Plans Are Made for Service Star Legion Convention

By Mrs. R. A. Bundy.

When the delegates returned from the National Service Star convention held at LaCrosse, Wis., last year and announced that the National Service Star Legion had accepted our invitation to Spokane for the next convention the members of the local chapter were enthusiastic, and insisted that this be made the largest and best convention we have ever had. Mrs. David S. Reedy was elected general chairman of arrangements, and immediately brought before the chapter how shall we finance this big undertaking. To Mrs. J. O'Leary goes the credit for this fine suggestion: Why not have a bazaar? After talking this over it seemed to be the thing to solve the financial problem, and Mrs. Reedy was again elected chairman to put over a bazaar that we might take care of and entertain this splendid body of women in a fitting manner. How diligently the chapter members all through the hot summer planned and worked for the success of this one thousand dollar bazaar, also keeping up all our regular work, calling on the soldiers in the hospitals, sending them candy, cookies and cigarettes, and many other things for their comfort, sewing our Red Cross quota of bed jackets, door silencers, card table covers, tray cloths, and layettes, also keeping up our work in the Spokane Children's Home, ever keeping before us our first objective, "Service to God, Country and Humanity." Our families were simply side-tracked. Father ate downtown, mother too busy to cook, children spent their time at the public playgrounds. Mother was sewing and could not be bothered, finally everything was finished, the bazaar was held the second week of November and to a generous public we owe our everlasting thanks. We were tired but happy, the bazaar had served its purpose, our money was in the bank and we could now entertain the convention without financial worries, with this slogan, "The best is none too good." The 14th of February Mrs. Reedy called a meeting at the Oasis and appointed 18 chairmen as the advisory board, who will act with her in the plan of entertainment for the convention. The Women's Federated Clubs, the Chamber of Commerce, and the business men have been most generous to offer their services to make the convention a big success. Spokane Chapter Service Star Legion is the first woman's organization to bring a national convention here. Mrs. E. G. Saunders is national president, Mrs. Wm. N. Irving first vice president, Mrs. F. P. French, 2nd vice president, is one of Spokane's most public spirited women, who is working in the Lincoln Memorial. Chairmen of the advisory board, acting with Mrs. Reedy are: Mrs. H. E. Wagoner, entertainment and hospitality; Mrs. A. A. Schaul, badges; Mrs. E. French, banquet; Mrs. A. P. Fassett, parliamentarian; Mrs. Thomas Corkery, printing; Mrs. S. A. Hinton, president luncheon; Mrs. R. Whitmarsh and Mrs. A. A. Kelly, transportation; Mrs. A. T. Fleming, supplies; Mrs. C. W. Van Wie, Mt. Spokane; Mrs. M. R. Plastico, photos; Mrs. J. H. McIntosh, automobiles; Mrs. Geo. Noble, decorations; Mrs. J. Bruce Dodd, memory hour; Mrs. Joseph Haupt, information; Mrs. T. H. Petersen, time-keeper; Mrs. A. P. Piper, service; Mrs. R. A. Bundy, publicity; Mrs. J. T. Wilson, music; Mrs. Alice French, programs; Mrs. Ted Permain, pages.
