AIRSHIP IN READINESS

Flight is to be Made This Afternoon.

Country People Arrived in the City Early—The Banner Day at the Fair is on.

The sun never shone more brightly the sky was never bluer, the conditions were never more favorable for airship flying than were they today, which was the first big day of the Marion county fair.

Such a crowd. As early as 9 o'clock in the morning the uptown streets were crowded with country people and by 11 o'clock nearly everybody was at the fair ground. At noon today it was estimated that the attendance was larger than that of a year ago.

The country people arrived early. All morning the roads were traveled by procession after procession of residents from the rural districts who are the people that make the fair and the ones who possibly appreciate it the most. Hundreds of people from the suburban towns of the county were seen in the city and everybody seemed happy.

Captain Fuhr of the big air ship announced early this morning that there would surely be a flight. "The weather man promised me a nice day and I believe that his promise could not have been better fulfilled," said he. The big ship is due to sail promptly at 4 o'clock but in case that the atmosphere is not perfectly calm, the flight will be postponed until shortly before sundown.

This afternoon's races promise to be the best of the week. There'll be no hitch whatever in the race program and barring accident everything will be carried out exactly as stated on the score card. Everybody likes to see a running race and that rare privilege will be given to all. It will be a real running race and not the fixed up kind which are often pulled off at county fairs.

Horses from Springfield, Dayton, Richmond and Mt. Gilead have entered and the heats promise to be intensely interesting.

Oliver Moore, the speedster belonging to Abel and Courrod and the horse which all Marion people are particularly interested in will race Friday afternoon.

POLICEMEN WAGING WAR

Against the Drunks and Fair Fakirs.

BATHER LOSES WATCH

While Enjoying a Plunge at the Y. M. C. A.

Guy Lyday Comes up From Prospect Gets Drunk and Tries to Kidnap One of His Children.

William Hill reported to the police last night that a gold watch had been stolen from his vest while he was enjoying a plunge in the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool about 9:30 o'clock last night. Hill was in the pool when some one put his sticky fingers on the tucker and when he came out the watch was not to be found.

The police made an investigation and it is believed that the watch will be recovered without any arrests being made.

Guy Lyday was arrested last night on East Center street by Officer Babcock and locked up in the city prison on a charge of intoxication. Lyday has been separated from his wife and children for some time. Yesterday he came up from Prospect where he has been working, and seeing his wife with one of their children, he took the child away from the wife. The wife summoned Officer Babcock and had her husband arrested for drunkenness. Lyday had no money when arrested and the mayor ordered him committed until his fine of $5 is paid.

The police have chased a large number of fair followers and fakirs out of the city. They have made it understood that they will stand for no skin games either about the streets or on the grounds and the "23" sign has been handed out to a number of the "profess." Thus far no pickpockets have been able to get in their work and the police are determined that they shall not. Special policemen are on duty today to protect the large crowds both down town and at the fairgrounds from being fleeced by the light fingered gentry.

John C. McNally was arrested on a warrant sworn out by George Ulmer, charging him with drunkenness. McNally will be held at the city prison until he gets over his present spree.

CONDUCTOR DROPS DEAD

Was Former Resident of Marion.

SLIGHT FREIGHT WRECK

Sustained by the Hocking at Fostoria.

Local Telegraph Operators Say Un- less Strike is Settled Railway Men Will go Out.

R. C. Dodge, aged 28 years and married, a Hocking Valley conductor dropped dead at Canal Winchester, Ohio about 9 o'clock Wednesday night while on his regular run out of Columbus. Dodge formerly resided in this city and began his railroad career here. The news of his sudden death was received early Thursday morning in local railroad circles.

Dodge left Columbus on the first section of No. 54 Wednesday night. He was apparently in the best of health and was exceptionally jovial with his fellow trainmen. When he stepped from the train at Canal Winchester, he staggered for a moment and fell over dead. The coroner pronounced death due to heart failure. The funeral and interment will take place at Columbus Saturday.

Mr. Harry Sims and J. F. Haastent, telegraph operator at the local Hocking Valley offices, were in Columbus last night where they attended a big meeting of division No. 118 of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers. The local men report that at the meeting it was decided that unless the strike of the commercial telegraphers is soon settled the order of railway telegraphers will go out on a sympathetic strike, thus making it a general movement. Mr. Sims is chairman of the Toledo division of the Hocking Valley employees. An important meeting will be held here in two weeks at which time more important action will be taken.

The Hocking Valley suffered a slight freight wreck at Fostoria last night which resulted in the main tracks being blocked for nearly five hours. Two freight cars jumped the rails and piled up in a heap. The Toledo wrecking crew was summoned and it was daylight when traffic was resumed.

The longest immigrant train that has arrived in the city for many days, came in this morning about 9:30 o'clock running as second No. 9. The train was composed of thirteen coaches drawn by two locomotives.

F. G. Hayden, traveling passenger agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad with headquarters at Cleveland was looking after official business in local railroad circles this morning.

LOCAL EVENTS

Rev. J. Taylor Lewis, formerly pastor of the First Baptist church in this city, has resigned the pastorate of the Baptist church at Chesterville, Ohio.

Former United States Senator J. R. Burton of Kansas was in the city Wednesday afternoon and evening stopping at Hotel Marion. Mr. Burton was here relative to a mining company in which Marion capitalists are interested.

Harley Freshour, aged 13 years, died last night at 10 o'clock at the home of his father, Joseph Freshour, on Lewis street, of typhoid pneumonia. He had been ill for several weeks. Funeral services will be announced later.

On account of the fair, the public schools were dismissed last night for the remainder of the week, it being customary to allow the teachers and pupils two holidays at fair time.

Clubs and Societies.

At her home on Uncapher avenue last evening Miss Bell Longshore pleasantly entertained a few friends with a six o'clock dinner. Covers were laid for six. After dinner the hours were spent with music and social chat. The guests were Misses Marie Morey, Minnie Ewing, Edna Rhoades, Anna O'Donnell, and Alice Ewing.

WEDNESDAY'S RACE PROGRAM FURNISHED SOME RARE SPORT

Nina Patron Loses to Lady Lou in the 2:27 Trot—Event Went Five Heats and Was a Horse Race From Start to Finish—Dr. Corwin the Richwood Pacer Wins the 2:40 Pace in Straigh Heats—Jumpers Act Badly—Airship Does not go up Because of Strong Wind—Cold Weather Hurts Attendance at the Marion County Fair.

Despite the cold weather which the weather man ladeled out Wednesday, about one-thousand people turned out in the afternoon to witness the opening races of the big county fair. The air ship didn't try to fly. It was just a little too breezy for Captain Fuhr to make an ascension.

"You can just tell the people for me that the big ship will sail promptly at four o'clock Thursday afternoon if the weather is at all favorable," said the aeronaut Wednesday evening. Everything was ready for an ascension but the wind persisted in being unkind and it was thought best not to attempt a flight. Hundreds of people visited the tent where the big ship is kept, Wednesday. Captain Fuhr was busily engaged in explaining the rigging answering questions concerning the flying machine.

That the big air ship is the chief attraction at the fair was demonstrated by a peculiar incident which occurred between races about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. A joker got real busy and entering the grand stand, proclaimed in a loud voice that the air ship was about to ascend. The cry was taken up and inside of five minutes there was scarcely half a dozen people remaining in the grand stand and the air ship tent was surrounded by at least one thousand people.

A great many people have conceived the idea that the air ship which is giving exhibitions here is the same one which proved such a failure at the Bucyrus fair last week. It is a great mistake. This ship came here from Nelsonville where last week it made three successful flights. Captain Fuhr has the best of recommendations and there is little doubt but that he will give an exhibition Thursday afternoon that will more than satisfy the anxious spectators.

THE RACES.
The races opened at 1:30 o'clock with a 2:40 pace. Louis Jack, of Blanchester, Ohio, acted as starter. His work throughout the afternoon was excellent. The judges were: J. L. Crockett, of Wooster, Ohio; M. T. Smith, of Mt. Gilead and Bud Schenck, of Mt. Gilead. N. W. Spratt, of Richwood, and C. W. Raub, of LaRue, acted as timers.

Lovers of light harness racing brave enough to face the strong chilly breeze that swept over the fairgrounds were well paid for their bravery, for the race program pulled off was all that could be asked for. Although the first race of the afternoon the 2:40 pace, was won in straight heats by Dr. Corwin, the Richwood gelding, owned by Dadden Welch and driven by P. J. O'Brien, the son of Son Tom Corwin, realized at all times that he was in a horse race.

The first heat in particular was a pretty one and so closely was the winner pressed by Borella, the Marion horse owned by Ora McCurdy, that the fastest mile of the afternoon was recorded. The best attraction on the speed program was the 2:27 trot with six starters. It required five heats of as pretty going as was ever witnessed on

FRANK CRULL KILLED MAN

Made His Escape to Marion County.

UNDER ASSUMED NAME

May Still be Living in this Vicinity.

Well Known Race Horse Man Now Here is Looking for His Old Time Friend.

Whether Crull is alive or dead Mansfield does not know. If alive, he is now a man of about 70 years of age and is in all probability living under an assumed name. "I believe that if I should meet Crull I would be able to recognize him," says Mansfield.

Crull worked in shop in which Mansfield's father was a foreman. The two were close friends and immediately following the killing, Mansfield and his son arranged for Crull's flight. A horse was quickly harnessed and together the two had a wild drive across the country, which was then wild and in many places untraveled.

Funeral services over the remains of the late George Corhart were held at nine o'clock this morning at the interment of the deceased on East Center street. Interment occurred at Marion cemetery.

Marion friends have received invitations to the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Catharine Russell and Mr. Wilbur George Overmyer, which takes place October ninth at the home of the bride's mother in Fremont.
