

EXPECTED DEATH

Your Kidneys are Most Important to Your Life

Read This Woman's Testimony
Austin, Minn.—"Dr. Pierce's Anuric (kidney and backache) Tablets are the very best I have ever known. My kidneys were in a bad condition for over three years. I bloated so that several quarts of water was tapped from me at one time, and my people were expecting me to die when I had them give me the Anuric Tablets and the relief came almost at once. I took seven or eight bottles of Anuric and was restored to perfect health, which I still enjoy."—Mrs. Myrtle Sockness, 407 E. Allegheny St.

Thirty Feet of Danger

The intestines bend and twist and turn on themselves—more than thirty feet of them—and when food waste clogs them up, irritating and dangerous poisons are formed and carried by the blood through the system.

Remove this food waste regularly with Nujol—the modern method of treating an old complaint.

"How did this vase get broken, Mary?"
"It fell off the pedestal, ma'am."
"How did you upset the pedestal?"
"I never touched it. The chair bumped into it, ma'am."
"And did you push the chair?"
"I did not, ma'am. It was the table done that. All I did was to push the sofa up against the table. An' goodness knows I can't see what's a goin' to happen that far off!"

WHY DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND SWAMP-ROOT

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine.

It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do.

Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.

Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once.
However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

INJUNCTION FORBIDS ORGANIZATION IN WEST VIRGINIA COAL TERRITORY

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Federal Judge Anderson of Indianapolis Turns Anti-Trust Laws Against Organizations of the People—Strike of Coal Miners Possible—Road Aid Bill Ready for Harding's Approval—First Sales Tax Bill Loses in Senate—Senator Watson Charges American Soldiers Hung Without Trial—Administration Blamed by Soldiers for Bonus Bill Failure—Witnesses Confirm Charges of Haiti Atrocities.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Federal Judge A. B. Anderson of Indianapolis has issued another and more astounding injunction against the United Mine Workers of America.

In 1919 an injunction issued by him made the issue of strike orders by the union chiefs a criminal offense. President Lewis and other leaders have had a hard road since that time because they did not risk going to jail to defend the miners' liberties as they see things.

Now Anderson forbids efforts to unionize the miners of West Virginia on the ground that such organizing would create a monopoly in the soft coal industry and as such be illegal under the Sherman anti-trust act and he forbids further use of the check off system of dues collecting. Under this plan the accountant for the company gets a permit from the union members to keep his dues out of his pay each week and forwards them to the union headquarters. This plan saves the heavy expense of individual dues collecting.

Union headquarters have wired local leaders as follows:

"Any abrogation or setting aside of any part or section of this agreement (between employers and employees), including the section providing for the checking off of dues and assessments cannot be regarded as other than a violation of the agreement and should be treated accordingly by the district officers and local unions."

The servile Anderson's misinterpretation of the law and the general situation would indicate that the coal trust is anxious to goad miners into a strike as a good excuse for coal scarcity and higher prices.

The well known conservatism of the mine union leaders might be taken as reason for thinking a strike would not occur, but they have compromised so much to avoid strikes in the last 3 years that they may feel they cannot retain their power without a bold stand on the present issue.

That part of the injunction forbidding organization is of vital importance to all organizations of common people in the United States because, if it stands, no organization can be independent of big business dictation without being declared an illegal monopoly.

$75,000,000 ROAD AID.

The good roads bill appropriating $75,000,000 for federal aid to states has passed both houses and now awaits the expected approval of the president.

The recent unemployment recommended that public bodies everywhere do as much public work as possible to relieve the situation, and it is expected that most of the states will heed the advice. Minnesota will receive $2,130,000 of the amount.

It was most significant that the unemployment conference, hand picked to avoid so-called radical views stressed and urged a socialistic remedy—more public work to give employment.

Lending $500,000,000 to the railroads from the public treasury, another act of paternalism, or near socialism, was also advised, perhaps with more thought of railroad securities than of the poor unemployed.

WATSON SPRINGS SENSATION.

Senator Watson of Georgia has created a sensation by charging on the floor of the senate that American soldiers were hung in France without trial.

When immediate proof was demanded by Senator Wadsworth of the Military Affairs committee, Watson refused on the ground that the military affairs committee was biased and that it would be dangerous to his witnesses to testify.

"I mean every word I have said," declared Watson, "and I did not over paint the picture. I have a photograph of the gallows upon which white soldiers were hanged, and I can produce witnesses who saw it if it is safe for them to appear."

"A picture of white men hanged like dogs. I can produce men, if it were safe, who saw men shot without trial. I cannot compel men to come to this undertain danger."

Senator Watson also declared that there was a vast amount of inefficiency whereby food was piled up in some places to waste and in other places our men suffered from starvation and were even left to die on the road.

Senator Lenroot rushed to the aid of Wadsworth in styling the charges as monstrous and utterly aside from the truth. But another committee has been appointed to investigate.

While the facts which Senator Watson declares he has are yet to be produced, it is noteworthy that the military clique showed the same righteous indignation when a few bold spirits brought out the charges of inhuman treatment. General Ansell was reduced in rank for his courage on behalf of the private soldiers; yet the "hard boiled" Smith exposures confirmed these charges and startled the country.

Speaking on the demand from the Military Affairs committee for a complete investigation of Watson's charges, Senator Reed of Missouri said:

"I do not think that the Military Affairs committee wants to subpoena me and have me make public certain telegrams and other documents I have in my possession, which I shall produce if this investigation goes forward."

"If the senate wants to investigate I will insist on a full disclosure of the facts."

SALES TAX DEFEATED.

The senate has gone on record against the sales tax in a vote of 43 to 25 on a measure proposed by Senator Smoot levying 1 per cent on sales. But it is too early to be confident that a measure backed so thoroughly by big business is beaten. Perhaps this was only a maneuver to allow republican senators in territory organized by the Nonpartisan league to get on record. Even Senator Nelson of Minnesota, Sterling of South Dakota and Lenroot of Wisconsin voted with the democrats.

Now that the "record" for the public has been made a slightly different bill called a merchants' tax or some other new name may be put across.

Smoot immediately proposed another measure providing a 1 per cent tax on gross sales in excess of $6,000 a year on which at this writing the senate has not yet taken action.

SOLDIERS BLAME HARDING.

The administration stand on the soldier's bonus measure received strong condemnation from the American Legion convention at Kansas City. In regarding the report on the matter national vice commander James F. Scrugham said:

"The greatest opposition we have had, has been letters from Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and President Harding. One of the greatest factors in the defeat of this law was a man who was the world's greatest war profiteer."

Scrugham did not mention any name but cries of "Mellon, Mellon," resounded throughout the hall.

The administration held that a soldier's bonus would bankrupt the country shortly after the U. S. Chamber of Commerce had gone on record against it at a convention in Atlantic. This sharp criticism of the present administration is indicative of the struggle which has been going on within the ranks of the Legion between reaction and the interests of the rank and file. Three years ago Legion officers could hardly be kicked into saying something for the bonus.

The World War Veterans, a rival organization which has been pushing the bonus demand and other demands for fair treatment of returned soldiers in ways more embarrassing to politicians, have organized a hike to Washington to trouble the politicians a little more. The ex-soldiers will come here from different parts of the country by getting automobile lifts, riding the brakes and freight cars, and other means open to those without financial backing and they plan to camp here until the politicians get busy.

HAITIAN CHARGES CONFIRMED.

When charges of gross injustices and wilful taking of human life in the negro republic of Haiti were first made against our military occupation chiefs, they were indignantly denied by those responsible including Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin Roosevelt who ran for vice-president last year.

Now Major T. C. Turner of our marine corps has admitted all the essential parts of the charges of atrocities under oath before the senate investigating committee.

Major Turner estimates that about 100 natives were killed for trying to escape from road gangs where thousands of natives had been confined for compulsory labor or in other words, slavery.

A report made by Lieutenant Colonel Hooker to General Catlin in January, 1919 was brought out which stated that Lieutenant B. D. Williams admitted killing several natives trying to escape this slavery and Lieutenant La Voie admitted that 6 persons were shot.

When asked about rumors of bands of 15 to 20 natives being executed at a time without trial, Major Turner declared that he had been unable to locate eye-witnesses but he expressed an opinion that "something like that did occur."

"Do you mean that natives were unlawfully killed?" he was asked.

"Yes," he replied.

"Under the direction and connivance of La Voie?"

"Yes."

"And you believe that his denial was untrue?"

"Yes."

What will be the reaction of America which has looked with horror on the Belgian King Leopold's atrocities in the Congo or Japanese misdoings in Korea, or German misdoings in Belgium, be to this home grown spaw of imperialism?

MOTHER! CLEAN

CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, give a "teaspoonful" to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

Sleeping Sickness Thief.

The case of a boy who became a thief after an attack of encephalitis lethargica (sleeping sickness) is described in the Lancet, (London England.) When eleven years old he remained in a state of stupor and lethargy for five weeks. He had been a normal, intelligent, and docile child. After his illness he showed uncontrollable criminal tendencies, has been convicted for theft on several occasions, and is regarded by the police as an incorrigible thief. His intelligence does not seem to be impaired.

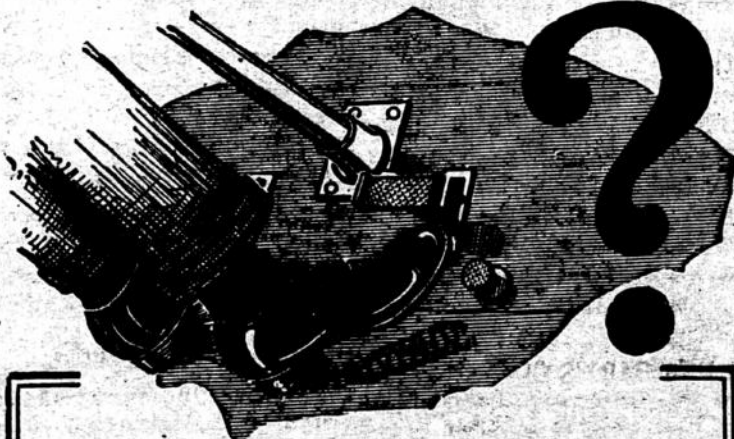

Other People's Property.

"The charge is burglary," remarked the judge.
"Your honor," said the hard-faced prisoner, "I'm a 'human fly' an' when de cops nabbed me I wuz just practicin' me profession."
"Um. What's a 'human fly'?"
"Dat's a fellow what climbs up de sides of buildin's without any ropes or ladders, just usin' his hands an' feet."
"I see, but even if you are a 'human fly,' you are not expected to carry off anything valuable you happen to find after you get above the ground floor."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

He Was Doing His Best.

Mother was teaching 5-year-old Bobby geography. She had come to the Sahara desert. "Now, say it—Sahara," she prompted him.
"Hara," replied Bobby.
"No, not Hara—Sahara. Don't you see?" said mother patiently. "Now say it."
Again Bobby replied, "Hara."
That kept up for some time, until finally Bobby, worn out, exclaimed indignantly: "Well, mother, didn't I say Hara?"—Youth's Companion.
