SEQUACHEE, TENN., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1903.

NO. 9.

GOOD ROADS.

WRITTEN FOR THE NEWS.

The Sequatchie Valley is beautiful provided one had wings to view it by, but you positively cannot see the county for the dreadful roads.

A go-cart, a carriage, a wagon or an automobile are out of the question. Only a mule and a man who has lost all sense of feeling, physical, moral, political and religious, can travel such roads, I was going to say, but I will change it and say only a man who has infinite patience, unending endurance, and who has vowed never to break the second commandment should risk his life or his reputation upon them.

Nature gave to the valley beautiful scenery, a fertile yielding soil, and such environments should produce progressive, public-spirited men. Every man in the county who opposes any measure whatsoever that assures us good roads should be buried alive to the tune of Tom Hood's

"Rattle his bones over the stones,
Only a poor p-puper whom nobody owns."

When Rome of old conquered the then known world, she hewed her way into every country by the building of the famous Roman roads, and civilization followed fast in the way of every Roman road.

There is nothing else under the sun so civilizing as well kept roads wherever you find them for you can count on good schools, thrifty churches, and prosperous people. The man who hauls his produce to market over a fine road holds his head more erect, carries himself more proudly than the man who has all the style thumped out of him jolting over the stones and into the ruts. Progress and prosperity go hand in hand with good roads. Let us all join hands and girdle the county with a system of fine roads.

A WOMAN.

CURTISVILLE.

Special to the News.

Well, Mr. Editor, we got a photo from Oregon City, Oregon, of one of our grand sons. He is a beauty, but he don't favor his grandpa.

The editor of the Statesman Democrat thinks more of us than the editor of the News does, for he came to see us last week, and you haven't been to see us, though I think the old lady and the fee talked him so nearout of breath that I fear he won't come back soon.

We met A. Coppinger Saturday, going to Jasper with a load of melons. They were mighty tempting.

A. J. Curtis and wife visited at Whitwell Saturday.

Mrs. Dugan has been very poorly with heart trouble.

James Watley and Miss Hattie Watley attended a picnic at Tracy Saturday.

That owl is trying our chickens. Since the hawks and Methodist preachers quit them the Owl of Emmon has taken to them.

We aim to go down to Coppingers this week, or to his melon patch, but don't tell him.

Something got after our chickens the other night and the old lady shot me in the short ribs with her fist, and I shot out to the chicken house to see what it was, and Penny, the fee, shot under the bed, and by this time we were both shot out of ammunition, and I went to bed.

We have a sweet "tater" ten inches through, but it has a surname "tater-punkin'." Ha, ha.

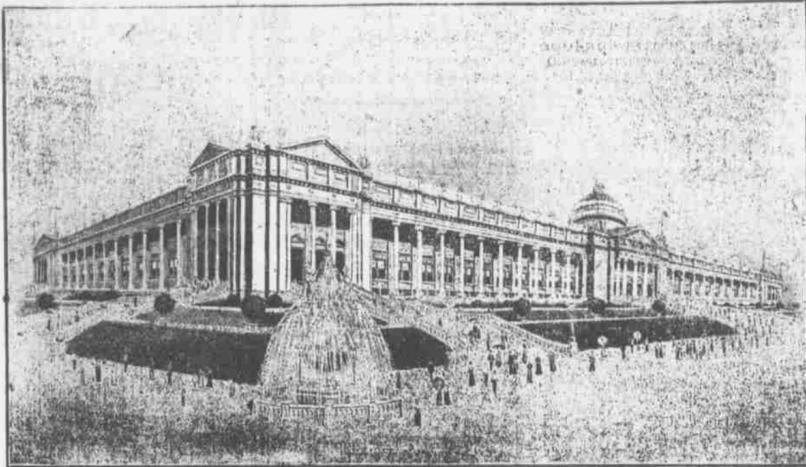

I was squirrel hunting the other day when I found the finest mill site on the Sequachee company's land you ever saw, but don't tell Mr. Sherman about it. There isn't but one fault I have to find with it, and that is there isn't a drop of water about it, Ha, ha.

The old lady is beckoning me for dinner. Cold Wave.

SPRAINS.

S. A. Road, Cisco, Texas, writes, Mar. 11th, 1901: "My wrist was strained so badly by a fall that it was worse than usual, and after using several remedies that failed to give relief, used Ballard's Snow Liniment, and was cured. I earnestly recommend it to any one suffering from sprains." 25c, 50c, $1.00. For sale by Sequatchie Supply Store; Whitwell Drug Co.

The United States Government Building, designed by James Knox Taylor, Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department, will be situated on the high ground to the southeast of the Mines and Metallurgy Building. The approaches to the building will be of a monumental character, in keeping with the building itself. Access to the central pavilion will be obtained by means of a great flight of steps 100 feet wide adorned with statues. A platform 45 feet by 125 feet, with an exedra at either end, will be situated in the center of the flight. Two smaller flights 50 feet wide, also adorned with statues, will give access to the end pavilion. Ramps thirty feet wide of a gentle incline will lead from the lower level of the exposition grounds to the level of the Government Building. These ramps will connect the main central flight of steps with the two smaller flights. The slope of the hill toward the exposition will be covered with and laid out in formal beds of herbaceous flowers, clipper hedges and trimmed trees. The architect describes the building as follows:

"The general style of the building will be the Pseudo Classic; somewhat less festive than the other exposition buildings, but by its breadth of treatment and purity of detail will express its function—THE GOVERNMENT BUILDING.

"The main facade will be 764 feet in length with center and end pavilions connected with a colonnade of Ionic columns 5 feet in diameter and 45 feet high. The central pavilion with the colonnade on either side will form a portico 15 feet wide and 524 feet long, 50 feet above the level of the general exposition buildings; from which a beautiful view of the exposition may be obtained.

"An attic 15 feet in height, richly ornamented with statues, will surmount the Ionic order already described. The height from the bottom of the stylobate to the top of the attic will be 82 feet. The portico leading to the central pavilion will consist of free standing Ionic columns, while those of the end pavilions will be in 'Antus.'

The center of the building will be surmounted by a dome 100 feet in diameter, similar in general character to the dome of the Parthenon at Rome. The top of the quadriga which surmounts it will be 175 feet above the ground. Ample opportunities will be offered by the design for sculptural adornment. The sculpture will be symbolical of the Republic and Arts of Peace. In general character the sculpture will be more restrained than has been the custom with exposition work, violent action not being considered appropriate for plastic representation.

"The material used will be 'staff.' The building in general will be white, with strong color treatment on the interior walls of the pavilions and colonnades.

In plan the building will be rectangular with the projecting pavilions already described, at either end. The interior floor area will be 175 feet by 724 feet, entirely free of columns, the roof being carried with steel trusses 175 feet in span, 70 feet high and 35 feet apart. There will be no skylights as the building will be lighted entirely by clear stories. The end facades will contain one central portico and will be 250 feet long.

"On the longitudinal axis of the Government Building to the southwest will be situated the building for the U. S. Fish Commission. It will be square in plan 135 by 135 feet and in general character will harmonize with its large neighbors."

The estimated cost of the Government Building is $350,000 and $50,000 more will be expended on the Fisheries Building.

JUDGE J. M. LEA DEAD.

Was One of the Wealthiest and Best Known Citizens of the State.

Monteagle, Tenn., Sept. 19.—Judge John M. Lea, of Nashville, died here at midnight. He was in his eighty-fifth year, and one of the wealthiest and best known citizens of the state.

There are probably few Tennesseans more prominent in the eyes of the people of the state than was the venerable Judge Lea. He was born in Knoxville on Dec. 25, 1818. As a youth he went to Nashville and entered the University of Nashville. He graduated when he was 19 years of age, and began the study of law, being admitted to the bar in 1840. He soon became distinguished as a lawyer and a scholar, and in 1842, when only 23 years old, was appointed U. S. district attorney, resigning in 1845.

In 1850 he was elected mayor of Nashville, and in the following year, when the cholera showed itself at Nashville, he showed his value in the management of affairs during the epidemic and the works of its eradication. At the expiration of his tenure of office he resumed the practice of law. After some years the demands of his other personal interests necessitated his retirement.

In 1865 Judge Lea accepted the appointment from Governor Brownlow of the office of judge of the circuit court of Davidson. After a most successful administration he resigned the judgeship in 1868, and soon afterward declined an appointment to the supreme court bench of Tennessee. He took an active part in the re-franchisement of the confederate soldiers and it was through his influence and personal appearance before the reconstruction committee of the United States congress that the committee failed to report favorably upon the bill to re-mand the state in 1869 to military rule.

While absent from the state in 1875 he was nominated as a candidate for the legislature and elected by an overwhelming majority. As member of that body he wrote and secured the passage of a general law for the organization of corporations. He was president of the Tennessee Historical Society, and was interested in the blind and industrial schools of the state. He was also a prominent Mason.

Judge Lea was married in 1843 to Miss Elizabeth Overton, of Nashville, and to them three children were born, one of whom, Overton Lea, survives.

ABSCESS.

W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes Aug. 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff sore one day I went to J. F. Lord's drug store (who is now in Denver, Colo.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment; I got a fifty cent size and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world."

ABSCESSSES, with few exceptions are indicative of constipation or debility. They may, however, result from blows or from foreign bodies, introduced into the skin or flesh, such as splinters, thorns, etc.

SHERIFF LAND SALE.

In the Circuit Court at Jasper:
WHITWELL SAVINGS BANK,
vs.
W. H. WHITE.

By virtue of the order of sale which has been issued from the Circuit Court of Marion County, Tenn., in the case of the Whitwell Savings Bank vs. W. H. White, commanding me to sell the said W. H. White's land to satisfy a judgment that the said Whitwell Savings Bank obtained against him before F. L. Price, J. P., and the said land being condemned in the Circuit Court and ordered to be sold, I will, on the sell the same to the highest and best bidder for cash in hand on date of sale, the said land set out in the levy, in front of the south door of the court house in Jasper, Marion county, Tenn., between the legal hours as prescribed by law.

21ST DAY OF OCTOBER, 1903,

In the above styled cause Execution came to my hand the same day issued and I made diligent search and did not and could not find any personal property in my County subject to execution, I therefore have and do hereby levy the execution in this case, hereto attached, upon the following described real estate, the same being and lying in the 3rd civil district of Marion County, Tennessee, and more particularly described as follows, viz:

TRACT No. 1.

Beginning on the east corner of A. W. White's tract, thence northwardly with M. J. Burnett's line to the forks of the ditch to the Burnett line, thence with Grayson and White's line to the north corner, thence with said White and Grayson's line to the south corner, thence a straight line to the beginning.

TRACT No. 2.

Beginning on a stake in the centre of the lane on the Roberts and White line, thence north 63 deg. W. 7 1/2 poles to a stake, thence west 22 poles to a red oak, thence north 67 1/2 deg. W. 73 1/2 poles to a white oak, thence north 23 poles to a stake and pointers, thence with W. H. and G. W. White's line 147 1/2 poles to a stake at the gate, thence south 19 degrees east 22 poles to a stake, thence south 31 deg. West 17 1/2 poles to the beginning.

TRACT No. 3.

Beginning on a white oak corner, thence 86 deg. W. 18 poles to a stake and a water oak and post oak pointers, thence north 3 deg. E. 7 1/2 poles to a stake at the road, thence south 78 deg. W. south 87 1/2 deg. W. 17 1/2 poles to a red oak, thence 50 1/2 deg. W. 18 poles to a beech, thence north 24 1/2 deg. W. 18 poles to a corner with persimmon, sweet gum and dogwood pointers, thence a straight line 60 poles to a stake with red oak pointers, thence with Grayson's and White's line 11 poles. Thence south 7 deg. E. 24 poles to the road at gate, thence east a straight line 9 poles to a large sweet gum corner, thence south 8 deg. W. 9 poles to a large sweet gum corner, thence south 8 deg. W. 6 poles to a stake and pointer to W. H. White's north corner of another tract and G. W. White's west corner containing 66 1/2 acres more or less.

The same being described in Book F. E. pages 371 and 372, in the Register's Office of Marion County, Tenn.

The following described tract of land being deducted from the three aforesaid tracts of land in making this levy and return:

Beginning on a sweet gum corner at the edge of the public road, thence north 71 1/2 deg. west 9 poles to a stake at the gate, thence north 73 deg. west 24 poles to a red oak, thence north 11 poles to a stake, thence south 75 deg. west 60 poles to a sweet gum, persimmon and dogwood pointers, thence southeast with the meanders of the road 35 1/2 poles to a hickory corner, thence south with Jane Burnett's line to Joe Grayson's corner (a rock,) thence eastwardly a straight line to a rock corner in G. W. White's line, thence north to a sweet gum corner, the beginning.

Said Real Estate being levied on subject to whatever homestead rights the said Defendant may be entitled to under the law.

This Sept. 9, 1903.
F. M. McCULLOUGH,
Printer's Fee, 20.00. SHERIFF.

NON-RESIDENT NOTICE.

State of Tennessee, Marion Co.
Whitwell Savings Bank,
vs.
W. H. White, G. N. Vanhoosier, and B. M. Doyle.

Before F. L. Price, a Justice of the Peace in and for Marion County, Tennessee.

In this cause it appearing by affidavit that W. H. White is justly indebted to the plaintiff as joint maker of a note and is a non-resident of the State so that the ordinary process of law cannot be served on him and an original attachment having been levied on his property, it is therefore ordered that publication be made in the Sequachee Valley News, a newspaper published in the town of Sequachee, Tenn., for four successive weeks commanding the said W. H. White to appear before me, or some other Justice of the Peace, at my house in the 3rd civil district of said county on the 19th day of October, 1903, and make defense to said suit against him, as it will be proceeded with ex parte as to him. This Sept. 1st, 1903.
