MILK COMBINE GRINDS DOWN FARMERS AND CONSUMERS

Editor The Press:—I am glad you are showing up the milk question and what may be expected in the future if the Big Four get their way. I was out in the country south of town recently and inquired the price paid to farmers for their milk and I found that milk shipped into these dealers is only bringing the farmer 15 cents per gallon, while recently the price has been raised to 10 cents the quart, or 40 cents per gallon. This increase, we are told, is owing to high price of feed. Some of the farmers have sold their cows and more will because of the low price of their milk and the high price of feed.

Yours truly,

HENRY MYERS.

Mr. Myers' observations as to the operations of the Big Four milk combine are timely and correct. Not content with grinding down the producer on the price paid for his commodity, the Big Four uses its power at the city hall to enact new legislation from time to time that makes the business still better for the trust and less profitable for the farmer.

Then the Big Four will cry, when the poor consumer in Spokane asks, "Why this is not a dairy country; milk ought to sell for from 12 to 15 cents per quart; you should not complain, because we are making no money out of it, and you may be thankful to get milk at any price."

When the milk trust has succeeded in driving all of the little dairies out of the business, then the Big Four will quietly take over the cows themselves and absolutely control the situation.

No money in the dairy business, eh? Look at the immense fortunes built up in the northwest in 10 or 15 years by the Hazelwood company, that practically controls the retail price of butter and milk in Spokane. Look at the growth of the Pine Creek Dairy company and the Broadview, two other concerns in the Big Four.

time absolutely controls the retail milk situation in Spokane, controls the officials at the city hall that are supposed to control the milk supply, and is the sole and undisputed monarch of the dairy business in Spokane and vicinity. And yet the Big Four had the gall to go before the city council last Tuesday night and want a still more restrictive milk ordinance, which the city council wisely laid at rest.

HISTORIC GAMBLING IN NEVADA ENDS

RENO, Nev., Sept. 30.—Although the anti-gambling laws go into effect throughout Nevada tomorrow, the question of when the gambling houses should be closed is bothering state and city officials. District attorneys, sheriffs and police chiefs are puzzled to decide whether the anti-gambling laws mean that play shall run through Saturday or whether the lid goes down on October 1.

"MY, IT IS GOOD TO BE FREE AGAIN"

(By United Press Leased Wire.)

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 30.—"My, it is good to be free again!"

These were the words that came from the lips of Mrs. Julia P. Quinn, who was freed yesterday afternoon by habeas corpus proceedings instituted by her brother, George H. Patterson, a millionaire banker of New Castle, Pa., against the Universal Brotherhood and Theosophical society for alleged unlawful restraint.

Interviewed in the office of her attorney, Mrs. Quinn declared that she had not seen a newspaper for months. She asked for a paper, saying that she wanted to know what was going on in the world. She declared that in the two years she was at Mrs. Katherine Tingley's homestead on Point Loma she had received but $25. Mrs. Quinn said she got $10 on each of her birthdays and $5 when her mother left to go East, where she died.

During that time, she said, the sum of $12,000 had been paid Mrs. Tingley and her associates for the support of herself and two children, William, 12, and Harriet, 14. She said she was permitted to see the children but one hour every Sunday and two hours every alternate Sunday.

This restraint applied also to her mother before her death, she said, since she entered the Theosophy home, March 8, 1908, she had met, besides the attendants, she said, only six persons, three of whom were her relatives, her brother and his wife and Mrs. Crowell.

GORED BY ANGRY BULL.

COLVILLE, Wash., Sept. 30.—James Crawford, a well-known Mill Creek farmer, was yesterday morning gored by a Jersey bull, and narrowly escaped fatal injury.

Mr. Crawford was rendered unconscious and his head and face frightfully bruised and lacerated. Mr. Crawford, on entering the corral, did not notice that the bull had broken the rope fastening, and shut off all escape by closing and latching the gate. His 10-year-old son saw the predicament and threw the dog into the enclosure, diverting the attention of the bull and saving his father's life.

MASSACHUSETTS STANDPAT

(By United Press Leased Wire)
BOSTON, Sept. 30.—That the contest against Senator Lodge waged by Butler Ames and his adherents will prove fruitless is the general belief following the selection of republican nominees to the legislature. Reports from all parts of the state show that only the northwestern part of the commonwealth, along the Merrimack valley, has gone insurgent, and it is believed that Lodge will have more than a working majority when he comes up for re-election. The Lodge followers are jubilant today over the showing made in the selection of candidates.
