

HAS DISAPPEARED AFTER QUARREL WITH HIS GIRL

Friends of N. B. Overton Fear That He Committed Suicide.

N. B. Overton, motorman with the W. W. P., has mysteriously disappeared from his apartments in the Howard block and the police are working on the theory that he has jumped into the river and committed suicide.

Overton was last seen Saturday afternoon and at the time was dependent over a quarrel with his childhood sweetheart, a trained nurse of Hilliard, who recently came West. He had been drinking heavily of late, so far as can be ascertained, and often during the past few weeks made the threat that he would some day "jump off the bridge and end it all."

The chief assistant of the police in trying to ascertain the facts is Jessie Siders, a stenographer who occupies room 31 in the Howard block. Overton, who had roomed at the place for about six months, was a lover of canary birds, of which Miss Siders owns two. His admiration of her birds led to a close friendship. During the past few weeks it was Overton's custom to tell Miss Siders his innermost thoughts, and among other things he told her about his old sweetheart. Recently Miss Siders went camping and during her absence Overton moved into her apartments and looked after the canaries while she was gone. She returned recently to find Overton much perturbed about something. She questioned him and finally he told that he had had a falling out with his girl. He never mentioned her name and Miss Siders professes not to know it.

Overton told her that he was tired of trouble, and that between physical and mental unrest he had a notion to jump off the bridge. He said that someone had carried lies to his girl and that on this account they became estranged.

When last seen by Miss Siders Overton showed her a large roll of money and told her he had just borrowed two dollars of Landlady Burke. "Just to see if she would loan it to him." He also carried a valuable watch.

Miss Siders believes possibly things have killed Overton. "Although he told me several times that he might jump off the bridge sometime, I don't believe he did," she said this morning.

The police are trying to locate the nurse who, it is claimed, is Overton's sweetheart, in hopes of gathering some clue which will lead to something definite as to what has become of the man.

W. W. P. officials say that Overton was a steady workman. He did not inform the company that he intended to leave his employment, and it is generally believed something serious has happened to him.

The sale of the old Kemp & Hebert building on Riverside for $122,000 does not look well for Assessor Galbraith's figures on the valuation of the place for assessment nor the protests against those same figures. The property was sold by William Hattie Adams, on the books of the assessor the total valuation of the ground amounts to $43,750 and the building $14,550, a total of only $58,300.

Yet the taxpayers' league has gone before the board of equalization and protested against the assessor's figures on business property, claiming it is much too high. His figures are less than 60 per cent of the selling value of this particular property.

The assessor has stated that he has assessed all property as nearly as possible at 60 per cent of its true valuation.

Yet the selling prices of the property cited indicate that there is something wrong with the system of figuring on which this claim is based, and also the system on which the business property taxpayers are protesting this year.

The property sold yesterday was bought by E. J. Barney, a Dayton, Ohio, millionaire, who has made a number of heavy investments in this city.

av. at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Her brother, Percy Hubbard, reported the disappearance to the police this morning. Pearl is described as 5 feet 5 inches tall, medium build, light complexion, dark hair and blue eyes. She wore a black skirt and white waist and a sailor straw hat.

BRITISH BATTLESHIPS ESCORT FLEET

AUCKLAND, Aug. 14.—Official receptions to officers and men of the fleet and tonight with a brilliant state ball at the government house. Premier Ward is master of ceremonies and Admiral Sperry the guest of honor.

The fleet will leave here at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. The people are planning a great farewell demonstration. The British battleships Powerful, Encounter and Pioneer will accompany the fleet to Sydney.

ANKENY WON'T GET IN RING WITH JONES

HOQUIAM, Aug. 14.—Sen. Levi Ankeny has arrived here en route to Moclips and the Quinault reservation, where he goes for a rest. When interviewed he said:

"I do not intend to accept the challenge of Mr. Jones to meet him in debate. It is up to the people which man they want for senator."

TOO MUCH FOR TAFT

HOT SPRINGS, Aug. 14.—Taft refuses to comment on Bryan's speech of acceptance. He says he read all of it.

YOUNG WOVAN GONE

Pearl Hubbard, age 19, disappeared from her home at 811 Third ers by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "boy speculator," is laughing at Wall st. today. Livermore was believed to be trying to corner the market and tricked the older brokers

by "see sawing," reaping a rich harvest.

The $1,000,000 coup was made by him Wednesday, but the news of it has just leaked out. The brokers have learned that Wednesday's "raid" was the young man unloading his cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Having added another $1,000,000 to his cotton profits, Hesse E. Livermore, the "