

Reception at Home of Rabbi Zielonka; Dr. and Mrs. McCall Receive Friends

By OLLIE P. LANDSEN.

RABBI AND MRS. MARTIN ZIELONKA and their son, David, were at home on Thursday, on the occasion of the celebration of the Jewish New Year, to their friends. The receiving hours were from 7 until 9 in the afternoon and from 8 to 10 in the evening. During these hours more than 300 invited guests called to wish Rabbi and Mrs. Zielonka and their son a happy new year. The reception was a charmingly appointed affair with roses, carnations, ferns and trailing vines employed in artistic decoration in the reception rooms, which are most artistic in furnishings and hangings. Refreshments were served and the group of the younger set assisted the business in the afternoon included: Miss Della Jacobs, Miss Hilda Horn and Miss Mildred Lefkowitz. Those assisting in the evening included: Miss Elsie Goodman, Miss Gladys Schatzky and Miss Ray Lashover. Numbers of the young people were present in the evening to join the young son of the family and dancing was enjoyed by them.

Weird Costumes and Much Merriment Feature "Stunt Party" At Khaki Club

THE stunt party at the Khaki club Friday night was considered a huge success. Pranks and laughter filled the evening. All the suitors and girls, in costume, paraded before the judges of the evening, who included Chas. W. Pollock, Mrs. W. G. Hoe, Mrs. J. G. Barada and Rev. and Mrs. F. M. Johnson, jr. After the grand march, the contestants all came to attention for the "review," and prizes were awarded for the cleverest costumes. The first prize for the men went to Mr. Bob of the M. T. C., "the king of no man's land," who wore Christmas tree ornaments as a crown and was draped in a brown velvet portiere. He was presented with an order for a silk shirt, donated by a dry goods store. "The debutante," in a pink silk evening gown and black velvet picture hat, won the second prize, a soda, donated by another firm. Al Bruner, of the seventh field signal battalion, was "the queen of the surf," in a dainty taffeta bathing suit, won a pair of silver backed hair brushes, also donated. The prize winners among the girls were, first, Miss Patsy Aronson, as "She Hopkins," second, Miss Lucille LeClerc, as "the vampire," and, third, Miss Pearl Newman, as "the groom." There was a "bride" too, from the 56th aviation squadron, of El Paso, "the groom," in a suit of army "fatigue clothes" and with a fiery red wig, drew all the applause. The judges stated that their choice in every case demanded not only that the costume be generally good, but that there be a touch of humor about it, since this was "stunt night." Several other girls were singled out for honorable mention as having unusually attractive costumes. Among them were Miss Ruth Roserman, who came as a "Spiral" dancer; Miss Hazel Vaughn, a dainty "Little Red Riding Hood," and Miss Marjorie Glover, as a "little tot." Charlie Chaplin, the "Gypsy" girl and others received words of praise, too. While the "queen of the surf" and a "coy, young widow," from the 14th engineers, were serving hot chocolate and water to the guests, the War Camp Community girls' orchestra rendered a musical program. With the exception of one little violinist, who came as "Tip Top Winkle," the girls of the orchestra were dressed as little country girls, in hip checked gowns and sun-bonnets. The rest of the evening was given over to dancing, members of the Seventh cavalry furnishing the music.

Mrs. Arthur P. Watts Entertains With A Bridge Party Given At Ysleta

MRS. ARTHUR P. WATTS entertained at cards Thursday afternoon at Ysleta for a group of friends. Roses and autumn flowers on plants, window seats and tables were the blossom of decoration and the tally cards featuring the autumn motif bore designs of autumn leaves in crimson and gold. Punch and confections were served during the bridge games and at the close of the games, enchiladas with hot coffee were served. Mrs. Milton S. Graves won first prize and Mrs. Albert Long the grand prize. The guest list included: Mrs. E. W. Mitchell, Mrs. Christine Hoxie Fraser, Mrs. Milton S. Graves, Mrs. Louis Fox, Mrs. O. P. Landson and Mrs. Albert Long and Mrs. Otto Carr, who motored down from El Paso to be present. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Saint John Graves gave a pretty courtesy during the past week, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Dorland, the guest, Mrs. Josephine Giffen, of Riverside, Calif. The great living room of the Graves home, El Nido, was decorated with roses from the flower garden. A salad course was served. Mrs. Mitchell won high scores in the bridge games. Those present were: Mrs. Josephine Giffen, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Dorland, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Mitchell, Miss Lucy Mitchell, Miss Ethel Mitchell and Norman Clark.

A Belled Suit With New Lines.

Wish't I Was Bigger, -says Bobby, so I could eat more POST TOASTIES. By GERTHIDE HEREFORD. THAT the belted coat may find new lines is illustrated in this model with inserted pleats, that give an original note to the coat which fastens a trifle to one side in a way reminiscent of a Russian blouse. Raspberry velvet and sealskin develop this suit. The narrow belt is crossed in front, where it fastens with black bone buttons, which are also used in larger size on the coat. The skirt is plainly gathered to a narrow belt which fastens with a gunmetal buckle. The hat of raspberry velvet is trimmed with fur.
