Two Good Plays.

"Wanted, a Chaperone" and "Chums" were two good short plays presented by the students of the Union City High School at Reynolds Opera House last Thursday night. A very large crowd was present and enjoyed them considerably. The characters were all very well handled by the young ladies as well as the young men. The attractions were managed and staged by Supt. Nute, and he has evidently evinced good judgment in that line of work. The parts were all smooth, audible and well delivered. Miss Flack was especially good. The cast of the first play:

Lydia, an unassuming country girl..... Mary Hunter Flack
Mrs. Travers, a city aunt versed in conventionalities..... Marlene Allen
Mr. Travers, a business man..... Vivian Reynolds
Allen Murchison, no lover of so-called society..... Frank Elliot
Morland, servant and coachman for Mrs. Travers..... Olive Chandler
Richards, butler for A. M..... Rex Naylor
Monica, maid for A. M..... Helen Richards
Policeman..... Swan Burrus

CAST OF "CHUMS."

Mr. Breed, honest haysced..... Herbert Bondurant
Mrs. Breed, mother..... Lara Caldwell
Harry Breed, their college son..... Melvin Tisdale
Tom Burnham, Harry's chum..... Murray Woody
Hepzibah Strong, Harry's cousin..... Katie Mayes

The proceeds of the plays were about $164 gross, which are to apply to improvements at the school in the gymnasium or the library. Last year the proceeds were $160, just a little less than this.

Oyster season is on at Dahnke's.

Miss Fowlkes in Dramatic Recital.

Miss Martha Fowlkes, a reader of artistic ability, presented a well selected classical program yesterday evening at the University auditorium. The audience was most appreciative of Miss Fowlkes' work and responded with generous applause. The reader's versatility was manifested by her interpretations of the characters of "Louis XI," of "Rosalind," and of excerpts from Browning, Tennyson and other classics. In a lighter vein, Miss Fowlkes gave some clever monologues and read delightful negro dialect passages from Thomas Nelson Page's "In Old Virginia." The recital was given under the auspices of Alpha Phi Sigma. The proceeds of the entertainment will be applied to having a portrait of President R. H. Jesse painted to hang in the University.—The Columbia Daily Tribune.

Shore-Hayes.

A beautiful wedding was that of Mr. Howard Shore and Miss Allie Hayes, solemnized at the bride's home Wednesday evening at 6:30, Prof. Austin officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hayes and has a wide circle of warm friends. She wore a beautiful dress of white satin. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hutchison, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Shore, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bennett, Mr. Sam Shore and sister, Irene, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Adron Harrison, Mr. Jas. Andrews and two sisters, Nannie and Addie, Mr. Stanfield Smith and sister, Ida, Mr. Claud Morris and sister, Ella, Miss Bessie Hampton, Mr. Billie Bennett, Miss Lillie Hayes, Miss Eva Harrison, Mr. Rommie Roberts.

After the ceremony they marched to the dining room, where a good supper had been prepared.

A large number of beautiful wedding presents were received. A FRIEND.

Davis-Griffin.

Last Thursday evening at ten o'clock, at the residence of Esq. R. T. Milner in South Fulton, that gentleman said the ceremony that united the hearts and lives of Miss Robbie Roberta Griffin, formerly of Fulton but more recently of Mayfield, and Mr. Herbert L. Davis, also of Mayfield. The bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mrs. A. G. Griffin, and by her many social qualities and beauty of character has won a host of friends. The groom is a prominent young business man, being connected with the First National Bank of Mayfield in a responsible capacity.

The young couple have a number of warm friends in Union City who wish for them long life, happiness and prosperity.
