MASSACRE IN TEXAS.

DETAILS OF THE HORROWING ATROCITY.

MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN MUTILATED AND BURNED TO DEATH—PERSUIT OF THE
DEMONS—A SHARP
FIGHT AND THE DEATH OF A

WASHINGTON, May 17.—A report has been received at the Wardepartment, giving details of the massacre by Indians, Mexicans and negroes combined, of persons in charge of a train of supplies, en route to Fort Stockton, at Howard's well, near old Fort Lancaster. The facts, as reported to Gen. Augur, by Col. Merritt, of the Ninth cavalry, under date of the 29th of April, from Fort Clark, are given

THE DETAILS. On the 29th instant I arrived, with the cavalry in my command, at Howard's well, a few hours too late to prevent one of the most horrible massacres that has ever been perpetrated on this frontier. A Mexican train, loaded with United States commissary and ordnance stores, on its way from San Antonio to Fort Stockton, was attacked by Indians, plundered and burned. The people with the train, seven-teen souls in all, were killed or wounded except one woman. My command

BURIED ELEVEN BODIES. and brought three wounded men and one woman into this port. Before arriving at the burning train, the first intimation we had of this horrible disaster was the charred and blackened corpses of some of the poor victims, but no one was alive to tell the horrors of the affair. I supposed up to this time that Capt. Sheridan, with the infantry of my command, was in camp at Howard's well, about a mile distant from the scene of the massacre, and while yet some distance from that point the smoke of the burning wagons was mistaken for his camp fires, which confirmed me in this belief. I knew at least that a sergeant and four men were at the well in charge of forage. The com-mand moved rapidly toward the well. when the detachment at the point was met, and he pointed out the course the In-dians had taken with the stolen animals belonging to the train. In less time than it takes to relate it. THE TRAIL WAS FOUND. and rapid pursuit at once made by com-panies A and H of the Ninth cavalry, commanded respectively by Captain Coo-ney and Lieut. Vincent. After following the trail some miles, the cavalry came upon the Indians in force on the summit of a steep and almost impassible bluff. Here a sharp fight occurred in which I regret to say that Lieut. Vincent

FELL MORTALLY WOUNDED. while bravely leading and attemping to control his men. He died shortly after re-turning to camp, about 10 o'clock that night. Captain Cooney was painfully, though not seriously injured by his horse falling while moving at a rapid rate. He, however, remounted and retained his command. The men of his company behaved very well, but being in great part recruits

WITHOUT EXPERIENCE in Indian fighting, which was the case in company H, to a still greater extent, they squandered their ammunition. The load or ammunition made a protracted pursuit of the Indians imposible. A woman who escaped reports that six Indians were killed n the fight. Words fail to convey an

THE SICKENING ATROCITIES committed by the demons, who overpowered the train men, several of whom wer taken alive, tied to wagons and burned. An old woman was carried some distance from the place of attack and then shot and scalped. Her grandchild had its ears cut off, was scalped and had its brains dashed out, while the mother of the child, who witnessed it all, as also the death of her husband, at the train, was carried off by the fiends. More than one poor wretch crawled from THE BURNING WAGONS, after the ropes which bound them had burned off, only to burn to blackened, unrecognizable masses, with charred hands and faces raised in positions of entreaty. The train had nine men with it : the re mainder of the party were women and children. It is feared one woman was taken away by the band, though it is possible that she, as well as other bodies un-accounted for, was burned to ashes with the wagons. It is reported that the band consisted of from 125 to 150 men, and was com-

INDIANS, MEXICANS AND DESERTERS from the army. A number of arms and supplies of ammunition were taken from the train by the band before burning it. How many arms I cannot say; it was the supply which was lately sent from the arsenal at San Antonio to Fort Stockton. General Augur, in his report, expresses the opinion that the Indians came from Mexico, and this belief is sustained by the fact that Mexicans and deserters from colored regiments were with them, such deserters usually escaping into Mexico.
