Miss Gaynell Inman Marries

Mr. Sidney Peterson Sunday
Of much interest here is the wedding, solemnized Sunday afternoon in Ilwaco, of Miss Gaynell Inman of this city, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kenneth Inman, to Mr. Sidney Peterson, son of Mrs. Martha Peterson of Tacoma. Vows were read at 2:30 o'clock in the Ilwaco Presbyterian church by the Rev. Ward McHenry.

Mrs. Keith Jones of Portland played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" on the organ preceding the ceremony. Huckleberry greens, ferns and white chrysanthemums provided a charming setting for the candlelight ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin, cut along empress lines and fashioned with leg o'mutton sleeves which tapered to a point at the wrists, tiny buttons down the back and a small train. At her throat was a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Her finger-ring veil fell from a coronet of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses and bouvardia, tied with satin ribbon. Miss Maxine Inman was maid of honor for her sister.

Miss Helen Anders was the bridesmaid and candlelighters were Miss Bernice Speaks and Miss Sylvia Haynes, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man and ushers were Messrs. Corwin McLean of Corvallis, Ore., cousin of the bride, and Robert Saunders of Ilwaco.

The maid of honor wore a light green bengaline dress with a full skirt and short jacket with bustle effect. She carried a nosegay bouquet of Talisman rosebuds and wore the same flowers in her hair. The bridesmaid's dress was of fuchsia bengaline of the same style as that of the maid of honor and her flowers were also the same as the senior attendant. The candlelighters wore peach chiffon gowns with accordion pleated skirts. They carried white tapers and wore diamond clips at the throat. Their flowers were button chrysanthemums.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony, the mothers of the bride and bridegroom joining the wedding party in the receiving line. Mrs. Inman wore a grotto blue crepe afternoon dress, black accessories and Talisman roses, and the bridegroom's mother wore a fuchsia crepe afternoon gown, blue accessories and Talisman roses.

Chrysanthemums in autumn tones were used throughout the rooms and appointing the collection table were yellow chrysanthemums and yellow tapers. Mrs. Bill Daupre cut the bride's cake, Mrs. H. E. McLean of Corvallis, aunt of the bride, served the ice, and Mrs. H. F. Inman of Ridge-wood, another aunt, poured. Assisting were Mrs. Herbert Haynes, sister of the bridegroom, Misses Bernice and Marjorie Christensen of Tacoma, nieces of the bridegroom, Bernita Williams and Mona Saunders of Ilwaco.

A harvest wine colored dress with a shirred jacket was worn by Mrs. Peterson for going-away. Her coat was black with a fox collar and her accessories were black. Her corsage was of white rosebuds. Their new home will be made at 644 No. Trafton in Tacoma after Nov. 20.

Miss Clifton
Becomes Bride

Weds. Mr. Paul Smith at Ceremony in Temple
Baptist Church

The marriage of Miss Virginia Clifton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Clifton, to Mr. Paul M. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Smith of Trenton, N. J., was solemnized at half after four o'clock Sunday afternoon in Temple Baptist church. The Rev. R. L. Powell performed the ceremony by the light of many candles in a setting of bronze and golden chrysanthemums and palms.

Mr. Lowell Shull sang "I Love You Truly" and "Oh Promise Me," accompanied by Miss Evelyn Hopkins, and Mrs. Roy Beddoe played the wedding march.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white lace over satin, made with a short train and a sweetheart neckline. Falling from a dainty lace cap, was a full length bridal veil. Her flowers were a bouquet of swansonia, gardenias and roses.

Miss Josephine Clifton was maid of honor for her sister, Miss Doris Cook was bridesmaid and Mrs. Virginia Sifford lighted the candles. Mr. Gene Sutton of Seattle served Mr. Smith as best man and ushers were Messrs. James A. Clifton, Jr., brother of the bride, R. Sifford and Harry Shull.

All the bride's attendants were gowned in gold taffeta, the maid of honor and the bridesmaid wearing gold lockets, gifts of the bride, and carrying colonial bouquets of chrysanthemums and roses.

A reception in the roof garden of the Masonic temple followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Clifton joining the bride party in the receiving line. Mrs. Clifton welcomed the guests in a teal blue gown. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Yellow and bronze chrysanthemums decorated the roof garden for the occasion. Miss Alice Cook was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Hazel Berger and Miss Charlotte Prince took care of the gifts. Pouring were Mrs. W. B. Barger, Mrs. R. G. Hunt, Mrs. O. Spurlock and Mrs. S. Matousek.

Miss Verna Tegland of East Stanwood cut the bride's cake. Assisting were the Misses Peggy Cheney, Margaret Hall, Helen Cole, Audrey Spruick, Marcelle Frederick, Jessie Ward and Margaret Hunt and Mesdames L. Sutton of Seattle, C. Berger, H. Berger and Gene Sutton, who passed the wedding cake.

For traveling, Mrs. Smith chose a tailored blue suit with which she wore a white blouse and blue accessories. The new home will be made in Tacoma after Dec. 1.

Munro Leaf
Is Speaker

Author of "Ferdinand the Bull" Tells to Script-mist, Venture Club

Speaking to a fascinated audience of Scriptmist and Venture club members Tuesday evening in The Walker dining room, Munro Leaf, author of the best seller, "Ferdinand, the Bull," told the group how he came upon the story quite by chance and completed it in less than thirty minutes time. He also read his latest book, "Fair Play," which tells the story of government and politics in terms which are understandable and interesting to a child.

In telling of his writing of "Ferdinand," Mr. Leaf admitted with a twinkle in his eye, that he did write it in a hurry. In the first draft, he completed his story with the first that Ferdinand was "telling them 'yet'." His revised version states he is "telling them 'yet'."

A child psychologist at heart, Mr. Leaf began his career as a school teacher before entering the publishing business. His entire life has been spent in writing and editing books for children and a thorough understanding of his audience as well as his readers.

Miss Helen Evans presided at the dinner and later the two groups met in separate sessions, with Miss Winifred Brown, vice president, in charge of the Venture club meeting.
