PRICE TWO CENTS

BURIED ALIVE WITH A CORPSE

Italian Marchioness Falls in Open Grave and in Darkness is Covered With Soil.

Florence, Italy, July 11.—The search for Marchioness Margherita Castellani, a beautiful member of the Italian nobility, ended today beside her grave. The marchioness was entombed alive with a corpse. Her body was found today in a coffin with Signor Rossi, who died a few days ago. Her face was convulsed with terror and her limbs were contorted with the frightful efforts she evidently made for liberty.

The exact nature of the accident can never be known. It is conjectured that she visited the cemetery to pray at the grave of her sweetheart, Count Franchi, wandered by mistake into the vault in which Rossi's coffin lay, swooned when she saw the corpse and fell into the casket. The attendants presumably clamped the lid on the casket, in the darkness soon afterwards, without seeing that two forms lay inside.

DEADLY WHITE DAMP ENDS SEVEN LIVES

Miners are Entombed and Over Come by Gas—Brave Rescuers do Great Work.

Wresland, Pa., July 11.—White damp is believed to have caused the deaths of seven miners in Audenried mine of the Lehigh Wilkesbarre Coal company today. One body has been recovered and searchers are looking for others. Victims are James Lee, foreman, and six Italians.

Men are sent into the mine every morning to measure the water.

When two men failed to appear, two others were sent in. Leo and his party followed. It was then discovered that the mine was full of gas.

Several members of the party made their way out of the mine. Superintendent Goldsworthy and Dr. Farrow, who led the rescue party, were both taken out unconscious and may die.

OUR TEDDY PITCHES TEN LOADS OF HAY

President Appears in White Shirt, Says, "Delighted," and Digs In—Makes Farmers Take Notice.

East Norwich, L. I., July 11.—Shaking around began to pitch. Edward Maloney, a laborer of this village with the help of President Roosevelt took ten loads of hay from the president's farm. At the village postoffice last night Maloney gave an interesting resume of his day's work at Sgramore Hill.

"About 2 o'clock the president came out to the field," he said. "He was dressed in a white suit and a white negligee shirt and with a hearty greeting and hand-

After the first load was done you wouldn't have given 30 cents for that white shirt. And talk about sweat—it stood out like peas."

Maloney, upon being asked if he would be on the job today said: "No, not if the president is going to fire them up as he did yesterday."

He had enough he said, although Mr. Roosevelt pricked him only once with the tines of the pitchfork.

WAR TALK IS BOSH SAY JAP OFFICIALS

American Governmental Authorities Also Join in Saying Will be No Trouble—Press is Blamed.

New York, July 11.—Admiral Baron Yamamoto, the distinguished Japanese naval officer, who arrived from England, Wednesday, was interviewed by a half hundred reporters shortly after his arrival. Besides deprecating the war talk, the Admiral expressed the belief that there will be no serious developments.

He said that no small incident could break the friendship which has existed for so many years between Japan and the United States. He thought the sensational press of the two countries largely to blame for the war talk. As to the prospective transfer of the great Atlantic battleship squadron to the Pacific, that was a matter solely for the American government to decide, and one that did not interest him in the least, except in that it was a novel naval experiment.

The Admiral said that much depended on the attitude taken by the press on the present situation.

"Too much care cannot be taken by the press," continued Admiral Yamamoto, "for a few careless words will do more harm than good. There are many sensational papers both here and in Japan, and I ask the editors to make a thorough study of the situation before writing their views."

Admiral Yamamoto took occasion to deny that on his return to Japan, he would become the leader of the Progressive party. He said that he had served in one cabinet—he was minister of marine during the war with Russia—and that he had no desire to have anything whatever to do with politics.

Rear Admiral Evans, who is an old friend of Admiral Yamamoto, called on him during the afternoon, and the two sailors had a long chat together. After the visit Admiral Evans said they had settled the whole matter of war between America and Japan had declared peace. Admiral Yamamoto, he said, agreed with him that war talk was all nonsense.

"It is absolutely silly to talk about war between the two countries," said Admiral Evans. "There is no more reason why we should fight Japan than there is that we should fight Italy because of Italian outrages in this country, or that the Chinese should declare war on us because some hoodlum hurls a brick through a laundry window."

Admiral Yamamoto will return Rear Admiral Evans' and Captain Adams'

NO GAMBLING ON THE LAKES

Department of Commerce and Labor Rules That Floating Pool Rooms Must Stop.

Washington, July 11.—From the state department and from the Japanese embassy here came swift and conclusive denials Thursday of the accuracy of the statements cabled from The Hague to the London Daily Telegraph, and reprinted in this country, to the effect that Japan has made categorical demands on the United States government for satisfaction in connection with the treatment of Japanese in San Francisco, and has served notice of her intention to deal with the Californians herself if the national government fails to do so.

At the state department it is said the American public is fully aware of the nature of all the exchanges that have taken place on this subject, that there has been no correspondence of recent date, and that there are no negotiations in progress between the two governments. This statement is fully confirmed at the Japanese embassy, where, moreover, it is positively stated that Ambassador Aoki is not going to Japan next fall, as was reported in a Japanese newspaper.

Both the Japanese ambassador and his staff deprecate the recent newspaper publications, based on inaccurate or misleading data, as to the relations between the United States and Japan, and have gone to unusual lengths in patiently denying from day to day stories calculated in their judgment to unfavorably affect the friendly relations between the two countries. This last statement, coming from so distant a point as The Hague, where there is no good reason to suppose that information exists that is not known in Washington for Tokyo, is regarded as particularly lacking in foundation. The story of the ambassador's return to his own country is regarded as another example of carelessness and inconsiderate publication.

MOTHER AND SON NOW BEING TRIED

Mrs. Mollie Bowie and Son are Charged With Murder of Herbert Posie, Betrayed of Priscilla Bowie.

Paptatta, Md., July 11.—Calm and stoical as a Spartan mother, Mrs. Mollie Bowie took the stand today in defense of herself and her son, Henry Bowie, jointly charged with killing Huber Posey, betrayer of Miss Priscilla Bowie, daughter and sister of the defendants. The defendants stand on the plain plea of justification under the "unwritten law." They admit killing Posey and justify themselves by claiming the inalienable right to protect the sanctity of their home. The most unanimous opinion is that Mrs. Bowie will go free. With her mother, sits Priscilla Bowie, with her two-months old child in her arms. The child was born after the father had been killed because he refused to marry the girl after betraying her.

When Mrs. Bowie was called to stand, she showed signs of deep emotion.

"How did Huber Posey die?" asked counsel.

"I killed him," replied the witness. Her breast heaved as she repeated: "I killed him" and she put emphasis on the "I."

Henry Bowie, his son, who also fired at Posey, jumped from his seat as if to exculpate. His lawyer seized him and forced him back.

"I killed him at Indian Head," continued the mother. "He had continuously made love to my daughter, and begged her to become his wife. Then he deceived her. She trusted him and believed in him. He betrayed her. He admitted what he had done. I told him all we asked was that he should marry her. My son told him that we would allow him to get a divorce. We pleaded with him to marry her and live with her just long enough to save her honor. He said he would not and then I shot him. That's all."

Priscilla Bowie broke down when called to the witness stand today, and became so hysterical that a temporary adjournment was taken.

LEAVES TUB AND DROWNS

Cleveland Child Tires of Make Believe and Goes to Swim in Pond.

Cleveland, July 11.—Tired of make believe, eleven-year-old Leo Kleer left the wash tub in which he had been splashing around all afternoon, and begged once more to be allowed to go to the pond near the Cleveland Paper Co.'s plant with the other boys. His mother consented.

An hour later Black & Wright's ambulance was carrying a little body to their morgue. Leo Kleer had been drowned in twenty minutes after he had kissed his mother good-by.

ENTHUSIASM IS GROWING DAILY

In the Marion Mirror Voting Contest and Nominations are Coming in Lively Manner For First Publication of Candidates Names Saturday.

Many Candidates Have Been Quick to Realize the Increased Chances of Winning That Goes With a Good Start and are Organizing Their Friends and Getting Their Fighting Legions Well in Hand For the Grand Assault on the Prizes—All Candidates Should Start Now For all Single Ballots Count Ten Votes This Week.

Enthusiasm is growing daily in the gigantic $1500 voting contest of the Marion Mirror. Yesterday quite a number of new nominations were sent in and with these added to the number sent in previously there is every indication that by the time the first announcement of the names is made Saturday, an interesting tug of war will be on.

Many of the candidates already nominated are doing everything they can to get a sufficient number of votes to lead their respective districts in the first list printed. Of course, just the number of votes which will be required to accomplish this result can only be guessed at this time, but it is a general opinion that with the lively balloting of the week, it will take quite a few votes to get the initial positions in the different districts.

Candidates are urged to get every possible vote in by closing time Friday evening on all nominations to appear in Saturday's issue. Nominations may be made at any time thereafter, though, to appear in future lists; but candidates who wish to keep everything in their favor for success in the prize winning will get their nominations immediately. Success in the contest is most certain to go to candidates getting a good early start.

There is a special reason for sending in nominations at the present time for all of the single ballots appearing in the Marion Mirror this week count ten votes. After this week, they will only count one vote. By giving ten votes on each special ballot this week, it makes it possible for a lady candidate who desires to enter to get a big total vote for the first list which, as has been announced, will be published Saturday.

One of the particularly pleasing features of the contest so far is the number and high character of nominations made. It foretells a struggle on the splendid prizes which will be as friendly as it is spirited and as spirited as it is friendly. Some indication of the spiritedness of the contest will no doubt develop as the days pass in shown in the quickness with which many of the candidates have entered the lists, and the ability they are showing in quickly organizing their friends and getting their fighting legions in hand for the grand assault on the prizes.

It is the general consensus of opinion of those who have seen the handsome diamond rings and the beautiful gold watches that they are fully worth all the battling necessary to win them. Displayed to the public in the windows of the local jewelry establishments of Nelson & Sons and C. E. Burris and G. W. Bowers, these diamond rings and gold watches are exciting the admiration of all who see them. Additional interest will no doubt be shown when the stunning $650 Reo automobile is shown. It is expected that the car will be here by Saturday, when it will be placed upon public exhibition in the window of the Marion Mirror office.

Those who are interested for themselves in the contest and have not yet sent in their nominations, should clip the single ballot from the Marion Mirror and send it in to the office of the Contest Manager in the Marion Mirror office at once, that the name may appear in the first list published. Those who are not personally interested, but are interested for a friend, should likewise clip the single ballot today—now—and send it in that the chosen candidate may be entered in the first list and gain the prestige and increased chances of winning that goes with a good start.

Complete details upon which the contest is being conducted may be found in the large display advertisement which is printed in this issue of the Marion Mirror.

Anyone interested should call up by phone or write the Contest Department of the Marion Mirror, Marion, Ohio.

THE DEWEY IS LOADED

Authorities Think Some One Is Trying to Blow up Big Drydock.

Manila, P. I., July 11.—The authorities are closely watching the great floating drydock Dewey at Olongapo. There have been unsubstantiated rumors that explosives were recently found on the Dewey.

It is known that a set of plans for the drydock was stolen several weeks ago.

The Pacific destroyer flotilla has been ordered from Cavite to Olongapo for what will probably be a long stay. All the vessels will be put in first-class condition.

MAN WHO SAVED UNION ARMY KILLED

Oconomowoc, Wis., July 11.—Gilbert Kenyon, who is said to have saved the Union army from defeat at the battle of Shiloh, was killed here yesterday by a train.

Kenyon was a member of Company B, Sixteenth Wisconsin Infantry, and at the time of the battle was acting as scout. In his endeavor to gather information, he accidentally got within the Confederate lines.
