Lodge Notes

At a regular meeting of Marion Council, Royal Select Masters, held in the Masonic Temple, Wednesday evening, arrangements were made for holding the annual meeting, May 15. The Royal and Select Master degrees will be conferred during the afternoon and the super-excellent degree in the evening. It is expected that about 20 candidates will take the work.

The regular meeting of the Fraternal Order of Eagles held last night was exceedingly largely attended. After transacting the usual lodge business, the lodge members adjourned to the banquet room where an elaborate supper followed by a smoker, was enjoyed. A number of out-of-town visitors were present upon this occasion.

The Knights of the Maabees met last night and attended to routine business.

IRONTON MAN APPOINTED

E. A. Sloan Comes to This City

SUCCEEDS F. J. VAN HORN

As Superintendent of the Marion Cemetery

Mr. Sloan for the Past Twenty-One Years Has Been in Charge of the Ironton Cemetery.

The trustees of the Marion Cemetery association, announced today that E. A. Sloan, of Ironton, has been elected superintendent of Marion cemetery to succeed F. J. Van Horn, who tendered his resignation at the annual meeting held recently. Mr. Sloan will assume his duties here July 1.

The Ironton Register of April 16 has the following to say regarding Mr. Sloan:

"At a meeting of the cemetery trustees last night, the resignation of S. A. Sloan, superintendent of Woodland cemetery, was read and accepted and Fred L. Sloan, assistant and brother of the superintendent, was elected to succeed him.

"Mr. Sloan resigns to accept the superintendency of a cemetery at Marion, Ohio, which contains about sixty acres, and is about the size of Woodland. Mr. Sloan has been connected with Woodland cemetery since 1886, when he came there with his father. Upon his father's death in August, 1894, he had charge of Woodland up to the present time. His resignation takes place July 1.

"Mr. Sloan will have a large and modern residence, and an office in connection with his new position, and all modern improvements. He is recognized as one of the foremost landscape gardeners in Ohio.

"Superintendent Sloan has given great satisfaction in his position and the cemetery trustees and the public generally greatly regret to have him leave. Mr. Sloan gets a much larger salary in his new position than he did here.

The people of Marion are to be congratulated upon securing Mr. Sloan's services, as he will certainly manage the cemetery with care and ability.

Railroad Notes

Representatives of the legal and operating departments of all the railroads in Ohio met in conference at the Chittenden hotel, Columbus, yesterday morning and considered the new set of car service rules recently promulgated by the Ohio railroad commission and scheduled to become effective May 15. About 50 persons were present.

M. S. Connors, general superintendent of the Hocking Valley, presided at the meeting, which was brief. A committee was appointed to go over the rules and report at a meeting to be held between this and May 15, and report whether any of the rules are impracticable from an operating standpoint.

The disposition of the railroads is to abide by the rulings of the commission, if this is possible. If not, they may either apply for a modification, or apply to the courts for relief. John S. Wilson is acting as counsel for the railroads.

Since the agitation in favor of the construction of a subway for the Erie and Big Four railroads, was commenced, the number of freight trains that have blocked the local crossings more than the stated time allowed by law has been very small.

The railroads are sitting up and taking notice, and it is expected that nuisances of this kind will be eliminated in future to a great extent by the proper precautions being taken by railroad officials.

A PROMOTER IN TOWN—He is selling stock in the greatest enterprise in the world. Many Marion stockholders who were so fortunate as to obtain shares several years ago, say that they are receiving dividends amounting to from 100 per cent to 500 per cent annually, and are advising their friends to buy quickly.

Like all other enterprises the success in obtaining big dividends depends upon those who handle the business. The stockholders of this concern do not depend upon others for the best results, but have the entire control of their own share, and can make a success in proportion to the personal interest they take. The shares may vary some in price, the average being about $75 and can be paid for in cash or in easy monthly payments. There is no person in any walk of life that cannot make the best investment of his life in buying one of these shares, as he will always receive big dividends as long as he lives, if he has the ambition to take advantage of this opportunity and get busy. CAT CAME BACK
JUST THE SAME

Shipped to Delaware "Tige" Walks Home.

His Pedal Extremities were Some
Sore But He Won a Home
All Right.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Staiger of Girard Avenue are the possessors of a large Tiger cat which displayed a remarkable degree of culture of the animal instinct yesterday when it returned home from a twenty-five mile trip across the country.

Mrs. Staiger had given the animal to a friend residing near Delaware and the cat was sent away in a tightly covered box. Upon opening the door early this morning Mrs. Staiger was very much surprised when the cat bounded in. The animal's feet were very sore and it appeared tired and had evidently travelled all day and night to reach its old home.

Mr. and Mrs. Staiger say that no more will old "Tige" be compelled to leave the happy family circle and now they have placed a life adoption upon the faithful animal.

CREMATED IN A BARN

Charles Hersey Meets an Untimely Death

VICTIM AN AGED MAN

Horrible Sight Greeted the Spectator's Eyes

Intoxicated man Falls Asleep with Lighted Pipe in His Mouth and Sets Fire to the Structure

Burned to death while he slept in the barn that served as his home, in an alley between Oak and Prospect streets, just off the Garden City Pike, was the fate of Charles Hersey, aged 70 years, when the structure burned to the ground Wednesday night about nine o'clock.

The fire was not discovered until it had gained considerable headway, and although it was known to the crowd that gathered around the scene that a man was being slowly burned to death inside, the time had passed for a rescue to be effected. An alarm was sent in to the Central department, but by the time the department reached the scene, the barn, a tumble down affair, was a seething mass of flames.

The fire lit up the heavens and attracted a great crowd to the scene. As the roof and sides of the barn fell, the body of Hersey was seen in the midst, being charred beyond recognition in the roaring furnace.

Until a few days ago, Hersey had been an inmate of the county infirmary. He left that institution to live with a colored man named Day in the old barn, which was on a property owned by J. W. Clark. The men had a few old blankets in the place. A board spread over the manger served as a table, and a few broken dishes were used at meal times. Together, the negro and the white, both old and infirm, lived the simple life.

Only yesterday the son of the colored man came here from Indiana, and took his father home with him, leaving Hersey to live alone. He was seen going to his abode early last evening, badly intoxicated.

An inveterate smoker, Hersey always retired at night with his pipe in his mouth, and it is supposed that the fire from the pipe set the barn on fire, while its occupant reposed in a drunken slumber. He was stretched out on a board that had served as his table, and beneath him were the unwashed dishes in which his meals were placed. It is believed that he was suffocated before the fire reached him.

The fire department put out the flames, and the body was taken from the midst of the ashes and brought to the Hess morgue on South Main street. The clothing and flesh were entirely burned off the body, and had not been for one or two articles on the man's body which were not burned it would have been impossible to identify him.

At one time, a number of years ago, Hersey set his bed on fire in the same manner, and his wife had a very narrow escape from being burned to death. She refused to live with him after that time.

The deceased had been a resident of this city for the past thirty years. Besides the wife, two daughters, Mrs. Rachael Morton, of this city, and Mrs. Lottie Ferguson, of Bucyrus, and one son Simon Hersey, of Licking county, survive.

The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

SLUMP IN BUSINESS AFFECTS WORKMEN

Fifty Men Laid off at Steam
Shovel Shops

Machine Shops Close Down Thursday, Workmen Going to Other Departments

Because of an unaccountable slump in sales of shovel machinery, the Marion Steam Shovel Shops has found it necessary within the past few days to not only discontinue employing new men, but is temporarily laying off about a half-hundred.

Wild rumors to the effect that the night force would be discharged, and perhaps half of the day force laid off, have been afloat, but the reports were entirely without foundation, and although business is decidedly quiet at present, the prospects are bright and the shop officials are of the opinion that after July 1, affairs will adjust themselves to their normal stage.

Yesterday evening and this morning forty-five men were laid off from the boiler and machine shops. The employees in those departments, as well as the black smith shop had completed considerable reserve work, and much in advance of the erecting department. Consequently, today all of the machine shops were shut down, and the men retained were placed on erecting work. The night force has been also adjusted, and Superintendent Sweney today stated that it is probable that it will not be necessary to further decrease the force.

The shop is now employing about eleven hundred men, which is about three hundred less than the maximum force run during the winter.
