MIDDIES TO BE HANDED PACKAGE

NEW COMMANDANT AT NAVAL ACADEMY WANTS PROHIBITION

Wants Regulation Passed Forbidding Cadets to Carry Packages—Is Beneath Their Dignity and Besides They May Contain Wet Goods—Merchants Enter Protest.

(Bureau of United Press.)
Washington, Aug. 26.—Captain Bowyer, who came home with the fleet after journeying around the world to take charge of the naval academy at Annapolis, is trying to father a prohibition movement in the Maryland city. It is to be a limited prohibition movement with the cadets on the one side and the liquor purveyors on the other and Captain Bowyer standing in the middle.

At the present time most of the enthusiasm is in the middle. The middies and pupils of the naval prep schools are naturally not called upon for an opinion in the matter, but they are not to be ignored on account of their silence. The refreshment purveyors have joined their forces with the chamber of commerce for an adjustment of the question and the chamber of commerce has put in a bid for the good graces of Captain Bowyer as it is well understood that the naval academy is most of Annapolis and they cannot well afford to be without it.

The problem, as developed in a recent conference, hinges upon the question whether or not the middies and others who are allowed the freedom of the town now and then shall be allowed to carry home packages. Heaven forbid that either Captain Bowyer or the officials of the Annapolis chamber of commerce should use this phrase flippantly. Do not misinterpret it. By packages is meant, packages, articles of ordinary merchandise wrapped up in paper and tied with a pink string such as are handed over the counters at the dry goods emporiums. There are those who may shamelessly corrupt the English mother tongue by misconstruing this phrase, to mean something of an entirely different nature something which, for the sake of decency and propriety, is not to be expressed.

But for brevity's sake we may say that Captain Bowyer, as superintendent of the naval academy, objects to both kinds of packages. He wants the chamber of commerce of Annapolis to cooperate with the academy authorities in suppressing traffic in packages of the second variety. He believes that there are rooms in some of the hotels and upstairs drinking places where the cadets and prep pupils can "coal up" for a cruise if they have the money, and he wants these suppressed.

On the other hand the chamber of commerce says it is losing money because the cadets are not allowed to carry real packages. Captain Bowyer objects to this also because it is unwritten regulation that cadets and officers in uniform are not allowed to carry packages. It is held to be undignified from the military point of view and the unfortunate that does it immediately loses caste. Everything done up in paper is ruled out. One may carry a magazine or book, if it is not too large, but mere merchandise should be sent up by the delivery cart or with an orderly. For this reason the merchants assert that they lose much of the trade of the cadets.

There the prohibition movement in Annapolis stands. It looks very much as if the cadets are going to get one kind of package. It is for Captain Bowyer to say which.

COLONEL TEDDY GOES HUNGRY

AFRICAN HUNTING PARTY HAS LITTLE FOOD AND WATER

Make Long Marches and Find Provisions Short and Water Hole Dry.—The Colonel and Kermil Are Shooting Hippopotami—Tarlton Pursued by Lions.

Naivasha, Sunday, July 18.—Theodore Roosevelt and his party had not been expected to reach Saigal-Sai before July 20th, but having more success than they anticipated in the Sotik and Guaso Nyiri country, they decided to come to the lake and try for hippopotami with Captain Attenborough, R. N., retired, owner of the Saigal-Sai farm.

The hunters made long marches over a practically waterless country, and when they reached a water hole, they found it dry. The party had to go into camp without water. It was found also that the food supplies had almost given out, and white men and natives alike had to go on half rations.

The party reached the farm on July 12th, but found Commander Attenborough had gone over to Naivasha for supplies. Mr. Roosevelt, however, was not disturbed by this and the scientists soon were busy with their guns collecting birds and mammals. On the 14th the correspondent rode twenty-five miles on a bicycle to the camp. Mr. Roosevelt and Kermil were out in a launch shooting hippopotami with Commander Attenborough, his brother and Mr. Cunningham.

The following day Mr. Roosevelt, Kermil, the Attenboroughs and Mr. Cunningham went out in the launch after hippopotami. Mr. Roosevelt bagged a large hippo, shooting it from a frail row boat at the moment the beast was charging. Mr. Tarlton rode into Naivasha by moonlight a few nights later, and was followed for miles by five lions. The route around the lake is infested with lions, and there is every chance of the party having some sport when it comes in.

Mr. Tarlton has gone down to Nairobi to arrange for the expeditions, "safari," out to Kenya and Nyori. The party will leave Nairobi August 8th and expects to be away six weeks.
