in the evening at 7:00. All are welcome.

The Teachers' Parents' Association meets each fourth Friday afternoon at the High School. They are doing a splendid work, helping the teachers with some perplexing problems of school teachers' life. We certainly have a splendid school faculty this year; all we need is more parents to co-operate.

ANACOCO NOTES

The Craft brothers were in Leesville on business Friday.

Our Senior Class have received their licenses to teach. We send them our compliments for the good work, and also to the teachers for the fine success of their efforts.

Mr. Benson, Mr. Benson, wherever is your team?

Did Anacoco, good old Anna run you out of stream?

Any time that you find courage, try us on the floor—

We will promise there to beat you by a larger score.

—Otto Schott.

There has been a change in the management of the Union Mercantile Co's Stores. Mr. Ward will act as manager because Mr. Burleson wishes to retire from all active work for a stated time. We all welcome Mr. Ward and wish him the very best success. Here's to you, Mr. Ward.

PITKIN-DOTS

The first team of boys motored to DeRidder Friday afternoon to play the DeRidder town team in a game of basketball. Owing to our recent loss of a player of the first team and over-assurance on the part of our boys, they were defeated—but they promise to be the victors hereafter.

The Fairview teams (girls and boys) were to play on our court Tuesday, but the game has been postponed, as one of the Fairview team is a cripple this week.

The post office has been moved from the Pitkin Mercantile building and is now located in Mr. Hoglan's store. Our old postmistress resigned.

A singing was held at the Mount Olive Church house last Sunday afternoon. A jolly crowd attended. A number of the young people returned with our Pitkin Crowd, and attended our B. Y. P. U. meeting. We have now elected new officers and have good meetings.

Mrs. Jesse Franklin is now visiting her brother, of Beaumont, Texas.

If you like this paper, send in your name for a year's subscription. We will take care of the collection later. Phone 179. Only $1.25 a year for a limited time.

From an economic points of view, the disarmament amounts to little. Perhaps $2 a year taken off the taxes of the hundred million people of the United States. And a dozen or two battle-ships scrapped means nothing in view of the development of the airplane and the submarine. The chemists and aviators are now the fighters of the coming battles. Clouds of poison gas can be dropped from the sky and whole cities wiped out. This scares some, and a law is to be enacted that civilians cannot be attacked. That was a tacit law in the last war, yet devastated France and Belgium point to the folly of agreements superseding economic interests.

A man's backbone should be long enough to keep him from sitting down when he ought to be on his feet, and strong enough to keep him on his feet when he gets there.—Exchange.

ROSEPIKE NOTES

Everyone at school has been extremely busy the past week with mid-term tests. Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday were devoted exclusively to examinations. A half-day was given to each examination and when through the pupils were allowed to go home.

The eleventh grade boys went hunting Thursday afternoon and had the good luck to get one bird. The eleventh grade girls and the entire eighth grade remained at home Thursday, as there was no examination for them on that day. All the teachers were groaning under their heavy load of papers which have to be graded. We kids think it hard to take a test, but I presume if we had those stacks of papers to correct, we would be nearly killed.

Miss Wilson, the State Poultry Demonstration Agent; Miss Gleason, the District Club Demonstration Agent; and Miss LeFevre, the Parish Club Demonstration Agent, were visitors at our school last week.

From some mysterious cause, the depot and Mr. Ferguson's store at Pickering were both burned Thursday night.

A new commissary building is being built at Neame in place of the old one, which was destroyed by fire some time ago.

Miss Tera Williams was home on a visit Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell have just returned from a car-trip to Lake Charles, and the neighboring towns. It rained nearly every day they were gone.

More rain and a cold wave are making everyone shiver and hunt a dry corner.

CATHOLIC SERVICES SUNDAY

The Rev. Q. Vanderburg of Many will hold services at the Catholic Church, next Sunday morning, at 9:30.

FEW TICKS LEFT IN TERREBONNE

Houma, La., Jan. 11. — At the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club, T. B. Smith presided and Dr. C. F. Breaux made a talk. He declared that Terrebonne parish with the exception of one ward is free of the cattle tick, and urged systematic dipping with a view to have quarantine lifted there.
