Special to the News.

I am full to the brim with news this week as the boys have been tipping off a little. I am full of fun and enjoy a hearty laugh as well as anybody.

The Hicks Chapel Club, four in number, met the other day, and after they thought they had fixed Beargrass' clock they had a hearty laugh and signed their names Old Maid. Now, boys you tipped Beargrass on the highest point when he made a call through the News for some brainy writer to write up a piece on the subject. Now we know that the law requires every planter to have a lawful fence around his farm, and so in answer to Old Maid's question who has got a lawful fence we can truthfully say no one in this section of country. Old Maid's place is outside in the eyes of the law, and if you were forced and compelled under the law to fence your farm it would perhaps cost you $40 per year. Some of my neighbors pay $100 a year to fence against the hog, and then after all have an empty smoke house and corn crib just like you have got this year, Old Maid, and every good and intelligent farmer will bear me out. I know farmers here who pay $75 to $100 a year to keep their farms fenced against the hogs that do not ever turn out one themselves. What is there outside for hogs to live on, and do you really expect to raise hogs on the produce of your neighbor, trespassing and destroying enough of some poor widow's stuff to keep her children in bread the year around. What does it cost Marion County's good farmers to fence this big county against the hog alone. I am not speaking of cattle or horses or other domestic animals, but of the hog alone. It costs the inhabitants of this county at least $7,500 to $10,000 a year to do the required fencing that is compelled to be done with rails, slats, wire, plank and stone, all against the hog, and you have to do the required fencing, whether you have got a hog or not. What you pay out each year to fence your farm would buy enough meat to run you, and you would have enough money to pay your poll tax, and the candidates wouldn't have to pay them as they did before, you know. There are people in town that haven't a hog in the world, but have to fence just the same against the hog, it costing them to fence a half acre $12 to $20. Now you see the beauty of the no fence law in Marion county. Let every man be on equal footing, and let the law be such as will bind every man that owns hogs to keep them on his own premises, and if they get out and work damage on a neighbor's property let them be sold on the ground to pay for the damage. So, Old Maid, if you figure your time, money, rails and plank as anything, your meat must cost you about 40c per lb., whether you own hogs or not. The time has come that the timber is worth more than the land is worth and yet it has to be done, although there isn't $100 worth of hogs in this section. I admit that I don't raise hogs here in this county to buy high collars with, but I do help Old Maid drive them to market, then he pays me and I buy the high collars.

Now in regard to that big straw hat I had that hat on, but you all know that old fish tale. I had 16 nice catfish, it took two men to carry them, and the truth always stands. I never did a mean trick in my life, but what I was ready to do another just like it. The truth of the matter is that Old Maid is the man that had the string of sun-perch strung to his saddle, and that was my fish bait that he took out of my fish box, and we have reliable proof.

Now as to W. H. White being in town with two little fishes about two inches long I will explain that Old Maid had more of the sunperch than he could eat and he carried them to market, and I happened upon them in town and knew them by the beargrass with which they were tied with and brought them back for fish bait. The piece in the Whitwell Department about W. H. White being in town with a 4-ft. eel is correct. Ask John Raulston and Dr. Moore. The fish and eel weighed five lbs. each, and were over two inches long and were up-to-date and clear out of sight.

Noticed last week a piece in the News signed Red Bird that Beargrass was seen up in his town riding a blue Spanish jack with two navy pistols buckled on. Beargrass don't own any jack, and it was intended for a gag and a throw off. I stepped up there last week and hung Red Bird with just two straws of beargrass for lying against the peace and dignity of the state.

W. H. White, M. Miller and T. J. Ridge, school directors of the 22nd district, have purchased a library for the school. Miss Lora Smith has got the school here this year.

Old Maid's old dog Towser has run himself to death this week after a mocking bird. The old dog thought some body was whistling at him and he ran till he died.

W. H. White visited his sister-in-law Mrs. M. J. White, the widow of A. W. White, in Whitwell, Friday.

Elijah Grayson was going to town the other day with a cartload of cherries and stumped his toe and fell ten feet, throwing cherries 30 ft. Be careful, Lige, where to place them feet, or they will kill you yet.

Startling Evidence.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Rentonville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles, Consumption, Pneumonia and Grip. Guaranteed by Whitwell Drug Co., druggists. Trial bottles free, regular sizes 50c, and $1.00.

HICKORY GROVE.

Special to the News.

Some one wanted to know what had become of Old Jim. For the information of the inquirer we thought it best to drop in a special this week. We have overcropped ourselves with the old 80-row corn, and are eating corn-bread, fat meat, and plowing a steer, and will come out all right in the fall if our hame string don't break. If it does we will loose the steer and the crop. We have had plenty of rain here of late, and farmers are wanting it to stop for a while so they can work out their crops. We fear some of the boys will want it to rain some more in July as the seasons seem to be on the extreme of recent years.

Joe Pickett, of Red Hill, was in this burg Thursday. He says he has been over his crop the second time, and that a weed can hardly be seen in it, and that he is getting along fine as he has paid a $15.00 store account that he owed at Tatesville, and has swapped horses several times since coming to Red Hill and now defies any horse jockey to meet him on the yard at Whitwell on Saturdays.

M. J. Worley of Jasper, spent a few days the first of last week at Dr. Grayson's.

Dr. Grayson put a fine lot of his rheumatic tonic on the Whitwell market Friday.

Hyram Hudson and Chas. Holloway went to Whitwell Friday. Likewise George and Miss Laura.

Joe Burnett has moved back here from Whitwell.

Mrs. R. N. White is spending some time with her sons at Tatesville.

R. G. Lasater is growing quite a lot of artichokes for his hogs. He says they are No. 1 for them.

James Barker and family of Pikeville spent several days the first of last week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Barker.

Horace Brock, a prominent citizen of Pikeville, is spending the summer months with Bob Barnett.

Geo. Ridge went to Tracy Thursday returning Friday evening.

Wilson Williams went to Victoria Saturday on official business.

James Bailey, of Whitwell, spent Saturday night with J. D. Ridge.

Noticed that some people are troubled with potato bugs. The way to get rid of them is to creep upon them in the patch and catch them by the hind-legs and drag them to a chopping block and have some member of the family chop their heads off. If you do this they won't eat any more.

"I dreaded the change of life which was fast approaching. I noticed Wine of Cardui, and decided to try a bottle. I experienced some relief the first month, so I kept on taking it for three months and now I menstruate with no pain and I shall take it off and on now until I have passed the climax."

Female weakness, disordered menses, falling of the womb and ovarian troubles do not wear off. They follow a woman to the change of life. Do not wait but take Wine of Cardui now and avoid the trouble. Wine of Cardui never fails to benefit a suffering woman of any age. Wine of Cardui relieved Mrs. Webb when she was in danger. When you come to the change of life Mrs. Webb's letter will mean more to you than it does now. But you may now avoid the suffering she endured. Druggists sell 21 bottles of Wine of Cardui.
