AMERICUS, GA., NOV. 1, 1900.

Mr. Yousef now talks and acts rationally again. A life sentence is well calculated to bring a man to his senses.

In view of Teddy's inhospitable reception in New York he ought to go west again and try and get another reputation.

No admission fee being charged at the Bryan Madison Square Garden meeting of Saturday night, Russell Sage occupied a front seat.

A man in Philadelphia hospital is dying of marble heart. Probably acquired it in trying to induce politicians to make ante-election pledges.

It usually develops that the prominent citizen who has declared for McKinley has been for him all the time. The Democrats should take the cue.

If McKinley is defeated this year we will hear no more of Hananiam; if McKinley is re-elected, however, we shall have nothing but Hananiam.

When the New York Sun gets the demophobia right had it's a pretty sure sign that there is something looking remarkably like democratic victory in sight.

Since Thomas B. Reed answered a request to speak in defense of the administration with the remark, "I am not a criminal lawyer" he has been left severely alone.

The New York demonstration Saturday night in behalf of Bryan and true democracy was never equalled even in that city in the history of national campaigns.

The Baltimore American is becoming uneasy over the weather, fearing that if it keeps up there will be difficulty in disentangling Thanksgiving from the Fourth of July. But it won't keep up.

Less than a week and the great battle of ballots will be over. Then will there be no more wild claims, but from appearances much cause for explanatory remarks by the republicans telling how it all happened.

Ex-Governor Leady of Kansas, is going to solve the question about what shall be done with our ex-Governors. He's going to peddle patent medicine, and it is suggested that he may be more successful at that than he was as Governor.

Notwithstanding the extravagant forecasts of the republicans it would not surprise the democrats if Mr. Bryan were carried into the presidency by a regular tidal wave. The chance are excellent for democratic victory in New York, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and New Jersey.

According to Emerson, every evil to which we do not succumb is a benefactor; we gain strength of the temptation we resist. Which, being interpreted, means if one party doesn't bid high enough for your vote, be strong enough to raise the price when the other fellow makes his offer.

There is only a trifle of 90 electoral votes between the forecasts of the Democratic and Republican National committees. The former give McKinley 278, with Idaho, Kentucky, Montana and Nebraska—which they put in the doubtful column—to hear from.

Estimates of the Texas cotton crop based on the tenor of reports from each county, regardless of the number of bales produced, are misleading. As an instance, San Antonio county shows 100 per cent increase and Brazoria 50 per cent decrease; that would indicate an increase of 50 per cent for the two counties. But San Antonio's increase amounts to 140 bales, while Brazoria's decrease will reach 7,000 or 8,000; the two counties indicating a decrease of about 7,000 bales.—Texas Farm and Ranch.

LEADERS WHO WILL BE MISSED.

Many brilliant members of the present Congress will not respond to roll call when the next House of Representatives begins the fifty-seventh session. Among the most prominent who have not been renominated are Representative Bailey of Texas, who is preparing to do the senatorial toga for Texas; General Wheeler of Alabama, Carmack of Tennessee, who will go into the Senate; Grout of Virginia, author of the anti-oleomargarine bill; Dolliver of Iowa, who has been appointed Senator from Iowa, vice the late Senator Gear; Berry of Kentucky, and Allen and Catchings of Mississippi. All of these are leaders in the Republican and Democratic councils of the present Congress. A number have served in the House for many years and will be missed. In the retirement of Dolliver and Bailey the Republicans and Democrats lose their most brilliant orators. The picturesque Bailey has held the prize on the Democratic side as their most effective orator. Dolliver's advent into the Senate is regarded with keen anticipation by the old-timers, who realize that Dolliver's style has little in common with the prevalent spirit of the discussions in the Senate, which rather discourages high flowing oratory and substitutes hard facts and figures for eloquence.

THE HALL OF FAME.

The New York papers continue to print numerous letters both applauding and condemning the Hall of Fame decision. One writer to the Times wants to know what must "be thought of an American Hall of Fame that includes Peter Cooper, the glum man, and excludes Fenimore Cooper, the romantic; that sets up the utilitarian Howe with his sewing machine, and casts down that fine flower of genius, Edgar Poe, the only poet America has produced, according to some foreign critics, and a short-story writer unmatched in any language; that finds a pedestal for Horace Mann, a legislator of little distinction, who effected a few reforms in education, but has no place for Madison, the co-author with Hamiliton of the federalist and father of the federal constitution, the world's greatest political charter?"
