

A MODERN BEAU.

Best ever coming down the street, A doll in a modern, dandy coat...

With little and, little gets, And little gets, and little gets...

STATE FAIR ITEMS.—The Fair will commence on Tuesday, Sept. 19th. Joe E. Holmes, Esq., late Superintendent of American Machinery at the World's Fair in London...

Members of committees and Editors are requested to register their names at a place which will be designated, near the entrance gates, immediately on their arrival.

One of the best Brass Bands in the State will be daily attendance. An abundance of hay, straw and water will be delivered at the stalls and stock pens free.

LIFE ON THE SIDEWALK.—Mr. Foster, author of "New York in silos," and other similar works, in his last production, "Fifteen minutes around New York," makes the following reflections.

"Our newspapers cut each other's throats and spend thousands upon thousands, in printing the largest sheets, and getting the earliest intelligence by telegraph of events which would be deemed utterly insignificant had they transpired under their own noses—

"The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, and the Mad River and Lake Erie Railroads will charge half usual rates on stock and articles. All other roads will carry free, except the Cleveland and Toledo Railroad.

"The lottery drawings advertised to come off at the State Fair, are in no way connected with or contemplated by the Board of Agriculture. And it is probable, that property intended for these lotteries will be prohibited from the Fair grounds, and any attempt to sell tickets on the Fair grounds or in Newark, at the time of the Fair, will be dealt with as the law directs.

"A pious missionary from Arkansas, striving to arouse the zeal of a distant community to send means to that enlightened land, informed them that his people were 'preach hungry!'

"The Irishman in New York, who replied to the questions of the excise commissioners, 'Ah, your honor, an 'sure it ain't much more character a man needs to sell rum,' told a volume of truth.

"The Basket man says that the 'California fellows are wise men for going round the Horn.' Drunkards never go round the Horn—as they 'allers drinks it up.'

"The man who minds his own business, is said, minds nothing else—even the teardrops of his gentle, inquisitive wife.
