

The Volunteer,

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

City and County Affairs.

RED WING, APRIL 18th, 1884.

CITY PRINTER.—It will be observed by the proceedings of the City Council that we have been elected City Printer for the ensuing year. This is very appropriate, for the VOLUNTEER has a much larger circulation in this city than any other paper in the county.

WILD DUCKS AND PIGEONS have made their appearance in great numbers, and if it was not for the high price of powder and lead, they would be made to rue the day they came. We have a distinct recollection of slaying thirteen great Mallards one afternoon a few years ago, but we make no threats this year.

Thompson has just returned from New York, where he has been purchasing his spring stock of Dry Goods. He says he has purchased a splendid stock, that will be here as soon as the Lake opens. Thompson always aims to keep the best kind of goods, and his store is the place to go to buy.

He has a superior stock of dress and cloak goods, and while in New York he purchased from Madame Demorest, the Queen of Fashion, a number of the Spring fashion patterns, which can be seen and examined at his store.

Mr. LAUFERTY, the clothing merchant, has got back. He has been to the clothing Emporium of the East, and has selected a large stock with great care. He has to wait for navigation to open before his goods will get here.

In addition to a large stock of clothing, he has laid in a large and well selected stock of dry goods.

"CHEAP JOHN," is soon to start for the East to purchase his stock. He has been too much crowded since he has been here, and has been unable to develop his business talent; but now he begins to see his way clear. He has rented two of Lauferty's new stores, and when they are finished will move in with a tremendous great stock of new goods—clothing, dry goods, boots and shoes, hats and caps &c., &c. Stand back there! Don't get in Eisenbrand's way.

COUNTY POOR FARM.—The Chairman of the County Board has called a meeting for next Friday, to take into consideration the question of buying a farm for a county poor farm. We understand that the place spoken of is Mr. Williams' farm on Spring creek. This is in our judgment one of the very best in the country, and is offered remarkably cheap—three thousand dollars. There is about 200 acres of land, nearly 100 acres of which is broken up and fenced. The purchase of this, or some other equally good place will be the best that has yet been done for the county.

SELECT YOUR LOT.—It is particularly desirable that the citizens come up and select their lot in the cemetery as soon as possible. The city has made a good road and appropriated money enough to fence it in, which will be done this spring. The money derived from the sale of lots is intended to be used entirely in improving the ground, and it would be an excellent thing if two or three hundred trees could be set out there this spring. If those of the citizens of Red Wing who intend to take lots will do so soon, the city council will see that the money is properly expended.

BEAUTIFY THE LOT.—The County Commissioners have voted to fence the Court House lot this spring, and they have appointed a committee to see that the work is done promptly and well. This is good so far as it goes; but the lot will still look barren without some trees being set out. It is properly the duty of the county to fence the lot, as a protection to the county property; but when we come to speak about beautifying it, that is a matter that appeals more directly to the interest and the pride of the city.

The Commissioners would not have voted the fence had they not received assurance that the trees would be set out by the citizens. The city council will not appropriate anything for that purpose, for they already have a place for every dollar that now is in, or will come into the treasury this year.

Then the citizens must take hold of this matter. Let us get up a regular tree, and get what trees we need and set them out at once.

REMARKABLE ADVERTISEMENTS.—It used to be supposed that the greater the advertisement, the more successful it would be. But that idea has been long ago exploded. Now an advertisement that carries the impress of truth upon its face, not only attracts more attention, but more trade. As a specimen of a most truthful advertisement we call attention to Messrs. Sherwin, Nowell & Pratt's Spring Circular to cash buyers of Dry Goods. They are a young, enterprising firm, that have within the last two years built up an immense trade, solely on the basis of the superior and judicious thing of.

GARDEN SEEDS.—The best lot of Garden Seeds in the city can be found at the Good-fine County Drug Store.

SADDLES.—Watson manufactures out of the very best material, and in the very best style, both ladies and gentlemen's saddles of superior quality. The season for horseback riding is coming on, and we thought it would be well to mention that fact. If any person wants a saddle of superior finish, they need not go beyond Watson's shop for it.

DON'T USE SODA.—Nor any of the common kinds of Saleratus in making bread, if you value health and desire to have bread that is palatable. Always use DeLand's Chemical Saleratus, and you will have a pure article. It may be had at the grocers.

We are under obligation to our old friend Lt. W. W. DeKay, alias Deacon, for regular supply of Little Rock, Ark., papers.

LAWYER'S BLOCK.—Lawyer is putting his block right up. When it is finished it will be an ornament to the city, and afford to the business of the place an accommodation very much needed. All the stores and part of the offices are already rented.

In the Republican of last week, Mr. Littlefield acknowledges that the city ticket just elected is a good one—one with which there is no cause to find fault, but he says it could easily have been beaten. Did Mr. Littlefield want it beaten?

SCHOOL MEETING.—There is to be a school meeting of the legal voters of this district at the District School House in this city on Friday evening next, one object, and the principal object of which is to vote a tax to build a school house or to build school houses. At this meeting it will be definitely settled whether we shall have one good central school house that will accommodate all the scholars in the district, and which will be a credit to the district, or have three or four little affairs scattered around in the remote portions of the city.

The latter proposition is urged by some influential men, and will be well defended at that meeting; and it stands those in favor of a good central school house well in hand to be out to that meeting. The principal argument that we have heard used in favor of several school houses is, that it is too far for little children to go to a central school from the remote portions of the city in tempestuous weather. There are but few who will be at that meeting that have not acquired what little knowledge we have at public schools more remote from our homes than a school on our newly purchased lots is from any portion of the city. But there is one incontrovertible argument that overcomes that objection entirely. When it is too stormy or boisterous for a child to go from any part of this city to a central school, it is too stormy and boisterous for that child to leave home to go even the shortest distance at which by any possibility the school house could be located from his residence.

It is all nonsense to send very small children to school at all. It is more frequently done to get rid of them for the time, than with the hope or expectation that they will learn anything. Children ought not to be sent to school, nor permitted to go until they are large enough to go, in any kind of weather that it is suitable for a child to be out of doors, as far as from the most remote parts of the city to the central school.

But there is another consideration we will mention; we have purchased a large lot at a large cost, sufficient for the accommodation of all the scholars now in the district, or that will be within the district in the next twenty years. By judicious, progressive taxation we can build a suitable house thereon to accommodate those scholars. We cannot build three houses without purchasing two other lots, which does not strike us as good policy.

But we shall be content with whatever majority of the votes determine upon. All we want is a full representation, and we have no doubt the meeting will set for the best interest of the district.

MAGAZINE.—The LADIES' REPOSITORY comes to us with the regularity of clockwork. It is always welcome, and always anxiously waited for, because it is a well filled storehouse of useful, interesting and religious knowledge.

Peter's Magazine now in the forty-fifth year of its existence, has established a reputation that no competition can break down. It is a first class magazine, and of that class stands at the head. Engravings, Fashion plates, Stories, Poetry, Music are all remembered by the gifted editors, and a single number will say time more than repay the price of a whole year's subscription.

The Lady's Friend is a new magazine of a high character, published monthly at No. 319, Walnut street, Phila. by Deane & Peterson, devoted to Literature and Fashion. It is edited by Mrs. Henry Peterson, and although but in its fourth month of its existence, it has already taken a place in the affections of literary people that has been accorded to no other magazine in so short a time.

The People's Journal of Health published at Chicago, edited by Dr. Justin Hayes and C. R. Blackall, is a new publication that ought to be in every family, the first number of which we have received. The first number is of a character to justify the patronage of medical men and considerate mothers.

We welcome the Vermont School Journal published at West Brattleboro, edited by Hiram Orcutt. The "Please Notice" written on the title page looks familiar, and if we were sure that Prof. Brooks had gone in that direction we should say he had remembered us, and wished us to remember the cause of education in which his heart is all wrapped up. We prize the Journal as one of our most valuable exchanges.

IMPROVE THE CEMETERY GROUNDS.—The Common Council of Red Wing have resolved to devote the proceeds from the sale of lots in "Oak Wood Cemetery" exclusively to the improvement and adornment of the Cemetery. It is very desirable, that shade and ornamental trees be placed in the Cemetery this spring. Our citizens are urged to make immediate purchase of lots, to enable the Council to make the needed improvement of the Cemetery grounds.

No time is to be lost; and this most laudable object will, it is hoped, stimulate our citizens to respond promptly to this call. No worthier or better act can be done. The plat of the Cemetery can be seen by calling at my office, or upon the City Recorder, who will give all needed information. Let our citizens see to it, that these grounds are so improved that they become worthy of our city and a suitable repository for the sacred dead.
