Her leaving is to be regretted, but the same good will goes with her to Texas that she may enjoy good fortune and happiness.

Family Reunion.

At the home of Dr. and Mrs. F. M. McRee, an elegant country place a short drive northwest of the city, a family reunion was held last Thursday—Thanksgiving. Among those present were Mrs. Anderson, of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Cato Davis, Woodland Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Sam DeBow, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McRee, Mr. and Mrs. Pink Marshall, and all the little folks among these families. The families of Mr. Jake McRee and of Mr. Thos. McRee, of Atoka, Tenn., were unfortunately not present, but it was a great day for rejoicing and feasting. The good Doctor and his worthy wife, always generous and hospitable to the neighbors, made the day memorable with a bountiful board and whole-some cheer. It was a mile post in family history and a blessing to everyone, not excepting those who were absent.

From Kansas City.

Editors Commercial—Union City, Tenn.: I have been a silent but interested reader of The Commercial since coming to Kansas City and wanted to express my appreciation to you for your kindness in giving me each week news from home. The Commercial is a very welcome visitor and I wish it every success. I only take the one paper published in the State of Tennessee. I enjoy reading the "Cousins" letter very much, but notice several familiar names missing, among them that of "Gypsy" and "Uncle Bildad," really old friends. I hope to see their names again. I notice many new correspondents. I am interested in them all. We are having some fine autumn weather in Kansas at the present time, but with an occasional warning of winter. There is a difference in the climate of Kansas and that of Tennessee and Kentucky. The winters here are more severe, while the scorching heat of summer goes hard with those unaccustomed to such heat, and it is hard to accustom ones self to the high winds here. On a recent Sunday at the hour of 1:30 o'clock p. m., Kansas City was wrapped in darkness, and many people used artificial lights, myself among the number while trying to write. We were treated to a regular down-pour of rain, afterward hail, with thunder and lightning. I cannot remember ever before seeing such darkness at that hour. Many people here depend entirely on gas, that is if they are fortunate enough to get their supply, and in case of failure they shiver with cold, live in hope, and pay their gas bill, which goes on just the same. Coal takes the place of wood. I prefer the latter. Nothing beats a nice, cheerful wood fire. The numerous packing houses here are in some trouble, as the decree has gone forth they must either show up their books or go out of business. Many people are out of employment here.

The schools all over both cities are making preparations for their annual donation to the Orphans Home and other charities in this city. All the children will take their offerings to the colleges and the substantial groceries will be loaded into wagons and conveyed to the different institutions for which they are intended. Kansas City poor will be cared for. Yesterday was "Tag Day" and something over ten thousand five hundred dollars was donated to the various charitable institutions.

Will the editors and all the readers of The Commercial think me hasty if I now wish one and all a Merry Xmas? I hope not, for all have my best wishes.

Your old time friend,

"SYLVAN."

Attention Farmers

Feed your hogs until they are fancy fat, but it is not likely that they will go much higher, if any. They are already high. Figure on a basis of from 6 to 7 cents, and just keep feeding. You are safe anywhere around these figures.

No body can foretell the market, but indication seems good for a high price for sometime to come. Increase your stock of hogs, and you will make money by it. When ready to sell, or want to advise about the market call us up.

W. G. REYNOLDS.

FARM FOR SALE—160-acre farm four miles from Hickman, at the corner of the Hickman, Dresden and Shuck roads, known as the Harper farm, one-half mile from Shuck Switch, a good market for all kinds of produce, also one-half mile of good school and church. Improvements on the place consist of large one-story brick house, 2 tenant houses, three good wells, good cistern and good barn. Farm in fine state of cultivation, one of the best in Fulton County. Not a branch or a creek on the place, and any part of it easily traversed with wagon and team. This fine farm will be sold for about half cash, with balance on ten years time, if desired, at 6 per cent interest. For further particulars apply to our address.

SPECIAL

The great demand of the public nowadays is for pure food in a sanitary manner. Take sliced meats—ham, bacon, dried beef, porkloins, sausage, etc. You can cook them slightly or not at all, and you want to be sure that they are the best cuts, not the odds and ends of meat thrown into a jar, and that they are handled as little as possible.

Realizing this, I have installed an AMERICAN SLICING MACHINE. This marvelous invention cuts slices the right thickness, without handling. I use only the best cuts and can still give you more slices for the same money than you can secure otherwise. Call and see it; you will be interested.

Death of Mrs. Belcher.

Mrs. Ann Belcher, aged 73 years, died at her home near Brevard's Crossing, this county, Monday morning, Nov. 29, 1909, at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Belcher was a native of Middle Tennessee, but a resident of Obion County since girlhood. She was a sister of Attorney Wm. McCall, of Humboldt, and of the late Henry McCall, of this city. She leaves a sister, Mrs. Holland, of Lebanon, and four children, Mrs. Bud Noah, Mrs. Flournoy Moss, Thomas and Joe.

Mrs. Belcher was a member of the Christian Church. She was more than that, a good woman, and in the esteem of her neighbors one of the noblest characters of any community or people. Not a case of sickness that she did not administer, not a pillow that her hand did not smooth and rest an aching, tired head or a restive, wasted form. The consciousness, the intuition of motherly care, she devined every craving appeal for relief and succor, and her heart went out to these souls in distress. Her words were comfort and her dispensations balm. In every good work, in charity and in all that lifts life and character above the ordinary human sphere Mrs. Belcher was indeed a notable inspiration. She was not only esteemed everywhere, but loved by those who knew her well.

The life of such a woman cannot but leave its incense of Godliness and sweetness upon the world, and upon those linked with the ties of filial attachment a memory of all that is dear.

The remains were taken to Salem for burial Tuesday morning, and there services were held, conducted by Rev. Newbill. Interment was at Salem Cemetery.

One-Dollar Bargain.

The Twice a-Week Republic, of St. Louis, Mo., is making a special Christmas offer of a three-year subscription to their paper for $1.00.
