THE DEMOCRATIC SIDE OF THE HOUSE.

---0---

[From Beecher's Christian Union.]

The Democratic side of the House is growing stronger every day. Not, of course, in numbers, but, with the accession of Cox, of New York, and Vorhees, of Indiana, both ready debaters, there seems to have been a consolidation of force. As a result, more is yielded to them by the majority, and no more days and nights are wasted in filibustering. The country regarded our gang-rule legislation as a sort of war measure, and so uplied and defended it; and so long as it was used alone to carry on the legislative part of the war, it was well; but it was too dangeous a party weapon to play with beyond the days when it was absolutely necessary. While it would be a national misfortune to have the control of the House pass into the hands of the Democracy, it will be a matter of congratulation when the missoritant when the missoritant when the missoritant was also with the processory. The Democratic side of the House is ocracy, it will be a matter of congrat-ulation when the minority shall be somewhat stronger; so strong in fact as to be able to form deliberate action in all matable to form deliberate action in all mat-ters, and to prevent the previous ques-tion from being made a party machine for compelling a strict partisan vote. At present the Democrats, when they have a chance, can make a good show in debate. Cox is sharp, quick, and witty. Vorhees is ready, and has a voice that in itself attracts attention; because it is such a wonderful relief to have a member speak so that he can be heard distinctly and wonderful relief to have a member speak so that he can be heard distinctly and easly, without leaning forward and opening the mouth 'and setting a hollowed hand behind each ear. Marshall and Beck are men of ability, and their positions on committees give them considerable weight Fernando Wood, whatever you may think of him in New York, is one of the best behaved men in the House and his bearing is always of the Representative folk dream about before they come to Washington and see the real article with his feet upon his desk; and hear the roar that rises in the galleries as if the foundations of a new Babel were being put in below. James Brooks would do credit to any Democratic assembly, and Eldridge, Holman and Randall can hold their own with all comers in a parliamentary skirmish. With the virtual settlement of reconstruction, the issues that have divided the House so long, and which have necessarily devoloped much bitter spirit, are passing away and with them in a great measure the troubles they caused. At no time since the war closed has there been such good feeling and so much good fellowship between the two sides of the House as now prevail. now prevail.

He refers to the eatire Western and Southwestern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion, that in no case whatver will it fall to ours, if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case nece certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long standing cases. I am free toconfess that I know of no remedy recommended by the ablest authorities that is so certain and speedy in its effects. On the centrary, they are uncertain in the entreme, My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get it upon easy terms, I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the regular line diseaseding a remedy which we know to be at finding and practice of a great majority of the combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use all and every means to alleviate suffering humanity which I may be able to command—not freshiating because some one more ingenious than my self-have learned its effects first, and secured the sole right to secure that knowledge. Dr. Jons Butt—Bear Sir. Last February I was at Louisville purchasing drugs, and I got some of your Sarsaparilla and Cedron Bitters.

My sont-in-law, who was with me in the store, has been down with the rheumatism for some time, commenced on the Bitters, and ston found his general health improved.

Dr. Gist, who has been in bad health, tried them, and he also improved.

Br Coffee, who has been in bad health for several years—stomack and heer affected—he improved very much by the use of your Bitters. Indeed the Cedron Bitters has given you great popularity in this settlement. I think I could sell a great quantity of your medicine this fall especially the Cedron Bitters and Sarsaparilla.
